

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN

E. J. MURRAY, Editor.

LEADING NEWSPAPER OF INTERIOR OREGON.
TWO DOLLARS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

WE RECIPROCATE

Klamath people reciprocate the kindly interest in this section manifested by the Portland commercial bodies. The statement made in the Republican last week, copied from the Oregonian, that all of these bodies were giving encouragement to the excursion to be run this week, shows that the spirit is right and that Portland actually desires to see people placed on the land in this county and honestly wants a share of the trade. It takes a week to make a visit to Klamath county and get a correct idea of what we have, and it is not always possible to get a large number of persons to make the trip on a given date, but whether or not as many persons arrive tomorrow as we should like to see come in on the "Klamath" it is gratifying to know that in this effort and in all other commendable things Klamath county has the support of the metropolis of the state.

Tom Richardson of the Commercial Club was one of the party that came to Klamath last year and was so favorably impressed with what he saw that he has been singing praises of this county since. We hope he will be along this time, but according to the dispatches is scheduled to be elsewhere. But our local Chamber of Commerce is linked into the powerful chain of Oregon Development League bodies which was originated by Mr. Richardson and in which our fellow townsman, Judge Baldwin is a vice president, and the good work is going on steadily throughout the state in which we have a share.

J. B. Laber, secretary of the Portland Board of Trade, is another state booster whom we should like to see with the excursion, and who has not visited this county, but has been instrumental in distributing a great amount of advertising matter telling facts about Klamath. Ed C. Giltner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has been in Klamath county several times but not since the present era of development came along, and we should like to have him come now and note the change. The Chamber of Commerce will soon have a fine display of Klamath county products, as well as printed matter, and after they shall have inspected what the soil produces we will not be surprised to hear of the rooms being locked up and Secretary Giltner, Assistant Secretary Mosseohn and Curator Miller all coming to spend a week in Klamath Basin.

The editor of the Examiner evidently had a very severe case of grinch on last week, for he occupied considerable of his valuable editorial columns "ripping" Klamath county up the back. In such work he hurts no one but himself and Lake county. The world is big enough for both Klamath and Lake counties to occupy part of it without interfering with each others rights. Each has its special fields and each will grow. What helps one helps the other to a greater or less degree. If brother Metzger will bear this in mind and devote the same amount of energy and space to boosting Lake county as he does to maligning Klamath he would get better results. These two counties are too closely associated to admit of either injuring the other, and the newspapers should be the last to engage in such work. While more or less knocking will be done by individuals, the press should refrain from it.

The Excursion

No excursion that has been run to this city has had the effective work back of it as that to reach here tomorrow evening. Frank Ira White, who conceived the idea and is pushing the proposition, is in Portland and will come down with the visitors. He is bombarding the citizens of Portland and surrounding country with postal cards and beautifully printed circulars, urging them to take advantage of the excursion to visit the greatest section in the state. In addition to this he is using up a good deal of space in the Oregonian telling of the wonders of Klamath County. It is such work that produces results, and to Mr. White is due a great deal of credit for the effective and productive advertising that this county is getting.

At the Opera House

The Clark Biograph company will appear at the opera house Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. This company has been here before and gave excellent satisfaction. Since its last appearance here several specialties have been added, and it promises to be one of the most interesting performances of the season.

A. H. Naltzger went to San Francisco Saturday on business. He was accompanied as far as Bray by D.E. Campbell, who returned Monday. Mr. Campbell states that railroad work is being pushed with all possible vigor, and that unless unforeseen difficulties arise trains ought to be running into Dorris by the first of the year. That is only 20 miles from Klamath Falls, twelve miles of which is by boat, so that the winter will not hold the terror for the traveler that it formerly did.

The Bird Got Wise.

A gentleman by way of a joke placed a golf ball in the nest of his ancient parrot. Polly sat with exemplary patience on her novel egg and appeared pretty nearly heartbroken when the weeks went by and she found herself unrewarded. At last she could stand it no longer. A terrible screeching brought her owner downstairs at 4 o'clock in the morning. "What's the matter, Polly?" he asked as he noticed that the bird's beak was chipped through trying to get at the interior. "Matter!" screeched Polly. "Great Scott, I'm bunkered!"—London Telegraph.

Pedestrian Rights.

Only in Great Britain, so far as I know, does the law hold that a foot passenger has an equal right to the highway with the wheeled traffic and that it is the duty of the driver of the latter to avoid at all costs the former, even if he has to do so at considerable inconvenience and open danger. In other countries, on the contrary, it is the duty of the pedestrian to give way to the wheeled traffic.—Atlanta Constitution.

Poor Old Sol!

An astronomer says that an enormous dark planet is rushing toward the sun and that the impact, which is to take place in a few thousand years, will be frightful. Great Caesar! If that's the case, Old Sol stands a good chance of having the spots knocked out of him.—Morristown Times.

What Ma Said.

Little Girl (to lady visitor)—Please, Miss Jawerer, let me see your tongue. Miss J. (surprised)—Why, my dear? Little Girl—Why, ma said you'd no end of a tongue.—London Sketch.

We never enjoy perfect happiness. Our most fortunate successes are mingled with sadness. Some anxieties always perplex the reality of our satisfaction.—Cornellie.

I sat down in a chair in the kitchen and wept bitterly. It was the longest time before I could realize that it was I who had sent in the complaint to the board of health.—New York Press.

Tells How to Fix It

A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being a vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

Dr. S. T. Songer, of Ashland, is in the city visiting old friends.

KENO

Keno is situated in the Southern part of Klamath County, on the Klamath river, at the terminus of navigation. Two steamers land here; mail, express and passengers are transferred from the stage to the boat at this point. Adjoining Keno on the west is a large belt of timber, and on the east is a large body of marsh lands. Near Keno, on the river, is immense water power. Telephone connections with all parts of the country. Has a good school, two stores and two saw mills.

Jones the blacksmith has built a new barn on his lot and is digging a well and making needed improvements.

Sam Pool has lumber on the ground to build a new house. He says that if he can't buy a lot he will build in the street.

Blackey Hitchcock says he is going to cut 1000 cords of wood and deliver it on the river.

Bob Garret of Ashland was in Keno Monday looking after the stage business.

N. P. Edwards is preparing to move on to his newly purchased ranch down the river.

L. O. Mills and lady were visiting relatives in Keno on Monday.

Bray to Dorris

Baldwin and Hughes started their stage line between Bray and Dorris Wednesday morning. The service is to be daily, and the equipment consists of two three-seated rigs. It is the intention of the new company to give Al service and it is quite likely that a good business will be built up between the two points. This once more gives the public the choice of two routes in and out of this city—the old one via Pokemama and the new one via Teter's Landing, Dorris and Bray.
