

Discuss Franchise

West Side property holders met at the residence of A. Castel Wednesday for the purpose of considering the matter of a settlement with the Reclamation Service for a right of way for the Keno canal along West High street and also through the respective properties of the land owners.

Those at the meeting were J. F. Goelzer, Paul Breitenstein, O. A. Stearns, C. H. Withrow, Jas. Straw, A. Carlson, A. Castel, W. T. Elliott and C. C. Lewis. Mr. Stearns had discussed the matter thoroughly with the Board of Directors of the Water Users' Association and with the government engineers and was there to represent his own interests and also those of the Reclamation Service. Many of those who were present are not interested in the canal only as it may affect their property but as a portion of West High street, and some through whose lots the canal will pass were not at the meeting. The canal will run along High street for a distance of probably a half mile beginning just above the site for the Moore Bros. power plant, then it will pass through the lots owned as follows: G. W. White 2, A. Carlson 1, A. Castel 2, Jack Horton 1, Don Zumalt 1, O. A. Stearns 2 and W. T. Elliott 7.

According to the statements of Mr. Stearns the Government is willing to give everyone of the property owners whose lots are crossed by the canal a perpetual water right for the right of way, and he states that he has presented the matter to most of the interested parties who are considering it favorably. He states that he has also received a promise from the engineers that parties residing along West Main street can become members of the Water Users' Association and by so doing get water with which to irrigate their places.

The plans of the Reclamation Service provide for a flume four feet wide and two and a half feet high along West High street. Mr. Stearns states that the engineers for the Government have promised that they will cover this flume and put it down to grade whenever the street is open for public travel. He states that at this time there is not sufficient money on hand to build a concrete conduit and if the wooden one is not accepted the Keno canal may be delayed for some time. He is of the opinion that the franchise asked by the Government should be granted so that the construction of the canal will not be delayed. The matter as it stands just where the council left it. It will receive further consideration at the next council meeting, and in the mean time if the Government and the parties affected by the canal could arrive at some agreement it would expedite matters.

Committees Appointed

Appointment of committees was the only important matter taken up at the meeting of the newly elected directors of the Chamber of Commerce. One of the directors will serve as chairman of each of the committees which were appointed as follows:

Transportation—Geo. T. Baldwin, A. H. Naitzger, Frank Ira White.

Immigration—R. H. Dunbar, E. B. Hall, Willbur White.

Public Improvements and Irrigation—Alex Martin, O. E. Gates, G. W. White.

Membership—W. H. Dolbeer, C. F. Stone, T. W. Stephens, G. Heitkemper, J. G. Swan.

Advertisement, Exhibit and Entertainment—Frank Ira White, Geo. T. Baldwin, Alex Martin, J. Frank Adams, C. H. Underwood.

Agriculture and Horticulture—John H. J. D. Carroll, E. P. Morgan.

Manufacture—W. A. Delsell, C. S. Moore, P. L. Fountain, Frank Ward.

The committee on membership will at once begin an active campaign to get more members for the Chamber, and W. H. Dolbeer, the chairman, thinks that it will be possible to more than double the present membership. Other committees are taking up the work assigned to them, and the indications are that the work of the Chamber in the future will bring even better results than it has brought in the past.

Bonanza Bulletin Items

Jas. H. Driscoll left Sunday for Lakeview.

The Mong troupe arrived here last Friday and a crowded house again greeted this celebrated company of dramatic players in the production of the comedy "Penelope the Servant Girl."

Early predictions of crop failure are made every year in Klamath county. In nearly every year it is the predictions, not the crops, which fail. This year has not been neglected by the doleful prophets who see nothing but barren fields as the farmers' reward for their plowing and sowing. We have had fine crops under far more discouraging conditions, and up to date there is no reason for feeling blue. The warm weather of the past few days has brought up all crops, and the fields look thrifty.

It will be remembered that a number of years ago J. D. Whitman, of Medford, erected a building near the old ford on Lost river below the lower gap and built a cannery for putting up the fish commonly called suckers but during high water lost everything in the brine. Mr. Whitman has returned to this county and purchased a piece of land near D. W. Anderson's at the gap and is building a fine little house. He will put in a first class fish trap near the old cannery and go into the business again having made all arrangements and will be ready for next year's run.

