BONANZA

What is probably the finest bunch of steers ever owned by one man in Klamath county, will be driven to market about the 24th of this month. Chas. Horton, the owner of this fine band of cattle, was in Bonanza Sunday. He says that there are nearly a dozen steers in the lot that will tip the beam at 1750 to 1800. The entire band of 300 will average 1500 pounds, and they are all in the very best of condition.

John W. Logue was in town Saturday and Sunday. We are told he has been elected Vice Grand of the local I. O. O. F. Lodge here.

George Obenchain and William Horn, of Langell Valley, were in Saturday on land business.

Wm. Wood brought a load of fine oats to town Saturday for the Driscoll Mercantile Company.

J. C. Jarvis, known in Bonanza as "Bill Nye," came in from the Swartz ranch last week for supplies and reports plenty of deer going south.

J. O. Hamaker was sent to Klamath Falls Sunday to appear for Mrs. Lillian Bennett, wife of Gus E. Bennett who froze to death in January of last year near his claim. This homestead is being contested by A. G. Wagner. The I. O. O. F. Lodge has sent Mr. Hamaker to look after the widow's interest, her late husband having been a member of that Order in Cammal, Pa. C. U. AORX, Bonanza, December 19.

Tule Lake

EDITOR REPUBLICAN—Great changes are taking place in Tule Lake valley, many new houses and other buildings are being put up on the various homesteads.

On account of the greater part of the valley being withdrawn from entry, there are several who are trying to secure claims by squatting on and improving them.

We are all living in hopes of the coming of the ditch and several railroads, but, though we fix the opera glasses of hope upon the distant future, our eyes are as yet ungladdened by the flashing of the water, except that which is flashed before us by the U. S. R. S., and the coyote yet stalks in silent majesty o'er his native hills unscared by the scream of the locomotive.

There is one thing which the lack of the locomotive will not stop the progress of, and that is matrimony. It is rumored that a certain bachelor who lives on the hill is going to take into himself a sweet young wife from the Bonanza precinct.

Walter Ritter has removed again to his homestead; he says this is his last move. Bert Orsande has also established himself in his new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wood have just returned from Klamath Falls, where Mr. Wood has been purchasing implements with which to work his claim.

Mrs. Kattenhorn came down from her home in Merrill to make a short stay on her claim in Sand Hollow.

L. F. Kirkpatrick intends to move to his homestead soon.

F. H. Brandenburg has returned from a short visit in the Falls and says there is no place like the Tule Lake basin.

School closed after a five months term on Friday last. The teacher, Mrs. Za-mal, is still holding down her claim in the center of the valley.

The weather is fine, as yet we have had scarcely any snow and not quite ice enough to hold up a goose, so the skating is yet looked for by the small boys.

Grant Day is feeding his hay to a large bunch of cattle. HOMESTEADER Tule Lake, Dec. 17.

For Sale—2 O. G. doors, redwood, 2-6 x 6-6 x 1 1/2; 1 glass door, Colonial redwood, 1 light 2-8x6-8x1 1/2, 4 windows 12 x 32x1 1/2, 4 lights; 1 window 40x32x1 1/2, 2 lights, 21 oz. City Drug Store.

Low—On Monday, December 18, between S. B. Low's ranch and Klamath Falls, a small lady's purse containing $30 in greenbacks. Finder will please leave same at Republican office and receive reward. S. B. Low.

Low—About November 10, one dun colored horse, weight about 1000 pounds branded F-8 on left hip, and one white work horse weight 1400, blotched brand on left shoulder, and scars on both shoulders. Finder will be suitably rewarded by notifying the undersigned. Frank Ward.
