

A FAMOUS OLD HYMN.

Pathetic Origin of "Best Be the That Birds."
A pathetic and yet charming story is told of the origin of the well known hymn, "Best Be the That Birds," which was written by Rev. John Fawcett, an English Baptist, who died in 1817, having spent nearly sixty years in the ministry.

It was in 1772, after a few years spent in pastoral work, that he was called to London to succeed the Rev. Dr. Gill. His farewell sermon had been preached near Moinage, in Yorkshire. Six or seven wagons stood loaded with his furniture and books, and all was ready for departure.

But his loving people were heart-broken. Men, women and children gathered and clung about him and his family with sad and tearful faces. Finally, overwhelmed with the sorrow of those they were leaving, Dr. Fawcett and his wife sat down on one of the packing cases and gave way to grief.

"Oh, John," cried Mrs. Fawcett at last, "I cannot bear this! I know not how to go."

"Nor I either," returned her husband, "and we will not go. The wagons shall be unloaded and everything put in its old place."

His people were filled with intense joy and gratitude at this determination. Dr. Fawcett at once sent a letter to London explaining the case and then resolutely returned to his work on a salary of less than $200 a year. This hymn was written by Dr. Fawcett to commemorate the event.

FASTING FADS.

They Should Find No Favor With Nervous, Anæmic People.

It is said by some physicians that a good deal of the insomnia, extreme thinness and general debility from which Americans suffer is due to the various fasting fads. Here a man goes without breakfast, there a woman makes a point of going hungry to bed. Another systematically omits a meal at noonday, and so it goes. Where people are constitutionally below par and in a position where they can only hope to maintain a fair degree of efficiency by keeping up their vitality such "stunts" are of questionable value. Sturdy, full blooded people, with iron nerves and digestions that can negotiate nails, may try starving themselves with impunity perhaps. Thin, anæmic, nervous people, on the other hand, generally need all the food they can eat and all the blood they can make. If such people would eat before going to bed they would generally see an increase in vigor, for the reason that while the wear and tear of the body were suspended, and assimilation would still be going on. In other words, the body would be making more tissue than it destroyed; hence an increase in blood, in weight and in health. At least that's the way one physician explained things to a woman of the pale, thin type who applied to him "all run down."—New York Tribune.

A Humming Bird's Umbrella.

In front of a window where I worked one summer was a butternut tree. A humming bird built her nest on a limb that grew near the window, and we had an opportunity to watch her closely—in fact, we could look right into the nest. One day when there was a heavy shower coming up we thought we would see if she covered her young during the rain. Well, when the first drops fell, she came and took in her bill one of two or three large leaves growing close by and laid this leaf over the nest so as to completely cover it. Then she flew away. On examining the leaf we found a hole in it, and in the side of the nest was a small stick that the leaf was fastened to or hooked upon. After the storm was over the old bird came back and unhooked the leaf, and the nest was perfectly dry.—Exchange.

The Lost Golf Ball.

"Once in Scotland," said a professional golf player, "I saw a lost ball cause a great commotion. Over there, you know, a lost ball means a lost hole. Two professionals were playing, and one of them lost a ball in the tall grass. He searched for it a long time. Nearly half an hour passed. His opponent kept urging him to admit that the ball was lost and to forego a hole, but this other refused to do. And finally, with a triumphant laugh, he pounced down, fumbled in the weeds and rose with a ball in his hand. "Here's my ball. I've found my ball," he shouted. "Yer a liar," said the other professional, 'for I've got it here in my pocket.'"

CONTEST NOTICE.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Lakeview, Oregon, October 18, 1906. A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Fred L. Scudderman, contestant, against the homestead entry No. 3145, of Sarah M. Reasener, contestee, made August 19th, 1905, for the S 1/2 of Sec. 12, Tp. 38 S, R. 9 E W M, in which it is alleged that the said Sarah M. Reasener died about the month of August, 1904; that she only heirs at law, and successors in interest of said deceased known to this agent, are: Frederick K. Reasener, Bertha B. Reasener, Alden E. Reasener, Charles H. Reasener, J. Columbus Reasener and A. Myrtle Ganiere; that said Frederick K. Reasener is also the administrator of the estate of Sarah M. Reasener, deceased; that said Sarah M. Reasener never, during her lifetime, resided upon, cultivated or improved said described land, nor any portion thereof; that none of the heirs at law, successors in interest, legal or personal representatives of said deceased, has at any time resided upon said land, or any portion thereof, or improved or cultivated the same or any portion thereof; that said Sarah M. Reasener, wholly abandoned said land, for more than six months, prior to her death, and that all the heirs at law, successors in interest, and legal or personal representatives of said deceased have since her death wholly abandoned said land and have failed to reside upon, or cultivate the same, or any portion thereof, and have wholly sold, at all times since the death of said Sarah M. Reasener, to improve said land in any manner, and that all taxes said land and abandonment still continue, and that said alleged abandonment and failure to cultivate and improve said land, was not due and is not due to the employment in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States of any of the persons above named or mentioned, or as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged.

Therefore, the said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegations at 10 o'clock a. m., on November 19th, 1906, before George Chastain, county clerk of Klamath County, Oregon, at his office in Klamath Falls, Oregon, and that final hearing will be held at 10 o'clock a. m., on November 27th, 1906, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office at Lakeview, Oregon.
The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed September 27, 1906, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made upon the above named Frederick K. Reasener, Bertha B. Reasener, Alden E. Reasener or Charles H. Reasener, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given said Frederick K. Reasener, Bertha B. Reasener, Alden E. Reasener and Charles H. Reasener, by due and proper publication.

Read what Dr. G. F. Hanson of San Francisco says of this water:

"A careful examination of the water convinces me that it is unsurpassed in the nature of its mineral content, and should prove of the greatest possible utility in the treatment of congested conditions and for the general flushing of the tissues. Dyspepsia, sluggish liver, habitual constipation, so-called biliousness and bilious headaches, indefinite rheumatic pains due to the accumulation of uric acid or retention of other waste products in the system, faulty elimination by the kidneys, and a long train of ailments dependent upon above states of bodily ill-health are benefited by the free drinking of and bathing in such waters."
