While visiting friends one day last week, Mrs. Margaret Smith, a well-to-do widow of Seaford, N. J., raised her eyes to the ceiling and exclaimed: "Why, Frank, where did you come from?" She at once told dead. Only a few hours before her favorite grandson, Frank Kane, had died, but she was not aware of the fact.

There has been a big interest displayed in the chess contest and the first evening shows that there will be many stiff games during the contest. Among the players who put up a particularly strong game last evening were: C. E. Muse, Allan Sloan, L. W. Miller, Roy Walker, R. E. Guthridge and Glenn Johnson. Other strong players may develop later in the series as it is not always possible to judge from the first game.

Following are the games played, the first name being the winner by taking two games: Arthur Leavitt vs. C. C. Hogue; C. E. Muse vs. E. M. Bubb; Allan Sloan vs. F. J. Downe; L. W. Miller vs. J. E. Swansen; Roy Walker vs. J. E. Dodge; Roy Hamaker vs. R. Wyncoop. In the game between R. E. Guthridge and Glenn Johnson, who are both first class players, Mr. Johnson won one game and the rest were draws. They will continue playing until one has two games to his credit.

Others who were matched but could not play last evening were: F. H. Mills, J. G. Pierce, John Yaden, D. V. Kuykendall, A. L. Leavitt, E. B. Henry, W. W. Nickerson and Dr. C. P. Mason. The next meeting will be Saturday, December 12, at 8 o'clock sharp.

Rex E. Lord, of the Jene ranch left Thursday for a tour of Texas and other southern states in the interest of his company.