L. L. Brownell and R. D. Wagner went to San Francisco Sunday. They will probably visit Old Mexico and may decide to locate in the Southern country.

Successful Experiments

Experiments being carried on by W. H. Heileman, of the Reclamation Service, are proving highly successful. The grains and grasses sown a few weeks ago are doing as well as could be expected under the weather conditions taken into consideration. The recent cold spell has retarded the growth a little, but most of the fields are looking exceptionally well. Present indications are that the experiments with the different varieties of grains and grasses will be successful and will result in the introduction of some of the new varieties.

The sugar beets are not far enough along to show what they will do, but experiments carried on last year were highly successful, and there is little doubt but what they will be a success this year. The large number of trees planted by Mr. Heileman are doing well. The only ones that have not taken hold are those that were damaged in shipping them into the country.

It is yet early to determine which of the crops will do the best, but the indications are that under conditions that are the least bit favorable the grains and grasses will all produce average crops, and that most of the shade trees will grow if they are given care and attention. Mr. Heileman has made a study of these matters and it would be well for those who contemplate planting trees to consult him and get the benefit of the experiments that he has carried on for many years in all parts of the country.

Depot for Dorris

Workmen have begun the erection of a depot at Dorris and parties coming in from there say that the foundation is already laid, and at the rate they are working it will be but a few days until the building will be ready for occupancy. The "Y" is completed so that the trains can make the turn at the new town. The grade for the "shoo fly" is receiving the finishing touches, and the contractors, Erickson & Petterson, are working all of their forces on this side of the Hole-in-the-Ground. The steel gang has not begun work on the shoo fly, but will likely begin as soon as the deep cut at the top of the hill is finished. There is no longer any doubt but what the road will reach the navigable water this Fall and if it were not for the delay in crossing the marsh this city would have rail connection before the dawn of another year.

Hamilton Appointed

At a meeting of the County Court Friday Dr. R. H. Hamilton was appointed County Health Officer and Physician. A few days since he received the appointment as physician for the Reclamation Service. The Doctor has been in this city only a short time, but his ability as a physician is already recognized and his appointment gives assurance that the duties of the offices to which he has been appointed will be well performed. He came to this city well recommended as a physician and surgeon and from the time he located here he has enjoyed a large practice and has been highly successful with his patients.

Dr. Hamilton is a graduate of the Wesleyan University of Nebraska and of the Willamette Medical College. He practiced medicine at Vale and at Medford before coming here, and while at the former place he was health officer and physician of Malheur county. He is recognized as a man of ability by the medical profession and the county is to be congratulated on securing his services. Both of the positions to which Dr. Hamilton has been appointed were filled by the late Dr. G. W. Maston.

Fighting Contest

W. J. Phillips, formerly a policeman in this city, but recently a sagebrush rancher in Butte Valley, is the star in a rather sensational contest proceeding. When "Bill" was on the police force in this city he had the reputation of being a stayer and no man ever run a bluff on him. It appears that in this litigation he is maintaining this reputation. No sooner had W. J. Hipes, of Madocel, placed against Mr. Phillips homestead than the defendant filed a counter suit claiming damages resulting from the inconvenience caused by the contest. It also appears that the contest affidavit alleges that Bill did not cultivate his land and made no improvements. The defendant claims that he has 40 acres under cultivation, that he has a house, barn and a well on the place and that he has the entire 160 acres under fence. Despite these things the affidavit alleges no improvements, and Bill has decided to determine by actual experiment if a man can be prosecuted for swearing to what he says is a lie. The civil action will come up at Dorris shortly and twenty-four witnesses have been summoned by the defendant. The case promises to be one of the warmest things that has ever happened in Butte Valley, and that section is a warm one since the advent of the railroad.

Building the Flume

Several loads of lumber have been delivered this week for the construction of the Lost river flume. The contractors, Campbell & Huffman, have begun work with a small force of men. The Reclamation Service is now working about forty men on the construction of the pier. About one-third of this work is already finished. Splendid progress is being made on all work undertaken this season. There is no trouble in getting men and most of those who secure work are content to remain with their jobs and are willing to do a day's work for the wages being paid this year.

Cal Douglas, the man accused of robbing the old man at Dorris a few days since has disappeared and the officers can find no trace of him.

