

MEDFORD TO CLEAN UP.

MEDFORD, May 12.—Tuesday, May 25, is designated as cleaning-up day in Medford by Mayor Canon, who has issued a proclamation urging the citizens to use their best efforts to put their property in up-to-date and attractive shape.

The health of the citizens, as well as the general appearance of the town, will be improved by cleanliness, which, as the Scriptures say, is next to Godliness. Believing this, the Mayor has issued the following proclamation:

"Pursuant to a resolution of the city council of the city of Medford, Oregon, I hereby designate and appoint Tuesday, May 25th, 1909, as a general cleaning-up day in the city of Medford.

"All citizens are urgently requested to devote such time and labor on that day as may be necessary to thoroughly clean and set in order their yards and premises and the streets in front and alleys in the rear thereof. The earnest co-operation of all good citizens in this matter will do more to improve the health and sightliness of the city than the expenditure of a large amount of money by the city officials.

CAPT. HAINS GUILTY.

FLUSHING, May 11.—The jury in the case of Captain Peter C. Hains, U. S. A., charged with the murder of William E. Anns, on August 15, 1908, brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the first degree this afternoon.

The jury had been out four hours. The defendant will be arraigned for sentence Monday morning.

It is expected that counsel for Hains will make the usual motion for a stay of proceedings and will take an appeal.

The maximum penalty is twenty years in prison.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle now bids for fame as the "Ivory City." The soft tints chosen will help to make the fair the most beautiful ever held.

The main entrance gates to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition have been built, and the fair will be ready June 1st, the official opening date.

Col. W. H. Holshird arrived in the city Sunday evening on his way to Pelican Bay Lodge.

H. V. Mitchell and wife are down from Fort Klamath on a visit.

Mrs. D. L. Shur of Ashland is stopping at the American House.

The Umbrella Tree.
A curious tree grows in one of the numerous islands which are studied about the Pacific ocean. It grows at its full height to nearly thirty feet, with branches spreading like a huge umbrella, yet it is completely leafless, the species having never been known to show signs of a single bud. Its sap is useful as a medicine, but as fuel the wood is worse than useless, being as hard as iron and quite as difficult to burn.

A PORTION OF THE CASCADE COURT.

The Palace of Oriental Exhibits forms one of the twelve mammoth display buildings first completed by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Its lines are in pleasing contrast to the Agricultural and Manufacturers buildings, with which they are grouped, and their position overlooks the beautiful formal gardens and water display of the Cascades and Geysers Basin.

The exhibit placed within the walls of the Oriental building constitutes one of the most gorgeous displays of Far Eastern art and manufactured articles ever shipped from the Orient, and is bewildering in beauty and extent. Not a country of Asia is without representation, and treasures of old and modern art, never before permitted to leave the lands in which they were created, will be seen for the first time in the land of the Occident. The matter of arrangement of the Oriental exhibit has been placed in the hands of the most competent and artistic men at command and its display will be worthy of the magnificent collection.

About the Oriental building are gathered the great buildings housing the United States exhibit and the Alaska, Hawaiian and Philippine displays. One of the largest bandstands is within close distance, and from its doors the most noted musical organizations of the world will be heard daily.

Look on the Parents.
If a wheelbarrow is caught smoking more than once by the police in Rotterdam-Don, Russia, his parents are liable to be exiled to Yakutsk, northern Siberia.

Bamboo in China.
The greatest blessing in the matter of natural productions that exists in China is the bamboo. To recite the different uses to which it is put would cover reams of paper. Over sixty varieties of bamboo exist, and it can be properly termed the national plant. It is applied to domestic, commercial and industrial uses.

Liberia's Rubber Trees.
The negro republic of Liberia has twenty-two species of rubber trees.

Ermine and Rank.
In England a lion's robe has two rows of ermine, that of a viscount two and half rows, an earl's has three rows, a marquis' three and a half and a duke's robe four complete rows.

French Traps.
French judges never "sum up," because it is supposed that their remarks would confuse the jury.

Knots and Miles.
In considering the speed of a steamship it must be remembered that a knot, or nautical mile, is a very different thing from a land mile. A mile is 5,280 feet, while a knot is 6,080 feet, and a fraction. Therefore when a vessel makes 21.05 knots an hour she passed over very nearly twenty-seven land miles.

The first step along the way of electricity was made by the celebrated Galvani, who just before the beginning of the last century demonstrated that electricity could be produced by the contact of metals and fluids. Galvani's experiments suggested to Volta in 1800 the electric battery, out of which have come all the other electrical triumphs.
