

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN

E. J. MURRAY, Editor.

LEADING NEWSPAPER OF INTERIOR OREGON.
TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

Bourne Works

United States Senate, Washington, D. C., April 30, 1907.

Hon. L. L. Mult, Ashland, Oregon.

Dear Senator:

I have received yours of April 24th and note, with pleasure, that my efforts in the Southern Pacific land grant case are appreciated.

Mr. Hawley talked this matter over with me when he was in Washington last February, and we together called on the president and placed the matter before him. At his suggestion, we took it up with the attorney general and we are now keeping it before his eyes. I have had several personal conferences with the attorney general in regard to this case, and at the request of Representative Hawley and myself, an order has been sent to District Attorney Bristol directing him to make an investigation into the facts and report as to what steps the department can take to compel the railroad company to dispose of its land in accordance with the terms of the acts under which the grant was made.

I realize, and the department realizes that this is a very difficult problem to solve. There are many fine legal points involved, and until a thorough investigation has been made by the district attorney, the department will be unable to express an opinion as to how far it can go under the existing law.

It may be that before any effective remedy can be provided, it will be necessary to pass a special act of some sort; of a character yet to be determined upon. In case special legislation is necessary, I intend to do everything in my power to put it through the senate and Representative Hawley is ready to exert his efforts in the house. In fact, I believe that the entire delegation will unite in behalf of such legislation, both in the senate and in the house. The project is a worthy one and no legitimate objection can be raised to the passage of such a law. We are in hopes that the present law is amply broad to permit the Government to compel the Southern Pacific to sell these lands to bona fide settlers in quarter section tracts at not more than $2.50 an acre. If investigation proves this to be the case, the problem will be much easier of solution. If we are compelled to go to Congress for special legislation, it is a foregone conclusion that the friends of the Southern Pacific will interpose objection and we will have to fight them before we get what we want. But if it comes to this and if a fight is necessary, I, for one, am ready to defend the rights of the people against the assumed rights of the railroad, and I believe, in fact I know, that the administration will give us its support if we have to take this matter on to the floor of congress.

I consider the Southern Pacific question the most important one now pending so far as the people of Oregon are concerned. It is doubly important to the people of Western Oregon living along the line of the Southern Pacific road. It is because of the vast importance of this question that I am devoting so much attention to it myself. I shall remain in Washington as long as I believe by so doing I can in any way assist the department in its efforts to solve the problem.

Thanking you for your words of commendation, I am, with sincere personal regards,

Very truly yours,
J. BOURNE, JR.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Whereas; It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe, to whose will we all must bow, to take away our sister, Gertrude Manning. Therefore, be it Resolved, that Prosperity Rebekah Lodge has lost one of its most esteemed members, the community a kind, hospitable neighbor, the parents an affectionate daughter and the husband a dearly beloved wife.

Resolved, that by this great loss, we are reminded that all must pass through the valley of the shadow of death, and while we know that words avail little in such a bereavement, yet they are the only medium through which we can express our love for our departed Sister, and extend our sympathy to the afflicted family.

Resolved, that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be placed on the minutes, copies sent to the bereaved husband and parents, one to each of the county papers, one to the daily paper, and one sent to the "Pacific Odd Fellow" for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
LORINDA M. SAUBER,
NELLIE C. VAN RIPER,
ANNA J. O'FARRELL,
Klamath Falls, Ore., May 17, 1907.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

[Lake County Examiner, May 16, '07.]

Mr. Mason, of the firm of Mason & Slough, real estate dealers of Klamath Falls, has been in Lakeview on business before the land office for the past week.

[Lakeview Herald, May 16, '07.]

Bishop O'Reilly, of Baker City, is to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Lakeview. He will honor himself, his auditors and the day they celebrate.

We are informed that Harry Maynard, the ex-pugilist who used to visit this section with a little traveling show, recently fell heir to an estate in England valued at $750,000.

[Central Oregonian, May 16, '07.]

Harry E. Whitney of Klamath Falls and Geo. W. Osborn of Tacoma, Wash., each filed on a timber claim Thursday, before Commissioner West.

[Sumner Lake]

People looking for timber claims are getting quite numerous these days. A Mr. Dunbar of Klamath Falls and a party of four have been looking over the timber here.

