Explained at Last.

Jaggles—Since the beginning of the world there has always been a woman at the bottom of everything.

Waggles—That must be why the woman of to-day is striving so hard to be at the top.—Town Topics.

Forgot Himself.

Mrs. Lyon-Hunter—This is our new piano, count. The tone, I believe, is perfect. Will you not play for us?

Count Poanutti (absent-mindedly)—Weer pialsure, signora. Where eesa de handle?—Philadelphia Press.

His Face as Evidence.

"Man alive! What's happened to your face?"

"Oh, a fellow threw a bucket of paint at me, and I'm going to have him arrested. I'm keeping my face as evidence."—Smith's Weekly.

Woman's Way.

She put her new dust coat away;
She said: "It's pretty gusty,
I shall not promenade to-day—
My dust coat might get dusty."
—Chicago Tribune.

CAUSE FOR CONGRATULATION.

Old Gentleman—I'm certafnly not so deaf as people make out. I hear a little pee humming quite plainly!—Punch.

Some Consolation.

"Do you think my age is beginning to tell on me?" queried Miss Elderleigh.

"Yes, dear," replied Miss Peachly, "but then you have no cause for worry. It doesn't begin to tell the whole truth."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

No Impediment.

She—I will never marry a man whose fortune has not at least four ciphers in it.

He—Oh, darling! Then we may be married at once; mine is all ciphers.—Cassell's.

The Latest Excuse.

The City Editor—Well, it took you long enough to get that story. Why didn't you bring it in sooner?

The New Reporter—Er—you see, the fellow I interviewed stuttered so.—Judge.

Our Educated.

"De only thing dat some people gits out o' education," said Uncle Eben, "is de ability to talk so's other people can't understand 'em."—Washington Star.

Her Only Trouble.

Mr. Stubbs—Goodness, Martha, the baby has been crying for two weeks. What is the matter with him?

Mrs. Stubbs—Why, Nature is giving him his teeth, John.

Mr. Stubbs—Well, Nature may be all right in some ways, but she is certainly a slow dentist.—Chicago News.

A Wise Turkey.

"Really, Gobby, you shouldn't run about so much. You're as thin as a rail and your drumsticks will get as hard as nails."

"You bet they will. That's what I'm after. It's the fat and tender things that gets it in the neck around Thanksgiving."—Puck.

Boxed.

They were returning from the husking bee.

"And were there any red ears?" asked the friend.

"Oh, yes," responded the girl in the gingham dress. "I had two when pa caught that city fellow kissing me."—Chicago News.

Using Her Experience.

Employer—And now that we are engaged to be married, I suppose I shall have to engage a new typewriter?

Typewriter—Not at all, dear. I shall attend to the engaging of your typewriters after this!—Chicago Journal.

Notice.

The time has come when we can no longer run along in the same old rut. We have to wake up and move on or the more progressive man will leave us so far behind that we will soon be lost. TALES THAT ARE TOLD.

A grasp of the main facts, rather than facility of expression, characterizes the following historical contribution from a schoolboy: "Henry the Eighth was brave, corpulent and cruel; he was frequently married to a widow; had an ulcer on his leg; and great decision of character."

This story is told of a nice old resident of Brookline, who recently addressed a class of young women at an educational institution, and who advised them to go in for the active life. "Go out and do something, be something," he exclaimed; "become fishers of men," and he wondered why the audience tittered.

Prof. Tait, of Edinburgh university, asked one of his students to define transparent, translucent and opaque. The young man dealt with the query in this way: "I cannot precisely define these terms, but I can indicate their meaning in this way—the windows of this classroom were once transparent, they are now translucent and if not cleaned very soon they will be opaque." The answer gained full marks from the amused professor.

James H. O'Brien, the wealthy California miner, was standing on the steps of a San Francisco hotel, when a seedy citizen came and hailed him: "Hullo, Jim. How are ye?" Mr. O'Brien at first did not know the man, and, thinking the stranger was a professional beggar, he said: "Who the dickens are you?" "You don't know me, eh?" said the dilapidated party. "Say, Jim, I was quarts o' wine when you were pints o' beer." The rich man by this time had recognized a friend of former days, and a satisfactory interview followed.

