Heney Needed

According to reports Klamath county is liable to have a case for our friend Heney to interest himself in. There are several small tracts of government land on the Lower Klamath lake, which it is alleged have been illegally fenced in by resident land owners. This land has been temporarily withdrawn from settlement under the Klamath project, and while it is not open to settlement, it is said that homesteaders have the right to squat on it and would be entitled to prior right when it is reopened.

One of the squatters on this land is Bob Mitchell, a brother of the distinguished ex-president, John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers Union of America. Mr. Mitchell has a wife and five small children, and last year he built a cabin and took up his residence on a tract of this land. He put in a garden and began cultivation of the land, but as the land was fenced in by private parties, he had no way of preventing them from turning their cattle into the inclosure. The result was that his entire crop was destroyed and he was left with a large family and no means of livelihood. As he could not leave his family alone, he was obliged to remove them to Merrill for the winter, where he secured work. He announces his intention of returning to his homestead in the spring.

There are a number of other parties whose cases are identical with Mr. Mitchell's, but they have not been obliged to leave their claims to seek work. The question has been taken up with the U. S. District Attorney's office in Portland and an effort will be made to have these fences removed. The Herald is not acquainted with the merits of the case, but it would seem that encouragement and protection should be given to the homesteader and small land owner, if we hope to have our vast acreage thickly settled.

Leasing Their Lands

Over 158,000 acres of timber land in Klamath County and nearly as large a tract in Lake County is to be thrown open to be leased to the cattle and sheep men for grazing purposes. This land has been acquired by the Weyerhaeuser Land Company in the past few years. While some of it has been bought in tracts, the greater portion of it has been purchased from the individual timber claimants and settlers. According to the tax list for 1907, the Weyerhaeuser people own lands in this county with an assessed value of $932,244, on which they will pay close to $16,000 taxes.

J. F. Kimball, local representative of the company, returned Friday from Tacoma, where he has been in consultation with Geo. S. Long, the general manager, in regard to leasing their extensive holdings for grazing purposes. The policy to be followed is to divide up the holdings in these two counties in groups which seem most feasible from the standpoint of being contiguous and best adapted to lease to individuals. Leases will be made out to any individual, for one year, giving him the option to take the same lands for an additional second or third year. Preference will be given to those who have been using the lands in the past.

As the Weyerhaeuser people own much land in the Fremont and Goose Lake reserves, Mr. Kimball will go to Lakeview first, so as to confer and work in harmony with the Government agents. After arranging for the lease of the Lake County lands, Mr. Kimball will return here. Applications will be given preference according to priority. The provisions of the lease provides that the lessee shall not cut or destroy any timber, nor use any of it whatsoever, except such dead and down timber as is used for ordinary camp fires, and also that the lessee shall agree to extinguish all camp fires and agree to assist in suppressing all fires found upon the lands covered by his lease.

Death of Joseph Conger

Joseph Conger one of the oldest residents of Klamath County, died at his home on Conger ave., at 11:30 Saturday morning, at the age of 76 years, 8 months and 22 days. The deceased has been a sufferer from cancer for several years, which finally resulted in his death.

Mr. Conger was born in Pike County, Indiana, May 11, 1831. He came from Indiana in the spring of 1853, accomplishing the plains journey with ox teams and being the regulation six months on the way. Starting out May 4, he arrived near Salem Sept. 15, and a month later went to Coos Bay, with the expectation of making that region his home. Not finding sufficient inducements he returned at the end of the month, and in the spring of 1854 made his way to Yreka, Cal., engaging in mining, where he remained during the Modoc war. In 1873 he came to Linkville—now Klamath Falls—and in 1876 purchased the property on Conger Avenue. He engaged himself in raising fruit and the buying of furs, and enjoying the life of a bachelor. He was a member of the City Council in 1890.

The deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Keturah Beckus, of Vincennes, Ind.

The will of the late Joseph Conger was filed for probate Monday afternoon. The estate consists of property and outstanding notes to the value of nearly $15,000. J. W. Siemens and C. D. Willson are named as executors of the will, without bond, and are authorized to sell and convert into money all the property, without an order from the Court. The will reads:

"I give and bequeath to my sister, Keturah Beckus, of Vincennes, Ind., the sum of $500, and to my friend Mrs. May Willson, wife of Chas. D. Willson, of Klamath Falls, the sum of $500 and all my household goods and furniture.

"I give and bequeath all the rest, residue, remainder of my estate to the elected and qualified directors of School district No. 1 of Klamath county, Oregon, and their successors in office forever, as trustees of an express trust for the use and benefit of the said school district, in the following manner, namely: The said bequest or sum of money to be held in trust by said Board of Directors, and by them loaned or invested in interest bearing securities, and the interest arising therefrom to be applied and used for the use and benefit of the school or schools maintained by said board of directors in town of Klamath Falls, but the principal sum to remain intact, as an endowment fund to be designated and known as the Joseph Conger Fund." The will is dated September 15, 1905.

"Codicil—Inasmuch as my sister, Keturah Beckus has died since the making of my will, I cancel the bequest and I give, devise and bequest to all my blood relations, including the fourth degree of relationship and no more, the sum of $25 each."

Government Interested

Engineer Murphy, of the Reclamation Service, has returned from Merrill, where he investigated the work being done by Frank Adams and W. C. Dalton, toward the finding of an opening to drain Tule lake. Mr. Murphy stated that he was in perfect accord with the work being attempted by these gentlemen and if their efforts proved successful, he would recommend to the Department that a thorough and complete investigation be made. No action could be taken unless it was ordered by the Service.

Mr. Adams, who is in the city, said that the work was progressing very satisfactorily. One opening has been made to a depth of 10 feet below the surface of the lake, through which a stream of about 200 inches of water is continually flowing and disappearing in the ground. Work will be continued until they either find a permanent outlet or that the opening is blocked. It is known that the ground in the vicinity of the Lava Beds is of a honey-comb nature and according to Mr. Adams, the water will disappear through any hole dug in the ground within 150 yards of the lower end of the lake.

More Boys than Girls

Why does Klamath County produce so many more boys than girls, was the question handed our representative the other morning. We confess that on such short notice we are unable to adduce a shertable explanation. However, to make sure the statement was correct, the record kept by the Health Officer was consulted and it was found that out of about 70 births which were reported for 1907, 47 of these were males.

Nearly twice as many boys as girls. We would ask our readers who are conversant with the subject for their opinions. Is it because Klamath County is more adapted to the growth of the harder and stronger sex? We know that our county produces men of muscle and physical strength, but is our climate entirely responsible for the preponderance of the male sex, or might the agitation of war with Japan have something to do with the over production of boys.

Printed by Request

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination. Especially at night, curing even the worst cases of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

Home Lured

Word was received by telephone that the residence of Frank McCormick, on the Upper Lake, about five miles from town, was burned to the ground at noon Saturday. The telephone communication came from the boat landing and stated that at that time the walls had just begun to fall in.

Mr. McCormick had shortly before left for town on his regular Saturday trip with mutton, and as soon as the report reached here, a team was sent out to notify him and take him back, as Mrs. McCormick and their four small children must have been alone. No information is attainable yet as to how the fire originated.

FARMERS OF MODERATE MEANS OFFERED RARE OPPORTUNITY

An unusual opportunity is offered the farmer of moderate means to secure a home in the Lakeside Tract located on the North shore of Tule Lake. The land now offered for sale consists of 3500 acres of irrigable land lying under the Adams canal, a part of the Klamath Project, and admirably located along the shore of the lake. It is rich sagebrush and grass land, part of it being in cultivation. It will be sold in tracts to suit purchasers and on satisfactory terms.
