

TO MAKE DENATURED ALCOHOL

An Oregonian news report from Corvallis says: Members of the farmers' institute staff, who returned to the college yesterday from attendance at four institutes held in Coos county, believe the movement is likely to succeed for establishment of a denatured alcohol factory in that county. They cooperated in all the institutes with the representatives of German capital, who are behind the plan for building the factory.

The problem in the matter is merely to secure a pledge that 6000 acres of land will be devoted to potato production. The output for which will be used in the manufacture of alcohol. At the institutes there was a large attendance of farmers. The plan was presented and many of the farmers pledged land. The price paid for the potatoes is $8 per ton for the small potatoes as well as the larger sizes being taken. It is the belief of Dr. Withycombe and others that the Coos Bay bottom lands will yield 20 tons per acre.

That there is capital for the enterprise in unquestioned, and that it will be established at Coos Bay, if sufficient land is pledged is believed to be a certainty. A similar factory is now in process of erection at Greeley, Colo. The government issued license authority for the erection of six factories this year, and it is the story that the Standard Oil people managed to secure two of these permits.

The manufacture of alcohol for illuminating purposes will be a feature of such factories, the light produced being far clearer and brighter and much cheaper than kerosene, and entirely odorless.

LAKE RIPPLES

Tom and Hubert Britton are now visiting relatives in Rogue River valley. "Blackie" Hitchcock and family, formerly of Long Lake, have moved to Keno.

Miss Pearl Spencer, who has been visiting her sister, has returned to her home in Ashland.

Charlie Falconer, accompanied by his two sisters and Nellie Mason, was busy rolling on Round Lake last Sunday.

Ingo Jones was down from the Bay last Sunday and says that Mrs. Norris is rapidly improving. He also says that logging will be over in a few weeks.

There has been much sickness of late in this vicinity and most all are improving. Charlie Love's baby was much better so John Love and wife started to talent the first of the week.

EXCHANGES

(Merrill Record.)
Gay Merrill is the happiest man in the country. It was a splendid day, born Thursday morning.

S. N. Hazen, who recently sold his ranch near town, expects to leave for Southern California to make his future home. Mr. Hazen is a pioneer of this valley and all will regret his departure for other climes.

Mrs. T. A. Balls is expected home the first of the week from a visit to friends in Lakeview. While there Mrs. Balls caught the moping fever and took up a claim in the famous recent rich strike locality in Lake county.

Tom Offield has returned from his trip to Gazelle with a bunch of cattle for Edson. Tom says the report of a colony of Bankards settling in the Butte creek valley is true. They have purchased 15,000 acres of the Miller tract and are negotiating for more.

At last Merrill is to have a water system for fire protection. This matter is now settled and the town trustees have advertised for bids on installing the entire system. The water bonds voted nearly a year ago calling for an issue of $5000 are now to be made use of.

Edward L. Coleman, who is assisting in the preparation of the big special "First Anniversary and Irrigation Number," of the Record, has decided to enter the real estate business of Merrill and will, as soon as he has completed his canvases for the big edition, open an office here.

P. R. Merrill, cashier of the Merrill bank, accompanied by his wife, will leave Sunday for Willows, Cal. Mr. Merrill will only be gone a few days while Mrs. Merrill will visit relatives for a while. Alex Martin will come down from the Falls and have charge of the bank during Cashier Merrill's absence.

Merrill, the center of the Klamath Irrigation Project, covering 300,000 acres, 15,000 now under irrigation and 60,000 acres of tilled land to be reclaimed. Change cars at Weed for Grass Lake, thence by daily stage to Merrill, via Laird's Landing.

Thus read the five big board signs which are now painted and are to be placed along the line of travel into Klamath county.

[Lakeview Examiner]

Judge L. R. Webster of Portland, J. C. Rutledge of Klamath Falls and J. M. Bateholder of Lakeview, are defending Moss. Eight jurors were secured the first day. The original venire of jurors having been exhausted, a new venire subpoenaed and three were called from that by noon Tuesday. At 2 o'clock the sheriff was rustling for a new set from which to get the twelfth man, which was accomplished that evening and court adjourned till Wednesday when the examination of witnesses was begun. At the time of going to press the trial was in progress. Following is a list of jurors:

Fred Weidy of Paisley, Phil Lynch, S. O. Crossler, Chas. Eccleston, E. M. Brown, J. C. Oliver, Jas. Barry, Chas. Arthur, W. R. Bernard, of Lakeview, Geo. V. Wilson, Lewis Frakes, of Odell, and Arthur Highfill of Plush.

Circuit Court convened Monday morning, the case of the State vs. W. Z. Moss, charged by the grand jury last spring with larceny of horses, was the first case on the docket. L. F. Conn and I. D. Venator for the prosecution, instead of district attorney W. J. Moore who is disqualified by the statutes an account of relationship.