The late Thomas L. Clark, bishop of Rhode Island, widely known as a wit and scholar, in his own home life in Providence preferred the utmost simplicity compatible with comfort. Having on one occasion a distinguished English divine as a visitor, the latter was considerably impressed, not to say astonished, at the lack of ceremony observed in the episcopal mansion, and upon retiring hesitatingly inquired if he should leave his shoes outside his door. "Certainly, if you like," replied the bishop, with cordiality; "nobody'll touch 'em."

WOMEN IN MEDICAL FIELD.

Out of 15 applications for the post of assistant medical officer of the Bracebridge (Lincolnshire, Eng.) lunatic asylum, Miss Jessie B. Hunter was selected. Miss Hunter has occupied the position at a private asylum in Lincolnshire since 1902, and has held the position of assistant house surgeon at Glasgow infirmary. She is a M. B. and C. B. of Glasgow university.

Dr. Mary Stone, of Australia, sent a paper to the national women's congress urging the establishment of "epileptic colonies," in view of the fact that the ranks of criminals are continually and materially reenforced by children, weak-willed, moral and physical degenerates who are easily led into vice, and she asks for the segregation of these unfortunates that their kind may not be multiplied.

Taking credit that belongs to others deceives no one so much as yourself.

Dr. L. Rosa Minoka is a young Indian doctor, who, having won honors as a graduate of the Women's Medical college of Pennsylvania and served with credit as resident physician of the Women's hospital, of Philadelphia, has now opened an office in the city. She is said to be not only a fine doctor but a handsome and interesting young woman.

It is said that there are now in France 80 women doctors, 30 of whom are in regular practice. The way, until within the last 25 years, has been made very difficult for women who desired to practice medicine. There is little chivalric feeling in the country, and open derision and insulting refusal to all applications for opportunities to study have been the rule. Today there is a great revulsion of feeling—or manner—and at present the woman doctor is encouraged and smiled upon—a pleasant change.

IN THE FIELD OF LETTERS.

The old brick house in Cincinnati in which Thomas Buchanan Read wrote "Sheridan's Ride" is to be torn down to make room for a factory.

Several lady novelists are excellent speakers. Mme. Sarah Grand takes a high place in the list. Miss Marie Corelli is quite a gifted speaker. "Rita" could give points to many men who think they can make a good after-dinner speech, and "Ouida" can address an audience in three or four languages.

Perhaps no writer of magazine fiction can equal the speed record made by Edwin Lefevre. He produced 18,000 words between Saturday and Monday, all written in longhand, for Mr. Lefevre doesn't use a typewriter. The mere physical labor of penciling out this enormous quantity of copy would be no mean undertaking in itself to many of the craft, but Mr. Lefevre is a newspaper man, the financial editor of a New York daily, and as such he does not consider a mere matter of 6,000 words a day a feat worth boasting of.

In England, it is said, competition in the trade is enhancing the prices paid to authors of the first class. To secure a book by a popular author nowadays it is often necessary to make arrangements with him not months but years before it is written. There is one well-known writer who, it is asserted, has filled up his programme of books with the publishers who are to produce them up to 1914. And it is one of the risks which publishers have to face that the author's powers may have diminished or his popularity waned before the contract is fulfilled.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, For Klamath County.

Wm. W. Hazen, Plaintiff, vs. Charles Percy Nichols, Defendant. Suit in equity to quiet title. Summons.

To, Charles Percy Nichols, the above named defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 19th day of August, 1905 that being the date of the last publication prescribed in the order for service of summons by publication; and if you fail to answer for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief as prayed for in plaintiff's complaint, that is to say:

That plaintiff be decreed to be the owner in fee of Lot 3 in Block 13 according to the duly reported plat of the town of Klamath Falls, Klamath County, Oregon; that whatever claim defendant may have to said lot be decreed to be inferior and subordinated to plaintiff's title and that defendant be forever barred from asserting any claim in and to said Lot 3 Block 13 of said town of Klamath Falls, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is published in the Klamath Republican by an order of Hon. Henry L. Benson, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Klamath County made June 26 1905 directing said summons to be published for six consecutive and successive weeks, the date of the first publication to be made on the 29th day of June, 1905, and the last publication on the 10th day of August, 1905.

F. H. Mills & A. L. Leavit, Attorneys for plaintiff.
