

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN

E. J. MURRAY, Editor.

LEADING NEWSPAPER OF INTERIOR OREGON.

TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

THE FUTURE

It has not been so long since there was considerable discontent throughout the county, many people seeming to think that the entire county was going to join the down and out club. This idea prevailed, it is true, among those who are willing to let themselves look on the dark side of everything. But as time sped on and the expected upheaval did not occur, the most pessimistic settled back and their nerves became quiet. Then came the victory at the Irrigation Congress and the most disconsolate seemed to show signs of brightness. There was something left yet.

Now comes murmurs of what may be expected next year. Among the first of these is the advance that is being made by the railroad. Already preparations are being made to handle business at Bray's. The grading has nearly reached Mt. Hebron and the road will be completed to that point not later than December 1st and to Dorris soon after, for the work between these two points is of the lightest. From Dorris to this city, but twenty miles, will be completed next summer, unless unforeseen obstacles arise. Mr. Harriman has issued orders to put it through as fast as possible, and it is understood among the Southern Pacific people that the road will have passed on towards the Upper Lake by the time Mr. Harriman arrives here next year on his annual vacation.

Following the railroad rumors comes those of the Reclamation Service. Consulting Engineer Sanders, who is here for the purpose of mapping out the plan of campaign for next year, has about completed his work. Engineer Henny will be here this week. These plans will be gone over finally by Henny, Sanders and Murphy and forwarded to Washington for approval. While Mr. Sanders has given out absolutely nothing as to what his report contains, and will not until after the conference, it is a safe prediction to make that when his report is made public the people will be satisfied with it. Walls sometimes have ears, and if they heard aright it would indicate that there will be something doing on the Clear Lake dam. The work along these lines will be all that the most aggressive resident of the hustling region embraced in the Upper Project would demand. The east branch will also be completed. In addition to these there will be other work of which the Republican will have more to say later. Out of $420,000 a great deal of good can come, and it may be stated that the horn of plenty is full of good things for the Klamath Basin, so far as the Klamath Project is concerned. This year was simply the calm before the storm, a storm that will sweep into the Klamath Basin an era of prosperity that will dwarf into insignificance anything that has so far made its appearance.

Of the many factors that are now engaged in the upbuilding of Oregon none will have a more potent influence than the anniversary edition of the Portland Journal. From a typographical standpoint it will long remain as the greatest achievement in the Pacific Northwest, but this is a small atom in the results that will be accomplished by the production of such an encyclopedia of information about the greatest state on Coast. In no section of the state has this edition met with greater favor than it has in Portland, especially among recent arrivals, who have sent thousands of copies to their friends back home. In this city it met unqualified praise, and many residents of Klamath Falls have ordered copies forwarded where they will do much to accomplish one of the results aimed at in the publishing of such a paper.

The United States Senatorial campaign is liable to be a hot one in this state next year. It is reported that Prosecutor Henny stated that if Senator Fulton was a candidate to succeed himself he, Henny, will come to Oregon and take the stump against him. The Senator has replied that he would be glad to have an opportunity to meet that redoubtable gentleman in debate, and if such a program should be carried out there would be more political pyrotechnics in Oregon than was ever seen here before. It would attract the attention of the Nation and would certainly place the name of Oregon before the reading public of the United States, whether in a favorable or unfavorable light remains to be seen.

Mrs. Neill Campbell has gone to Ashland, where she will remain permanently. This change has been made necessary on account of heart trouble, the altitude here being too high for her. Mr. Campbell will join her shortly.

WEDDING BELLS

YOE-BRUNER

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bruner, on Wimer street, when their eldest daughter, Elva K., and Jas. A. Yoe, of Klamath Falls, were made man and wife. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. J. Van Fossen, of the M. E. church, in the presence of about 20 guests. The young couple took their places while the wedding march was being played by Mrs. Van Fossen, and after the nuptial vows had been plighted, they were the recipients of hearty congratulations. A bountiful collation followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Yoe left on the stage Thursday morning for their home at Klamath Falls, where the groom is engaged in business. He is a brother of G. H. Yoe, of this city, and has many friends here, while the bride is also esteemed by a large circle of friends for her many amiable qualities.—Ashland Tidings.

