Will G. Steel, the noted writer, lecturer and lover of the beauties of nature, delivered a characteristic lecture in the opera house Saturday evening. Notwithstanding the storm, a large and attentive audience listened to and was very much entertained by Mr. Steel.

He is a polished speaker, possessed of a keen insight into the scenic beauties of this great Northwest, and his vivid word pictures of the grandeur of nature's wonderland produced a marked impression on his hearers. Owing to the failure of his machine, the lecture was necessarily brief, but lengthy enough to demonstrate Mr. Steel's ability.

First class and up-to-date jewelry has always been the most desirable gift for Christmas. Call at Heitkemper's new jewelry store and inspect the large and beautiful stock before making your purchases. Everyone is invited to look, whether you buy or not.
