TWO TERMS ONLY

Before the next issue of the Republican reaches many of its readers the primaries will have taken place. We hope that every citizen of the county will attend and take part in the selection of the best men for the various offices. We have only one suggestion to make. Under ordinary circumstances we would refrain from interfering in this matter, either directly or indirectly. The suggestion is about the selection of a candidate for county treasurer. This office is an important one, should, we believe, have a new occupant every two years. But since the custom seems to prevail that a man should be given two terms and that rule has been followed, criticism on that point is passed by. We think, however, that there should be no third term precedent established. When a man has served the county in any capacity for two terms he should step aside and permit the people to select a successor. This policy has proven since a wise one that nearly every county in the United States follows it and many states have incorporated the principle in their laws.

For the office of county treasurer there are three candidates, one of whom has served for two terms and now seeks a third. For this reason he should be defeated and the "two term rule" firmly established in this county.

AN EXPLANATION

In the last issue of the Republican we made some remarks relative to the reorganization of the High School, and it seems that our friend, Prof. J. G. Swantakes serious exceptions to them. His exceptions are two-fold: First he says that we wrote the article for the purpose of defeating him for county school superintendent. We are certain that he is mistaken in this, and believe that the readers of the Republican will agree with us, for the reason that we have found no one who seriously thinks that Mr. Swan ever had a ghost of a show to be elected. We have taken no part in the primaries and made no exception in Mr. Swan's case.

The second exception is based on the supposition that we assumed that he was an applicant for reappointment as principal of the High School. In this he was also mistaken, for we knew that his name was not even being considered by the high school board. We make this explanation because we do not care to do Mr. Swan an injustice.

All Warrants are Taxable

If the decision just rendered by Attorney-General Crawford is put into force when the next assessment is made the result will be an increase of not less than $100,000 in the assessed valuation of the county. For the information and benefit of a candidate for assessor in a Southern Oregon county, Attorney-General Crawford gave an opinion in which he holds that all county warrants are assessable for the purpose of taxation under the state laws. While not asked to pass upon these questions the Attorney-General also says, orally, that not only county warrants but those of state, school districts and municipal cities, as well as bonds, are not exempt from taxation under the state statutes. Heretofore it has been generally supposed and many brokerage firms have advertised that the negotiable instruments were not subject to assessment and taxation and much revenue has doubtless been overlooked on that account.

The indebtedness of Klamath county and Klamath Falls aggregates more than $100,000, and most of the bonds and warrants outstanding are held by local parties and consequently are taxable in this county. If the ruling of the Attorney-General is enforced it will add a considerable sum to the county's assessed valuation.

County and city paper has been in demand heretofore as it has always been considered non-assessable. The new order of things may have a tendency to decrease the demand, and make long term warrants a drag on the market.

COUNTY TREASURER

A Cure for Leprosy

After characterizing Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy as a woman who spread infamous stories of cures by Christian Science healing which has never been accomplished, at the state house before the committee on public health, yesterday morning and evening, Rev. W. H. Farlow, this church's publicity agent, to produce the name of a leper he had claimed had been healed by Christian treatment. Attorney F. W. Peabody, of the opposition, was nonplussed at the afternoon session, when following a second day of testimony to his discomfort, Mr. Farlow arose and named the cured party as Dr. G. W. Barrett, a physician of St. Louis, Mo.

Closely following the producing of the name, W. A. Morse, representing the Christian Scientists, rose to his feet, and addressing Mr. Peabody, asked him if he would now withdraw his bills, as he had agreed to do if the name was produced.

"Good God man!" was all Peabody could say as he looked at the doctor following the hearing Mr. Farlow telegraphed to St. Louis and received a prompt response. Both telegrams follow: George W. Barrett, 3240A South Grand Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., provides that if you have been healed of leprosy by Christian Science. Give date of healing. Wire immediately. Alfred Farlow.

St. Louis, Mo., March 31, 1908.—Alfred Farlow, Beckley Building, Boston: Healing took place 25th day of September, 1907. You are correct in your inquiry. Will find full account in Sentinel, January 11, 1908.

G. W. Barrett. Sensation following sensation all through the city and hundreds of the Christian Science followers packed room 240 and applauded the defenders of the science healing.

The whole affair centered on three bills dealing with Christian Science, namely, House Bill 310, which provides that Christian Scientists need not be registered or examined, providing they receive no pay for their services as healers; House Bill 1065, requiring parents and guardians to furnish medical attendance to sick children in their care, and House Bill 1066, on certifying causes of death by physicians not regular attendants previously.

Representing the Christian Science Church were former Governor John L. Bates, Samuel S. Elder and William J. Morse, while Dr. E. E. Harvey, secretary of the State Board of Registration of Medicine, together with Frank W. Thayer and Attorney Peabody, the petitioners of the bills, were the opposing party.

