

FACTS IN FEW LINES

Great Britain owns more land in North America than the United States. The icefields of Greenland, ages old, are estimated to be a mile and a half thick.

Johannesburg, in the Transvaal, has a prosperous American club and two husky baseball nines.

The 1904 dollar is the only one of the last pattern issue that is of sufficient rarity to command a premium.

New York city is the second in the Union for size of per capita debt, it being $113.25, New York, Mass., coming first, with $123.58.

In Philadelphia a goat chewed off the tails of Policeman Gilbert's coat while the officer was watching a pair making love.

Recently a two-year-old Fall River baby's Teddy bear fell out of a second story window, the baby tumbled after it, and the doctors couldn't find a scratch on either bear or baby.

While C. L. Derby of Ludlow, Vt., was plowing recently his wife picked up from the dirt thrown out by the plow a British copper coin of the issue of 1747, just 160 years old.

Teddy Schoopier at his hotel in the Bronx, New York, recently held a raffle for a tombstone, the winner to have his name, date of birth and death engraved on it free of charge.

After a stillness of more than a year, due to a broken rope, the curfew bells in a Plainville (Conn.) mill are ringing again. This ancient custom has been observed in the town for a half century.

A Kafir in Cape Colony bought an American broom some months ago and, noticing some seeds in the straw, planted them. He now has a fine field of broom straw growing and may have founded an important industry.

One Bowdoinham (Me.) residence has an unusual night watchman. It is a fat woodchuck that guards the property carefully from cats and dogs. Every evening he roams over the grounds and disappears at sunrise.

A schoolteacher in England noticed that it always rained when the inspector happened to call on her. One day she mentioned it to the inspector as a curious fact and received the answer, "That's because I play golf on fine days."

One of the Ohio girls who recently visited London aroused the ire of some of the editors by remarking that London was the biggest she had seen "on this side of the ocean." The Globe scornfully asks whether "Onehorseville, Mich.," is bigger.

Up to this time the diameter of the globe has not been arrived at within a thousand feet, but Nikola Tesla says that his system of wireless telegraphy will be the means of reducing this margin of error to within fifty feet or less.

The dreaded nun butterfly is appearing everywhere in Bohemia, threatening the devastation of the forests. The neighboring woods of Saxony and Silesia are also threatened. The ministry of agriculture has named a commission to investigate.

Yale is far less honored in England than in Harvard. The residence of Ellhu Yale at Plas Grano has been pulled down, and it is difficult to identify the site. Yale's tomb, a solid mass of masonry, at the base of Wrexham church tower, is almost his sole visible memorial.

The costliest lot of land in Boston was taken the other day by the Boston transit commissioner to provide entrance and exit for the new Washington street tunnel. The lot, which contains 1,555 square feet, is located at Winter and Washington streets, and the price paid was $250 per foot.

Dennis J. Buckley, president of the Kerry Men's P. and B. association, has made the statement that the people of the famous County of Kerry, Ireland, have decided to officially repudiate the title of "kingdom," which has hung to it for 1,726 years.

The London Express says the golf links of the country are fast becoming "vast hairpin cemeteries" and that unfortunately most of the millions of hairpins in them are only half buried, "with their business ends uppermost," to the annoyance and even danger of players.

The volunteer fire department of Rockville Center, N. Y., must have the reputation of the proverbial messenger boy. At a recent meeting of the trustees of the village it was suggested that when a fire breaks out the members of the department be notified by postal card.

Tuberculous patients that live and grow fat are reported by Dr. Gullhaud, a French physician. He has found a form of tuberculosis that remains in the condition of a local lesion, is usually associated with an excessive deposit of adipose tissue and is curable. He believes it arises from implanting attenuated Koch bacilli in so called scrofulous persons.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond, the wife of the clever engineer of South Africa, has a most wonderful bathroom in both her New York and Washington homes. The tub is an immense affair, the shape of a shell, and when the lights are turned on and the tub filled the bottom of the tub appears to be full of water lilies, reeds and waving grass. The floors and walls are of tinted marble.

The New York courts have decided that a huge automobile filled with two dozen sightseers has no more rights in the public streets than a pushcart. The machines that stand on the street in wait for a load of passengers must move on at the command of a policeman and must keep moving. "The streets belong to the people, not to individuals," said the police magistrate who announced the above as the law. The manager of a line of "rubber neck" wagons had pre-empted a part of Broadway to the large advertising of his business and a saving of rent.
