

TIMBER PRESERVATION.

The Most Perfect Method is Also the Most Expensive.

Telephone poles nearly always decay at or just below the ground line. The upper portion of the pole, permanently in the air, rapidly drying after rain, is practically always dry and is rarely found decayed. The butt of the pole, deeply buried in the ground, is in a permanently damp condition, but oxygen being excluded it is seldom badly affected. Close to the ground line the soil retains the moisture and keeps the wood constantly damp where it is exposed to the air and to the heat of the sun, which is just what its little vegetable enemies like, but if the alburnum in the wood can be rendered unfit for food the wood tissues offer practically no support to fungi. Timber preservation amounts, then, to poisoning the food supply of the destructive agencies.

Preservation of timber is attempted in three ways—by seasoning, either natural or artificial; by outward mechanical means, such as charring in fire or the applications of antiseptics on the surface of the stick, and by impregnating the wood with antiseptics. Of these the last is by far the most important. The most perfect method—which is also the most expensive—is the injection of dead oil of coal tar in to the whole fiber of the pole.—Hartford Times.

They Love Dante.

A magnificent upper chamber of the municipal palace (the Palazzo Vecchio) in Florence is set apart in memory of the great poet Dante. To it each of the sixty-nine provinces and all of the larger cities and towns of united Italy have contributed a banner in his honor. There are over 300 of these banners in all, and the donors, in eager emulation, have tried to make each offering more beautiful than the others. The banners are of the differing colors of the provinces and bear their arms in exquisite embroidery or in paintings by the first living artists. The fervor of the homage paid here to the immortal Italian poet stirs the heart of even the passing stranger. Whatever the jealousies or estrangements of these people, beside his tomb they are united.

Six Hundred Years Without a Doctor.

According to Pliny, Rome flourished for 600 years without a doctor. It is maintained by some, however, that when making this statement Pliny was not aware that certain Greek physicians resided in Rome at least during a part of the period named. But there is certainly no question that in the early days of its history physicians were very scarce in Rome and doubtless because there was little occasion for their services. With the advance of civilization maladies have multiplied, and with the increase of disease there has been a proportionate increase of physicians.

Not a Barber Shop.

A Connecticut clergyman, says a writer in Lippincott's, while visiting friends once tucked his napkin into his collar to protect his clothing from the juice of the grape fruit at breakfast. He laughed as he did it and said it reminded him of a man he once knew who rushed into a restaurant and, seating himself at a table, proceeded to tuck his napkin under his chin. He then called a waiter and said, "Can I get luncheon here?"

"Yes," responded the waiter in a dignified manner, "but not a shampoo."

Some Little Excuse.

"What have you to say as to this charge that you kissed this girl?" "I admit it, but there were extenuating circumstances."

"What were they?"

"She sat in my lap and threw her arms around my neck."—New York Press.

To the People of Klamath Falls:

When I came to Klamath Falls I was fortunate enough to find a "ground floor" proposition in the Mitchell ranch, known by all old timers for its splendid soil, fine orchard and ideal location as "the best ranch in Klamath County."

Through the co-operation of men of wide experience in land matters this tract was acquired and has been cut into small tracts and offered at prices and on terms that will enable the purchasers to realize handsome profits. A portion of this has been platted into blocks and lots and is now the Mills Addition to Klamath Falls. It was the original intention to dispose of this addition in blocks only, but so great has been the demand for single lots that I have decided, for a short time, to give the people of this city and county an opportunity to buy in smaller area than originally planned.

The Mills Addition is located within about a thousand feet of the yard location of the California Northeastern Railway and within about three blocks of the depot site, as indicated on the new City Map. It is admirably located for homes, with the natural slope for drainage, requiring very little grading to make the streets, every lot being practically level and now in alfalfa, timothy and meadow grasses. Its location insures rapid increase in value, for the greatest growth of the city will inevitably be towards this property. I have the fullest confidence that this property will double in value in the next year.

It is the purpose to sell this property at a price that will allow the lot buyer to make something on the investment just as you are willing that the present owners should do likewise. These lots are to be offered one block at a time, beginning with one of the unsold blocks nearest the depot location (Block No 102) and the prices will be $200 for the corner lots and $125 for inside lots.

The lots are 50x120 feet, and this price makes them by far the best lot bargain offered in Klamath Falls.
