Thankful To His Friends.
Walter L. Toose, who was defeated for the Republican nomination for Congress, wishes to thank all his loyal friends for the generous support given him.
He certainly made a whirlwind campaign and made the losses tremble with fear. If there had been a larger turnout of the farmers he might have landed the prize. But he dies game.
He was the first man to telegraph his congratulations to the successful candidate and pledge him his hearty support. He showed the sterling character of his Republicanism in the following telegram:
"Woodburn, Ore. April 21, 1906.
Hon. Willie C. Hawley,
Salem, Oregon.
I congratulate you and will give you my loyal support. Walter L. Toose."
Although not the choice of the Republicans of this district as a candidate, he is not walking in his wigwag, but will be found fighting for the ticket.
For the large and generous support he got at the primary, Mr. Toose has great reason to be proud, and his friends are certainly proud of him. He made a clean and strenuous campaign and takes his defeat like a man and a gentleman and a true Republican.—Salem Journal.