At the opening of the morning session Frederick W. Peabody said he appeared in favor of the bill requiring medical attendance for children. He offered to give some of his time to Mr. Farlow if he would authenticate some of the cures about cures of leprosy which he has told of over his own name.

"If Mrs. Eddy or her secretary, Alfred Farlow, or any other believer in the Christian Science faith will show me one specific instance of an organic disease cured by their treatment I will withdraw my bill," he declared. "I will withdraw my bill," he declared, and unchallenged he continued on bitterly arraigning Christian Science methods.

It was near the end of the afternoon session, following a masterful plea of Ex-Governor John L. Bates in behalf of the leprosy bill, that Mr. Peabody with his rebuttal said once more he hurled a challenge at Mr. Farlow to produce the name of the cured leper.

"We can tell it," interrupted Mr. Bates, at his request Mr. Farlow rose and read the names of the cures from the Journal of St. Louis, Mo.—Boston Journal.

Convention in May

G. A. Westgate, chairman of the State republican committee, has issued a call for the meeting of that body on Friday April 10th. The committee will call the state convention and apportion delegates. The time of holding the state convention is left to the committee and it will probably hold some time in May.

Aside from announcing the date for a state convention, the state committee will also arrange for calling conventions in the first and second Congressional districts. The first district is organized, but the second is not. The only work for the Congressional convention is to select two delegates and two alternates for the Republican National Convention, to be held at Chicago, June 16. The state convention will select four delegates and alternates making eight delegates and as many more alternates for the National gathering.

Aside from the delegates, the state convention will also select four presidential Electors. There is no provision in the direct primary law for selecting the Electors, so that this is a matter which will have to be disposed of by the convention. A platform, of course, will also be adopted.

There is a plan on foot to have a resolution introduced at the state convention recommending that nominating conventions be held in the various counties hereafter. These are not to be the old-time conventions, exactly, but instead of directly nominating the convention will recommend a ticket to the voters of the Republican party. The purpose of this is to prevent several aspirants for a nomination making a fight in the primaries.

How to select delegates to the state convention is a question which has not been determined. This is a proposition over which the state committee will have the struggle. A special primary to select delegates is to expensive. The state committee could select them if it desired to assert the authority.

An impression prevails in Portland that delegates will be selected by the county committees. This is sufficiently satisfactory, but gives an opportunity for those who are slighted to make a charge of ring practices. There have been so many accusations of this character of late, however, that the county committees are probably becoming accustomed to them.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and still the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Seeing the Country

Horace V. Mitchell, one of the county's most prominent stockmen and all round good fellows, has been showing his brother, a recent arrival from the old Missouri home, the many good qualities of the Klamath country, the land which Horace adopted as his home when he had farewelled to good old Missouri. The country has changed since he first came here. It has prospered in the extreme and Horace has had his share of the prosperity. He came here little more than a boy, but he is a natural stockman and this being a stock country he was in his element. He seemed to fit the conditions existing here, and he has never outgrown them, even though he has always had his full share of this world's goods.

Horace is keeping his brother busy shaking hands with his many friends. His long experience as a cattle buyer has given him a wide acquaintance throughout this entire section, and more especially in Klamath County. Has Horace allowed his friends to have induced him to enter the race for the nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket it would have taken a fast runner to make him come out any way, but on top. His business interests would not permit his entering politics this year, but some future election he may be in a position to accede to the wishes of his friends and enter the game.

Horace has been taking his brother around to show him the stock business of this section so that upon his return home he will be able to tell the folks all about this section from the big stockman's view.

Among the ranchers from the Langley valley country in to attend the Water Users meeting were R. C. Cowley, Geo. Clime, C. J. Ringle, Geo. Deal, and E. R. C. Williams.

To relieve the worst forms of rheumatism take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:—

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggist, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well-known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes rheumatism.

As rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week would never have serious kidney or urinary disorders or rheumatism.

Cut this out preserve it. Good rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce indeed, and when you need it you want it badly. Our druggists here say they will either supply the ingredients or make the mixture ready to take if any of our readers so prefer.

Investigating Field

C. E. Evans, of the Weed Lumber Company, is spending a few days in this city making a thorough investigation of the field for his company. The Weed Company realizes that there will soon be a big demand for mill stuff in Klamath Falls and they are keeping posted on the conditions here so as to be able to supply at least part of the demand.

The first freight shipped into Mt. Hebron was building material from the Weed mill. The cars were loaded awaiting the completion of the road to that point. While the Weed Company does not expect to ship rough lumber to this city it is looking for a big business in finishing lumber just as soon as the railroad reaches here.