Main Canal in Operation

Approximately 20,000 acres of Klamath County land can be irrigated by the government system this year, but at the present time only about 5,000 acres have been signed for water under the temporary arrangements. While the system is only partially completed the Reclamation Service is using the temporary service inaugurated last year. By means of it farmers can sign any amount of land that they see fit at $1.50 per acre. The revenue so derived is used in defraying the expense of the operation and the maintenance of the canal during the season. W. H. Heileman, who has charge of the operation and maintenance, states that probably 10,000 acres will be signed up under the temporary arrangements this year. This tax of $1.50 per acre is not payable until October, and if a large acreage is signed up the cost may be lowered, as it is the intention of the Service to charge no more than is necessary to defray the expenses accruing from the operation of the system. This temporary water service will likely be discontinued after this year and the land owners under the canal will then be compelled to pay the water tax on all of the lands signed up with the Government.

Mr. Heileman states that he finds the canal banks in better condition than they were last year. A few squirrel holes have caused some trouble but no breaks of a serious nature have occurred. The banks have settled and are much more solid than they were last year. Water has been turned in for nearly two weeks and many of the farmers have been using water during the recent dry spell. Indications are that the year will continue dry, which will likely have a tendency to make many of the ranchers sign their meadow lands for temporary irrigation.

Another Land Rush

There will be another big land rush when the lands in Harney, Crook and Grant counties are thrown open to settlement and entry. The lands become subject to selection and settlement in early June, but are not opened for entry and filing until in July. This is done to give the homesteaders an opportunity to secure the best agricultural lands. Klamath County will be pretty well represented in the rush, for already several parties have gone there to get in on the ground floor, and a number of the locators who have operated in Klamath timber for several years expect to start for there shortly so as to get in on the timber and stone locations.

Road to Midland

It has been decided by the County Court to open up the direct road to Midland, and the same will be viewed and passed upon at once. If it is then accepted considerable work will be done on it this summer to put it in shape for the Fall and Winter travel. This road will prove a great convenience to all the farmers living in the vicinity of Midland. The road has been used more or less for some time, but persons going that way were forced to open several gates in order to get through, and during the wet season the road has always been almost impassable. Klamath Falls was threatened with an onion famine last Winter and for several weeks it was impossible to buy an onion in the city. The price went up to seven and eight cents a pound. Capt. O. C. Applegate is planning to avert a famine during the ensuing year and has practically completed arrangements for a large patch of onions, which he will plant in the next few weeks.

Business to Be Divided

Recent developments in the freight industry indicate the business from Dorris to this city will be divided between the two companies that are in the field. J. M. McIntire has all of the through freight, but the Klamath Falls Transportation Co. has recently secured the signatures of twenty Klamath Falls shippers to an agreement that they will ship to Dorris in care. If this is done it will divide the business between the two companies.

County Judge Griffith received word from Merrill today that a man who had been in the employ of Contractor E. W. Smith had fallen out of a hayloft while on a protracted drunk and had broken one of his legs in two places. He had no funds and the physicians wanted to know if the county would care for him. Instructions were issued to give him the best possible care until he can be taken to the County farm.

Seeing the Voters

Candidates for county offices are beginning to stir around more than they have been. Every day some are seen coming or going. The campaign so far has been very clean, and indications are that it will continue that way. Every man who is up for office seems to be running on his own merits, not on the demerits of his opponent. With few exceptions the nominees of the two parties are making a thorough canvass and every voter in the county will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the men who wish to serve them.

New Boat Builders

Heitkemper & Brennan, the boat builders, have their launch almost completed. It is built of all solid oak and is designed to develop a remarkable high rate of speed. While these gentlemen do not make a regular business of building boats still they may be forced to take a few contracts, for all who have seen their work have pronounced it excellent, and it is just possible that someone will insist on their taking a contract to build a launch.

S., and the rules and regulations established thereunder relative to establishing and maintaining residence upon said land; that he did not establish a residence in a house within six months from date of entry; that the only pretense of a house erected on said land was a small cabin placed there by the contestee one year after said entry was made, which said house the said entryman permitted to fall into decay for want of repairs long before the date of final proof; that the said contestee, never, nor since the time of making final proof, cultivated said land or any portion of the same, nor improved the same except to build the small cabin as herein alleged; that the alleged absence from the land was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States in any war in which the United States may be engaged; said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegations at 10 o'clock a. m., on June 5th, 1908, before Geo.
