

ANNOUNCEMENT

L. Jacobs & Co., proprietors of the Busy Boston Store, wish to announce to the wearers of men's fine clothes, that they are the sole representatives of Kuh, Nathan & Fisher Company, the Sincerity Tailors, and that they have just received a large shipment of this clothing so justly renowned for its fit, finish and quality. They will be always pleased to have any one call and examine this line; and, also, the famous Acorn Brand, that has given so much satisfaction in this county.

PERIL IN PAINLESS FACES.

Victims of Dread Malady May Be Hurt Without Knowing It.

"The red-hot wire," said the electrician, "burned the man's cheek till it sizzled and smoked. Yet he never moved out of the way. He continued to laugh and joke and pull on his clay pipe, and a smell of burning rose into the air."

"I pulled him to one side. 'Would you stand there,' I said, 'and be burned to death?'"

"Was I burning?" he said, with a scared look. And he put his hand to the side of his face—the wrong side. Was it possible that he couldn't feel that horrible hurt?

"Gentlemen, that man had no feeling in his face whatever. He told me that he had been operated on for the doloureux, and the operation, while it had cured the tic, had left his face dead to all sensation."

"I had often read of the doloureux in English novels, but I thought it was a trifling disease. This chap said it was a facial neuralgia so painful that in the past 90 per cent of its victims either went crazy or killed themselves. But now there is an operation that gives relief."

"Every victim of the undergones the operation; hence there are a lot of people walking the earth with no feeling in their faces. The condition is a dangerous one, because you are likely to get hurt without knowing it."—New York Press.

The Speed of Light.

Just think of it! Eleven times around this globe of ours in the space of sixty seconds! Can you imagine anything that moves with such remarkable speed? Sound travels only twelve and a half miles per minute and a rifle ball (if its speed were not diminished by resistance) sixteen and a half miles. Light passes through a distance equal to seven and a half revolutions of the earth in one minute, but electricity travels so astonishingly fast that it is able to complete the circuit of the earth eleven and a half times in sixty seconds.

Oratory in the Commons.

One of the London weeklies laments the decay of oratory in the house of commons. An observer has classified the styles of parliamentary speaking thus: "Haw haw" style, the "hum and haw" style and the "he haw" style. The first, he says, is used by the haughty gentlemen who loiter in triumph on the treasury bench, the second distinguishes the utterances of the keen and watchful gentlemen on the front opposition bench, while the third sort fairly describes the effort of the private member.

A Loud Call.

William H. Crane, the actor, was once asked how it was that he never attempted serious Shakespearean roles.

"But I did once," replied the comedian. "Years ago in the west I played 'Hamlet.'"

"Did you, indeed?" said an admirer and friend. "Didn't you have a great success? Didn't the audience call you before the curtain?"

"Call me?" roared Crane. "Why, man, they dared me!"—Argonaut.

That Was Different.

Landlady—I will let this excellent room at reduced rates because there is a woman next door who plays the piano continually. Applicant—Oh, that won't make any difference! The room is for my nephew here, and he is deaf. Landlady—Ah, in that case I must charge the full price!

Dangerous.

"Would you like to see my aquaria?" asked the naturalist.

"Well, if he's securely chained I might, but I'm so afraid of wild beasts," replied the visitor.

Neutrals are soused from above and singed from below.—German Proverb.

Hadrian's Wall.

Hadrian in A. D. 120 built a stone wall from Bowness, near Carlisle, on Solway frith, to the river Tyne, near Newcastle. It was eighty miles long and garrisoned by 10,000 troops. It was twelve to twenty feet high at various points, eight feet thick at the top and provided with a gallery in the rear which enabled its defenders to take their stand with only head and shoulders visible to the enemy. At every quarter of a mile there was a castle with a garrison of troops. Beacon lights and signals were used, and on an attack, whether by day or by night, the news was at once flashed up and down the wall from sea to sea.—London Sphere.

Why He Came.

A man rushed into the barber shop and jumped into the first waiting chair, explaining, "Shave in a hurry." The barber was about to apply the lather when he noticed the customer's face. It had been shaved in spots and looked like a worn-out hair rug. "I beg your pardon," said the barber, "but who ever shaved you did not understand his business or must have been near-sighted." "That's all right," replied the customer rather sharply. "Every man to his trade—you are a barber—well, I am not—that's why I came here."

Too Busy to Whistle.

It is said the art of whistling will soon be counted among the lost unless there is a revival of the cheery spirit that seems to be forsaking men. Nobody whistles as he works in these strenuous days. He has too much on his mind to pucker his lips in a whistle. Nor does he hum or sing to himself for that matter. Life is, if not downright sad, too busy for that joyous and unconscious expression of contentment.—Boston Herald.

Happy Days.

Fred—Mamma, our principal says his schooldays were the happiest days of his life. Do you believe that? Mamma—Certainly. He wouldn't say so if it were not true. Fred—Well, I suppose he played hooky and didn't get caught.
