Something More About Piano Tuning

Many residents of this city know that I am absolutely a first class tuner and repairer, and honest. I have tuned here several years, and quit coming because it did not pay. Am here this time to do some work for H. M. Coes, and incidentally as many others as care to have me. I have not time nor inclination to solicit any more than by giving this notice. If enough work is secured to warrant it I shall resume my annual trips here to take care of pianos and other work in this line. Prices for same will be the same as at home and along line of railroad. Address me by postal or leave orders at the City Drug Store.

M. O. Warner.

Figure with us for fall and winter shoes, clothing etc. etc. It will pay you. K. K. K. Store.

Muggins—Go on!

Juggins—Fact. And he borrowed half a crown from me to put in the plate.—Ailly Soper.

Making More Room.

"So that's the subway, is it?" asked the Philadelphian.

"That's it," replied the New Yorker.

"But why do they want to put the cars underground?"

"Oh, so there'll be more room on the streets for the automobiles!"—Yonkers Statesman.

How the Dye Worked.

Clerk—That gentleman you sold a bottle of hair dye to three weeks ago was here again to-day.

Chemist—Was he after another bottle?

Clerk—No, sir; he wanted to know if we kept wigs.—Smith's Weekly.

In the Suburbs.

Mrs. Yeast—Nathan, the roof is leaking, and there is a stream of water coming in on my new carpet!

Mr. Yeast—Well, Martha, you know you've wanted running water in the house for some time!—Yonkers Statesman.
