

THE BIGGEST FISH.

Yew never heard me tell
About that monster? Well!
He wuz the biggest one
I ever seen, I swum!
When I describe his size
I can't believe my eyes.
An' I don't 'spect that yew
Kin skurooly b'lieve it tow.

Down Lizard creek one day
I fished an' fished away,
An' here I wunter state
I had the proper bait,
An' everything wuz clear.
My head an' hands an' gear,
When I felt, nigh the bank,
A mos' tremendous yank.

My cork went out o' sight,
My pole bent double quite;
The crick she b'iled an' b'iled,
An' got all rough an' r'iled.
I astraighened like a bull,
An' fetched a mighty pull.
An' would yew b'lieve it? Say,
He-well, he got away!

Classified.

A bright little girl in one of the Washington public schools applied to her teacher recently for leave to be absent half a day on the plea that her mother had received a telegram stating that company was on the way.

"It's my father's half sister and her four boys," explained the little girl somewhat anxiously, "and mother doesn't see how she can get along without me around the house."

The teacher, handing the pupil the printed list of reasons justifying absence, asked if her case came under any of them.

The little girl scanned the list a moment and then, pointing to the words
"domestic affliction," said, "I think it might come under this head, ma'am."
