

TO MAP THE AIR CURRENTS.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 15.—The balloon and airship have suggested, in keeping with aeronautical progress, that there is a possibility of mapping the air currents, and an attempt to do so is about to be made by Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin, famous balloon expert.

Since the very latest types of the airship and the big modern gas bags are to be exhibited at the Alaska Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle this summer, and numerous flights and tests will be made, Capt. Baldwin, to further demonstrate that to manage a balloon in long flights, is one of the greatest scientific problems of the day, proposes to make a balloon flight from Seattle to Boston.

This is the longest balloon trip ever talked about, and if attempted will be the greatest in history. While the date for the start has not as yet been set, it is expected that Capt. Baldwin will leave the exposition grounds during the coming summer, at a time when atmospheric conditions are right.

Capt. Baldwin will take this hazardous voyage through space not because he is in search of adventure, but because there is scientific purpose back of it all. H. Helm Clayton of the Blue Hill Observatory, one of the most noted students of atmospheric conditions in the world, is behind the proposed Baldwin ballooning expedition from Seattle to Boston.

Clayton, by the use of kites and the modern meteorological instruments, has fetched just enough knowledge concerning that mysterious space overhead to the earth below to venture the opinion that at an elevation of about 15,000 feet there is always a steady wind from the westward. Now Clayton further believes that should a balloon be kept constantly at this, or even a higher elevation, the great bag would enjoy the full power of this steady wind and should, if all theories pertaining to ballooning prove true, traverse the continent rapidly. Again, if these same atmospheric conditions were exactly right at the time, Capt. Baldwin will land his balloon on Boston Common within four days after departing from the Seattle Exposition.

Flying through the air at a rate of speed yet to be attained by the fast express trains would no doubt be a nerve-racking experience, but Capt. Baldwin believes that the men who will write the scientific progress made in the study of the airship and balloon will have several pages to add if the balloon trip across the continent should prove a success. En route Capt. Baldwin proposes to make meteorological observations and to map the currents of the air. This would prove as a guide to the future voyagers along the same lines.

A San Francisco woman, suing her husband for divorce, avers that when she attempted to commit suicide the unfeeling brute stood aside and declined to stop her. To be called in a bluff like that is more than cruelty. It is positive torture.

KLAMATH PATIENT INJURED.

Two Inmates Escape From Asylum, Third Breaks Leg.

SALEM, Or., April 19.—In an attempt to escape from the insane asylum about midnight, Wilson O. Hall, committed from Klamath county, fell about 40 feet from a third story window and sustained a bad fracture just above his ankle. Two others who made the attempt with Wilson successfully escaped. They were E. P. Hicks, a Marion county patient, and Archibald May, an Englishman.

The three men occupied adjoining rooms. One of them during their walks, which are frequent during pleasant weather for those less afflicted, as they were, had picked up a railroad spike. With this they pried open the bars of the window. They made ropes of their bedclothes.

Wilson, who weighs nearly 200 pounds, was the first to start down the rope. The blanket parted and he fell to the ground, landing on his feet. The other two then made another and more substantial rope and made their get-away successfully. The groans of Wilson attracted attention and he was carried in and the fracture reduced at once. No trace of the two that escaped has been found.

TAFT LEASES SUMMER HOME.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Official announcement was made at the White House today that the President had leased a summer home, the cottage of Robert D. Evans at Woodbury Point, Beverly, Mass.

The Evans house is situated on Beverly cove and is one of the most attractive places on Salem Bay. Mrs. Taft visited the estate during her recent trip in search of a summer home and concluded the lease of the place last week as announced from Boston. It was not until today, however, that the selection was announced at the White House.

NIGHT RIDERS ARE ACTIVE.

WASHINGTON (Ind.), April 14.—Night riders are terrorizing land owners and tenants in the vicinity of farmland's Ferry, south of this city.

William Schrotzke, a large owner of that vicinity, reported that twenty men on horseback visited all his tenants and informed them that if they paid greater rent than one-third of the crop raised, their crops would be mowed down before they became ripe. Farming machinery belonging to three tenants on another farm was destroyed.

ASK KNOX TO INTERFERE.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The bankers of Pittsburg have sent an appeal to Secretary of State Knox asking him to take steps to stop the manipulation of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade. This appeal is sent following two failures in the last few days, which have been traced directly to the Patten deal.

DISTRESS FROM UPSET STOMACH.

Also Misery from Indigestion Vanishes 5 Minutes Later

Take your sour stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain triangle and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring. The digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.