H. V. GATES IN CROOK.

H. V. Gates returned with his daughter yesterday afternoon from a trip through the west end of the county, and left today for Shaniko on their way to Hillsboro. The object of the trip was to discover a suitable power site for the Prineville Light & Water company, and Mr. Gates announced that he had failed after a tour of 236 miles. He visited every available site in the Deschutes valley, including the Matoles, Squaw creek and the Tumello, without finding anything within the reach of the company's treasury that was suitable for the purpose. The Matoles he pronounces the best for a small power plant, such as would be required by this city, but the sites were either not for sale or the price was prohibitive.

Mr. Gates says the Deschutes sites are all right, but the owners of them cannot guarantee the water supply, as all the waters of the river are filed on by the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, and his company could not afford to take chances on seepage from the canals when forty or fifty thousand dollars would be required to construct an adequate plant. Capital, always wary, is doubly so in this instance.

HUGO'S SHORT MEMORY.

Told Different Versions of a Story on Three Occasions.

The Revue Hebdomadaire publishes an anecdote on Victor Hugo which by many will be considered very characteristic. Right after Napoleon III's coup d'etat Victor Hugo and Schoelcher, a well known politician of that period, fled together from Paris. A short time afterward, when Hugo met Schoelcher at his table in Brussels, the poet said: "Yes, my dear friend, you can boast of having once scared me very much. I had no doubt but that we were done for." Turning to the other guests, he explained:

"We were on the way to the Northern railroad depot and were sitting silent and uneasy in the omnibus, our hats drawn deep over our foreheads. Presently a regiment of infantry passed by with flying colors and resounding music. At the sight Schoelcher forgot all caution and, leaning out of the window, shouted, 'Down with Caesar!' Instantly I caught hold of him and closed his mouth with my hand. One word more and we should have been done for."

Two years later Schoelcher visited his friend Hugo in Guernsey. At dinner again the coup d'etat was discussed, and the poet called forth recollections of times past. "Do you still recollect, Schoelcher," he asked, "the day of our flight? We really came off very lucky. But didn't we act like madmen, shouting 'Down with Caesar!' when that regiment was passing by? Of course we were too indignant to be able to keep our temper."

Several years lapsed, and again Schoelcher was a guest in Hugo's house. Conversation turned to civic courage and the like. "Well, my dear Schoelcher," Hugo said to his friend, "I must tell you something I have had in my heart for years. In a critical moment of your life you showed a weakness which grieved me deeply. You will recollect that day when we, after the coup d'etat, left Paris and how I, while a regiment of infantry was passing by, at the sight of these killers of our liberty and in a rage, having no command over myself, shouted out, 'Down with Caesar!' I still have you before my eyes trembling with fear, catching hold of me by the lapel of my coat and forcing me down on the seat, so concerned you were for your precious life."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

When fish bite freely they're little ones.

The impudence of some people is the only great thing about them.

To burn a letter may show a lack of sentiment, but it is in many cases a mark of good judgment.

You often hear a mother say to her child, "How often must I tell you?" How often must you be told?

There is one thing you should put off till tomorrow that you might do today, and that is sitting down and counting up your troubles.

Some men not only feel that the world owes them a living, but are sore because there are no collection agencies to collect it for them.

If you brag that you are contented people say you might as well be a cow, and if you are discontented people say you have a grouch, and there you are. —Atehison Globe.

New Addition

Owing to the rapid sales of South Midland townsite property, the management has found it necessary to plat another addition. The new addition has just been filed with the County Court and lots are now on sale at the offices of Croft & Nowlin and Mark L. Burns.

This new section is the most desirable and best located of the entire townsite. It is within three minutes walk of the Midland Depot and consists of a 40 acre tract of rich alluvial land sloping gently from the East to the very edge of Lower Klamath Lake at the point where the railroad reaches the Eastern shore. There is no more sightly location for a town in the state of Oregon, and the great scope of rich country surrounding it gives assurance of its future prosperity.

Nine out of every ten persons who have visited the townsite of South Midland have purchased lots. There is no safer or surer investment in Southern Oregon. Only the advent of the railroad is necessary to start the rapid building and development of the town, which is destined to be the future rival of Klamath Falls.

For further information inquire or address CROFT & NOWLIN or MARK L. BURNS, Klamath Falls, Oregon.
