MORE SCHOOLS NEEDED.

Klamath county probably has the best schools and the most in proportion to the population of any county in the state, yet the need of more schools is becoming strongly apparent, especially in the Klamath Basin. Klamath Falls has already outgrown its new stone building, which three years ago was thought would be large enough for five or ten years. A new building will have to be built in this city this fall, and the directors of the school are already considering the matter.

Fine new school houses have been built recently at Bonanza, Merrill and in other parts of the county, but the necessity is now being felt for the division of the districts and establishment of new schools in the valley between Klamath Falls and Merrill, where there has been a large increase in population. New settlers are taking up their residence in the valley almost daily, and one of their first demands is for convenient and good schools.

The people in the vicinity of Henley are taking steps for the organization of a school district. Mr. Carroll has agreed to furnish a location for the building and suitable grounds, and the farmers in that neighborhood will present the matter to the board at once. The building for the new cheese factory at Henley is nearing completion and the plant will be ready for operation about the middle of May. About half of the Willard herd has been secured and other farmers are purchasing dairy cattle. This will result in smaller farms and a greater population.

The establishment of a postoffice and store and other businesses at Midland and the large sale of property, which means new residents, will necessitate the establishment of a school at Midland. The board has already been notified that a request will be made for a school district, and the need is plainly apparent. It is stated that there are already sufficient scholars to justify a school.

The new town of Worden, which already has a school, is planning on a new building. County Superintendent Swan will go to Worden tomorrow to attend the bond election to provide funds for that purpose. It is planned to raise $1500, which will construct a very nice building for that district. It is predicted that within two years the number of the schools in the county will be almost doubled. This will be the result of increased population.

CUNNINGHAM GETS $400.

Holding that under the provisions of Section 6 of the Corporation Act of 1903, service of summons in an action at law against any foreign corporation doing business in this state may be served upon the attorney in fact for such corporation, even though he may not be a resident of the county in which the cause for action arises and even though such corporation maintains an office in such county with officers upon whom the service could be had, the Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of Judge E. C. Bronaugh of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county, in the case of A. A. Cunningham, respondent, against the Klamath Lake Railroad Company.

The respondent was injured while a passenger upon a train of the defendant company, at Thrall, Cal., and was awarded damages of $400 for the injury. The company also maintains headquarters at Pokegama, Klamath county, its Oregon terminals, and service of summons was had upon John W. Alexander of Portland, the company's attorney in fact, and the case was also tried in Multnomah county. The company's principal contention on appeal that the proceedings were unconstitutional, and the appellate court decides to the contrary. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Moore.

Mr. Cunningham, representing Mason, Davis & Co., is in the city settling up the affairs of that company. He still suffers from the injury he received.

SCOTT DECLINES OFFICE.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Harvey W. Scott of Portland, Ore., who was tendered the Ambassadorship to Mexico, today declined that office. The declination is made in a letter received by President Taft today.

The New York Times published a story that Harvey W. Scott declined the Mexican Ambassadorship on the ground that holding office under the Taft administration would compromise his paper and make it embarrassing to criticize any act of Taft or his subordinates.

Inquiry at the White House and State Department indicates that the Ambassadorship was not formally tendered according to the official custom. The formal tender would have been made only in event Scott manifested disposition to accept.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED.

There is going to be something doing all along the line in the matter of improvements throughout the city from now on. The principal work in this direction for the present will be in the eastern part of the Basin. Klamath Falls has already outgrown its new stone building, which three years ago was thought would be large enough for five or ten years. A new building will have to be built in this city this fall, and the directors of the school are already considering the matter.

BALLINGER OF VISIT MALHEUR.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Ballinger of the Interior Department will visit Malheur county when he goes West in June, and on his personal observation and on the showing to be made to him before July 1st will determine whether the Malheur irrigation project shall be built by the Reclamation Service or by private enterprise.

This afternoon Mr. Ballinger gave a hearing to Walter Griffith of Caldwell and J. W. McCulloch of Ontario who urged him to turn this project over to the Reclamation Service, saying that 90 per cent of the land owners under the old Government project had signed and were ready to pay the Government price for water. W. M. Wayman and E. H. Test of Boise, representing the private capital that wants to build this project, were present at the hearing, but, not being prepared, did not make their showing.

Mr. Ballinger's interrogations indicated an inclination to turn this project over to private capitalists, if they can show they have financial backing to carry the project to completion and can build at reasonable cost, and he further intimated that where private capital and the Government both desired to build a project in any given community, it is his purpose to recognize private capital, reserving Government funds for localities where private capital will not enter. Mr. Wayman and Mr. Test will be given a hearing at a later date.

It was shown today that private enterprise contemplates irrigating a much larger area than is embraced in the Government project, and will irrigate 77,000 acres in Idaho not embraced in the Government project.
