Charles Woodard is again demonstrating his ability as a mechanic. A few days ago the big orange peel dredger of the Mason, Davis Company was put out of business by the breaking of an eye in one of the four parts composing the scoop. The work that Mr. Woodard did on the city rock crusher was so good that Mr. Mason decided to let him undertake the job of repairing the broken leaf. There is no doubt but that the results will be the same as in the previous job—perfect satisfaction.

The band concert given in the court house grounds last Friday evening was thoroughly enjoyed, and the general feeling was that it ought to be continued. It is to be hoped that arrangements can be made so that these concerts will be continued during the summer. The proposition made by the band sometime ago ought to be taken advantage of, for it is so reasonable that it will hardly pay for the music used in the concerts.
