FORT KLAMATH

Fort Klamath is located in the northern part of Klamath county, and is in the center of what is recognized as the Switzerland of America. In close proximity to Crater Lake and surrounded by the greatest natural and scenic wonders on the continent, it will, within a few years, be one of the greatest tourist resorts on the Pacific coast.

The heaviest thunder storm of the season passed over the valley Friday evening, August 23. It did no damage further than wetting a little hay, and it settled the dust completely.
 A great many people are passing through town en route to the huckleberry patch.
 Major H. G. Wilson and Mr. Neilander are on a hunting trip, while their families are picking berries at "the patch."
 Dr. Cartwright and family spent several days here during the past week, viewing the scenery and fishing.

Dan Ryan and L. C. Sisemore have been up in the Yainax country buying beef cattle. They picked up a fine herd.
 Jack Felton and wife are looking after their large herd of beef cattle.
 George Hurn and family have been at Crater Lake for several days. They report a very heavy rain at Mr. Arant's last Friday night.
 Mrs. F. M. Denton is visiting relatives at Central Point.
 Ryan's Grove presents the appearance of a tented city. There were probably 20 tents there for several days during the past week.
 The writer made a very interesting trip out in the mountains around Crater Lake, in company with J. F. Arant and Capt. Applegate. There are many interesting points through there which are easily accessible for wagons. A wagon road will probably be built to them next year. Two members of the Kiser Photo Co. are in that country now taking views which will show up many new scenic points.

The Oregon Trust & Savings Bank of Portland failed last week with liabilities of about $2,500,000. The failure was primarily due to the heavy investments made in Home Telephone bonds and a tightening of the money market, which prevented the bank from realizing on the security. It is likely, however, that the depositors will get dollar for dollar, as the assets of the institution are perfectly good, provided they are not thrown on the market at a sacrifice.

Dorris Clippings

Henry Straw drove through our burg today on his way to the railroad.
 P. L. Fountain visited our valley the first of the week. He seems very much pleased with the appearance of our town.
 John Hazen and Jonah Sparks visited the Falls on business last week.
 Homer Hunsaker returned to Dorris Saturday from John Phillips' place where he just completed a new farm residence.
 M. L. Burns has ordered the lumber for the new office of Burns & Mitchell, real estate.
 The stone cellar being built by Mr. Otto, of Picard, is nearly completed and he expects to have his store moved here in the near future.
 The fixtures are being placed in Mr. Oliver's fine new store and he expects to move his stock of goods and the post-office from Picard next week.
 M. Evans and family have returned from a huckleberrying trip. They report more mosquitos and rain than berries.
 Mitchell & Kerr's new hardware building is to be dedicated next Friday by a dance.
 D. W. Burling has commenced the erection of his furniture store.
 Hazen & Sparks are building a new feed stable.
 Homer Hunsaker, the Dorris contractor and builder, has just completed the plans and ordered the lumber for a 20 room hotel for the Sparks Bros.
 It is reported that Dorris is to have a newspaper in the near future.
 There is strong talk of organizing a Butte Valley Agricultural Society, and if the plans materialize they expect to have a fair and race meet at Dorris this fall.
 Since Mr. Hazen returned from the Falls he has resumed his old position of carrying milk from Mr. Shy's and we hope that he secures the well merited success that rewards perseverance.
 A company has been formed to bore for artesian water in Dorris. If they strike water watch the property advance.
 The citizens of Dorris are more than pleased with the idea of a new bank which is to be erected immediately; a place to deposit their money has always Refining.

 "Music," said the eminent pianist as the reporter to whom he had kindly accorded an interview ran his pencil rapidly over the paper, "is the most elevating of sciences. It refines the sensibilities and enlarges the heart. It—what were you about to ask?"
 "I should like to know, sir, how you regard the distinguished pianist Professor von Bergstein as a musician?"
 "He is nothing, sir, but a cheap, vile imitator, a base counterfeit, a tenth rate keyboard banger, sir," exclaimed the eminent musician, scowling.—Strand Magazine.

The Beautiful Danube.
 "The (Mile of Strauss' famous waltz, 'The Beautiful Blue Danube,' contains an assertion that is considerably removed from the reality," says La Science Francaise. "A scientist has taken observations during one year on the different colors presented by the celebrated river. He has shown that on eleven days the waters of the Danube were brown, on forty-six days yellow, on fifty-nine days muddy green, on forty-five days clear green, on sixty-four days yellowish green, on sixty-nine days steely green, on forty-six days emerald green—but blue, never."
 Few Thoughts.
 Concert—Each night before retiring I write down my thoughts in a little notebook. Cynic—Indeed! And how long have you been doing that? Concert—About three years. Cynic—Then you must have the first page nearly filled by this time.—London Mail.
