

DAIRY DOINGS

Dave Shook butchered 14 head of fat hogs last Thursday.

Mr. Jack Rueck was in the Falls Saturday on business.

Miss Mary Smyth, who has been sick, is now convalescent.

Oscar Lee and wife were visiting friends in Poe valley last Sunday.

Mike Rueck and his mother went to town Monday to take up timber claims.

John Shook is buying a few milk cows for the purpose of doing some dairying the coming summer.

Brown Michael has been kept very busy all fall and winter getting out fuel with his power wood saw.

Mrs. D. R. Connor, of the Lone Rock ranch, Swan Lake valley, has returned home after a month's visit among friends in Klamath Falls.

Guess nobody in this valley made a bid for the Yainax-Dairy mail contract under the last submitted proposal. The supposition is that it will go to a Yainax man.

Hank O'Brien has fitted up a big team, and as soon as the weather will permit will be busy "logging" brush—having secured a number of contracts for that purpose.

It is understood that a party is to be given next Sunday by Mrs. Petersteiner to the friends of her husband, in honor of his 45th birthday. It is taken for granted that they will have a good time.

Charley Drew is getting a great reputation as a "swapper." He trades any thing that anybody else may want for what the other party may have—if he can see a dollar in it—and he generally sees the dollar.

A wildcat got into G. C. Anderson's barn one night last week, climbed up to the roof and carried away Mrs. Anderson's last turkey. The "varmint" was tracked to the near-by rocky hill, but all to no purpose.

An agent of the government passed through Dairy last week with nearly 100 head of work horses which were being taken to the Leonard ranch, near Bly, where they are to be wintered. The horses had been used on the ditch, on "force" account. Report says the government paid $9 a ton for the hay to feed them on.

(This letter was received two late for publication last week. Editor.)

The birthday party given Sunday last at the Petersteiner residence, in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Petersteiner and Mrs. Fred Beck, was by all accounts a most enjoyable affair. The guests began to arrive at noon, dinner was served about three, and from that hour until the next morning there was music, singing, dancing and jollity galore, the fraulien furnishing an abundance of eatables. There were present, besides some Americans, nearly every German family in the valley, and one and all agree that the affair was a most gratifying success.

Somebody, who possesses a very false idea of mercy, has been dumping numbers of cats and kittens into Dairy recently, at different times, apparently for the purpose of getting rid of them, without giving a thought of what might become of them, or how unmerciful it might prove to the little pets. Dumping them out in the streets on those cold nights was equivalent to turning them out to starve and freeze. Would it not be more merciful to put them to death at once?

Most of the farmers in the valley have been making good time lately getting their fuel for the balance of the winter and the coming summer. There is no fuel famine in sight here. I suppose this is largely due to the fact that we are not obliged to depend upon a railroad for our fuel. Railroads are great blessings—sometimes—and then again they are not.

Wm. Shook, who returned home last week from a successful trip to Sacramento with a shipment of horses, has already bought more than a carload to make up another shipment. He bought twenty-four head from Pat Colahan and three head from Tom Michael, paying the best prices thus far offered by any buyer in these parts.

Hans Stoehsler, whose farm is adjacent to Dairy, was severely injured Sunday morning last. He was climbing down a ladder from the hay loft of his barn when the ladder slipped sideways, carrying him to the ground. He is an elderly man, and the injury may prove serious.

The members of the family of George Smyth, living in the northern part of the valley, have been severally suffering from attacks of tonsillitis—carrying the inference that the disease is contagious.

Preparations for the St. Valentine ball at Dairy are progressing satisfactorily. Mrs. Anderson, of Hotel Yonna, is engaged to give the supper—which is a guarantee that it will be a good one.

"The Subscriber" has been confined to his cottage home for almost a week suffering from an attack of the prevailing malady tonsillitis. It is a most unpleasant experience, to say the least.

The chinook which came a week ago has taken off nearly all the snow—and left a thick coat of mud.

[Bonanza Bulletin]

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McDonald of Klamath Falls arrived in this city Sunday on their way to upper Langell valley where they will visit their sons, Alex and Levi. They were accompanied by Bert E. Withrow, a member of the Klamath County Abstract Co., who is here looking after business.

On last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the parlors of the Hotel Morine, in this city, Oscar Miller and Claudia Weiser, and John Hutchinson and Della Drew, were united in marriage by J. O. Hamaker, Justice of the Peace, in the presence of a large circle of friends. The brides wore fashionable silks and satins and the grooms wore the conventional black. After the ceremony was performed the couples attended church where they were the recipients of many congratulations.

A Fast Train.

"Is this a fast train?" asked a passenger who was tired of looking at a station at which the train was not supposed to stop.

"Of course it is," was the conductor's reply.

"I thought so. Would you mind my getting out to see what it's fast to?"

Always the Same.

"Some men can take new furniture and make it look as if it was made a century ago," says a journalist. So can some children.