[Bonanza Bulletin]

Bonanza wants a grist mill.
Miss Myrtle Hamaker left Sunday for Sacramento, where she goes to attend the High school at that place.

Mrs. M. M. Clifton, of Klamath Falls came up last Monday in response to a phone message from Hugh to be with little Corral Clifton who had pneumonia fever. Corral is about 9200.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grohs returned from Sacramento, Sunday, where they went to visit relatives and friends about a month ago. They brought back with them the furniture for their new cottage, which is nearing completion. They expect to move to Bonanza in about two weeks.

RECIPES

Bread Omelet.—Crumble sufficient stale bread to equal one cupful of crumbs and soak them in one-half cupful of milk, then beat them until smooth and add half a teaspoonful salt and five beaten eggs. Butter well a shallow pudding dish, pour in the mixture, and bake about ten minutes. Serve at once in the dish in which it is baked, as it falls quickly.

Lemon Tart.—Put on to boil the very thin rinds of four lemons. When tender beat them to a paste with a cupful of white sugar; add half a cupful of bleached and finely chopped almonds, the juice of the four lemons, and a little grated peck summer together in a porcelain dish for half an hour, and when cold stir in well the beaten yolks of three eggs. Have ready a tart pan lined with a rich puff paste and put the mixture into this. Bake in a hot oven. When done spread with meringue made of the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and six tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, and brown lightly in the oven.

Welsh Steak.—Broil a tender sirloin steak over a quick fire; take it up on a platter and butter it well. Slice onions and cut them up finely on the meat so that the juice may be absorbed by it, thus flavoring it. Remove the onion, which may be used in a stew or soup, and serve the steak garnished with parsley.

Mending China, Glass, Etc.—Many articles of more or less value may be put away in this corner and that about the house, which, with a little of the right sort of cement and a deft touch of the housewife's fingers, may be made quite usable, if not almost as good as new, both in appearance and for service. For mending china, the white of an egg and pulverized, unslacked lime is a strong cement. Dip a small brush into the egg white, slightly beaten, and brush the edges to be joined. Then quickly dust one edge with a little of the lime and place the edges together accurately; hold in place firmly for a couple of minutes, then set aside to dry. The work must be done with great speed. A transparent glaze for mending glass is made of singlass and spirits of wine. Put a few small pieces of singlass in the wine and when dissolved add a little water; place over a moderate fire to warm and become well mixed. Brush the broken edges of the glass with the mixture, put together carefully and hold or tie into position until dry. To mend a wooden article with cement make it by melting one ounce of resin and one ounce of pure yellow wax in an iron pan, then stir in thoroughly one ounce of venetian red. Use while hot.

KLAMATH FALLS GROWING FAST

Look Ahead 20,000 Population in 1911.
Klamath Falls' remarkable recent growth is but the awakening to her wonderful resources, the recognition of splendid possibilities by outside, as well as her own people, and the result of natural development of the grandest and richest farming section in the State of Oregon, which is just beginning to be brought into productivity, and of which Klamath Falls is the principal receiving and distributing point. Klamath Falls is not built upon the forced foundation of speculation, it is not merely a tourist resort, it is the city with the greatest future of any city in Southern Oregon. Nothing on earth, within the range of reasonable possibilities can retard the rapid growth of Klamath Falls in a manner, which, to all those who have studied her future, will seem like a dream; Awake, look ahead and reap the harvest, and bear it ever in your minds that the Hot Springs Addition is the coming business center of Klamath Falls and we will tell you why. It will have the S. P. R. R. Depot, with through trains from Portland to San Francisco, car shops, round house, eating station, Hotel and Sanitarium to cost $250,000.00; fine wide streets and boulevards, cement sidewalks paved streets, street car system, sewer and drainage system, and the purest of pure water, and it will also have a beautiful park. Be sure and examine the property and get prices before investing elsewhere.

HOT SPRINGS WATER

Why not have your home in the Hot Springs tract, where you can have use of the splendid mineral water? Study the following analysis made by the University of Oregon:

Grains per U. S. Gallon.
Sodium chloride	5.98
Calcium sulphate	6.52
Magnesium sulphate	.32
Sodium sulphate	28.98
Iron and aluminum oxides	.13
Sodium silicate	4.15
Silica	8.22
	49.00

Read what Dr. G. F. Hanson of San Francisco says of this water:

"A careful examination of the water convinces me that it is unsurpassed in the nature of its mineral content, and should prove of the greatest possible utility in the treatment of congested conditions and for the general flushing of the tissues. Dyspepsia, sluggish liver, habitual constipation, so-called biliousness and bilious headaches, inflexible rheumatic pains due to the accumulation of uric acid or retention of other waste products in the system, faulty elimination by the kidneys, and a long train of ailments dependent upon above-mentioned bodily ills, are benefited by the free drinking of and bathing in such waters."