BOOTH-LAPRARIE

One of the most elaborate weddings of the year occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LaPrarie Monday noon, when their daughter, Miss Georgia, was united in marriage to Harry Booth, Rev. J. B. Griffith officiating. The ceremony occurred on the lawn of the home, beneath a canopy of vines and sweet peas. The matrons of honor were Mrs. Cook, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Greely, grandmother of the bride. The bride was gowned in turquoise silk and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Following the ceremony the guests, of whom there were ninety, adjourned to the house, which was prettily decorated with blue and white ribbons, cut flowers, potted plants and sweet peas, where an elaborate luncheon was served.

Mr. Booth is well known here, having been a resident of this county most of his lifetime. The bride came here from Wisconsin about a year ago, during which time she has been engaged in teaching. She is a young woman of charming personality and has a host of friends who extend to her their best wishes for a long and happy married life.

Warrants Issued

Two warrants were issued Wednesday, one for the arrest of T. C. Billings, charged with absconding with $50 belonging to his employers, Baldwin & Hughes; the other for T. Maddock, charged with departing with $200 belonging to Jeff Jones, who had entrusted the money to his care.

Billings has been employed by Baldwin & Hughes and it is alleged that Tuesday he collected money to the amount of $50 and that evening took to the tall timbers with the evident intention of keeping the money. He has not as yet been apprehended. Maddock and Jones came to town Tuesday evening. Believing that Maddock was thoroughly honest Jones gave him the money for safe keeping. Wednesday morning Maddock left for the railroad, but the long arm of the law was quicker than he, and he was brought back from Pokegama. He denies having received $200 from Jones, but admits that the sum was $60.

9-12 4t Box 63, Klamath Falls.

J. P. Lee, accompanied by his two daughters, were among those who this week went to Bly to participate in the timber land opening which will occur on Saturday.

Lost River

Miss Hazel Brown left for Eugene Saturday, where she will enter the University of Oregon.

Mrs. Bert Hawkins, who has been visiting in the east, returned home this week.

Mr. Folsom is confined to his home with sickness.

John Matney is at work on his new home.

Harry Holt returned home from Portland where he has been for the past several months.

Miss Agnes Stevenson will be among the Klamath county girls who will attend the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Mr. Patterson arrived here from Chico, Calif., Sunday, for a visit with his old friends. He was formerly a resident of this section.

George Jory has disposed of his blacksmith shop in Merrill and will engage in the pleasant pastime of being a rancher.

Herbery Phillips, Jr., is on the sick list, as is also Rena Colson.

Mrs. Arthur Hawkins has taken her baby to the Falls for medical treatment.

Mrs. George Dick, who suffered from a stroke of paralysis recently, has so far recovered as to be able to walk alone.

The work of the headers is nearly at an end.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth are visiting at the home of S. B. Booth. So well pleased are they with this county that they have decided to sell their farm at Sisters and invest in Klamath realty.

Exit Mr. Smith

Rev. W. G. Smith preached his farewell sermon last Sunday in the Presbyterian church. He was very pointed in his remarks, and bluntly told his congregation that they did not want a man of fiber, but one who could be molded to suit their whims and fancies. He shed no tears and expressed no words of regret, for he said in view of the action taken by the church he was not sorry to be once more free from the duties that at times were onerous and distasteful. He left for Medford Monday morning, where it is stated that he has purchased a fruit ranch.

It is understood that an answer has been received from the call that was sent to Mr. Pratt, in which he states that he can hardly see his way clear to come here for a five months engagement, but suggests that if given assurance that he will be continued longer that he will accept the offer.

New Traffic Man

When W. R. Davis came to this city many months ago and gave out the statement that he was going to give to this city the best stage service it ever had, few realized how far he was going to go to make good his promise. His final stroke in securing control of the Klamath Lake Navigation company met with such popular favor that he was recognized as a public benefactor. Following his entrance into the company he began to look around for the best traffic man he could find, and finally succeeded in securing the services of R. A. Autenreith, who has been the traffic man for the McCloud railroad. Mr. Autenreith is recognized as one of the best men in this line of work there is on the coast, and Mr. Davis is to be congratulated in securing his services. That he will further popularize the fine service given by the Navigation company is certain.

In New Home

The Holcomb Realty Company of Oregon have removed their offices to the American Bank and Trust Building, occupying about one-third of the spacious room in which the bank is located. No expense has been spared in furnishing and equipping the new home of this well known firm and it can now boast of having the finest real estate office in Southern Oregon, if not in the state.

Since coming to this city a few months ago this firm has done more to advertise Klamath County and bring her investors and homeseekers than any other organization. Having a large clientele throughout California and other states, it was in a position to immediately interest a vast number of people in this Basin, and the success with which they have met demonstrates that the organization is a perfect one and founded on correct principles.
