

AMONG OUR COUNTY EXCHANGES

(Bonanza Bulletin.)

Another fire is recorded in this issue caused by a couple of street arabs or hoodlums, as the case may be. The youngsters have for the past two days been playing with very small Japanese lanterns, and quite a number have been burned on the sidewalks. This morning about 11 o'clock Dewey Nichols was passing the American hotel when he happened to look into a bedroom on the ground floor and going to Mrs. Hoagland told her that there was a fire in the corner room. All was excitement in a second, and someone, thinking quickly, brought a couple of pails of water and extinguished the flames. The top of a dresser was burned and the paper on the wall, and it was lucky the boy discovered it as he did for if it had gone a few minutes longer there would have been but a little of Bonanza left. The town owns a thousand-dollar chemical engine, but no one knew it at the time. If the town board would attend to their business in regard to the ordinances no such a thing would happen from these young hoodlums, as there are ordinances providing against shooting firecrackers and playing with fire, etc., on the business streets of the town. The town board knows that the town is flooded with hoodlums and saucy street arabs, but they would not insist upon the marshal locking them up for fear of offending a few mothers owning these youngsters. These same boys run the streets until 10 and 11 o'clock at night and raise Cain, and if anything is said to correct the wayward youths the mothers get their backs up and raise particular h—l. If the town board would enforce their laws some half dozen of these untamed youths would be in the reform school inside of thirty days, and that is the place for them.

Last Friday while the surveyors were at work in Langell valley they met with an accident which is unaccounted for, but the loss is there just the same. They had a team and spring wagon hired of John Shook and that morning drove to where their work commenced and, tying the team up to a tree, took their instruments and started out. On their return, after stopping work, they discovered that their wagon had burned up and also the hair of the horses' tails. They had left their coats in the wagon along with a lot of grade stakes, and the supposition is that there were matches in the coats and being in the hot sun had ignited. The fire completely destroyed the wagon and, burning the tongue off, let the horses get further away from the fire, thereby saving the ruination of a couple of good horses.

Last Saturday night the store of Hamaker & Powne of Bly was broken into and about $100 in goods and money were taken. The thieves made their entrance into the store through a back window in the office. They proceeded to help themselves to the small change in the money drawer, amounting to about $8 in nickels and dimes and then took three gold watches and eight or nine silver watches. No trace of the burglars has been found as yet.

Saturday afternoon as Chas. Hoagland and Levi McDonald were coming to town from the Hoagland ranch east of here, Hoagland made a cigarette and, after lighting it, threw the match down. They had the wagon bed filled with hay, and when the match dropped it set fire to the hay and there was a scampering of horses and men. As soon as the team could be held up Mr. McDonald jumped out and loosened the tugs, thus freeing the horses, but the wagon bed was burned and the running gear was somewhat injured.

H. H. Favour and wife, late of Pasadena, Cal., have located in Langell valley and will make this county their future home. Mrs. Favour has been in poor health the past few years and the change of climate is doing her so much good that Mr. Favour has invested here in farm land. They left Wednesday in company with F. P. Sargent and James Kalb for a fishing and hunting trip on the Sicun and expect to be in camp a couple of weeks.

O. T. McKendree arrived in the city this morning from his sheep ranch in Horsefly valley. During the past three days he has sold 7,000 head of sheep and now he says he has no more sheep than a Jackrabbit. He would not state the price he received, but said that it was a good one.

Edson Foulke, a cattle buyer from Cazelle, was in town Wednesday. He has been in Lake county and will soon make a drive from there with 1,000 head of beef which he will put in pasture in Siskiyou county for the fall market.

E. W. Gowan arrived in the city Tuesday from Klamath Falls, accompanied by J. H. Pauley of Tacoma. They are engaged in buying beef cattle for the Tacoma market, and Mr. Pauley is paying good prices for beef. They left Wednesday for the Sprague River valley.

ROAD BAD AT MODOC POINT

Portland Autoist Writes to Klamath Falls Citizen Telling of Difficulties Encountered.

Below is given a copy of a letter received by Geo. T. Baldwin of this city from Frank Robertson of Portland, who recently made a tour of this country in his auto:

"Portland, Ore., Aug. 25.
"Mr. G. T. Baldwin, Klamath Falls:
"My Dear Baldwin—I arrived in your city recently with a party of friends from Portland via The Dalles, and thought it might be of some interest to you to know the deplorable condition of the road at Modoc Point—the very worst found on our entire trip. The large rocks in the center of the road make motoring quite impossible. Many are coming to your section in automobiles and each party spends more money in your city than the cost of removing the rocks. A few sticks of giant powder and a week's work will make a good road. Yours with regards,
"FRANK ROBERTSON."

The foregoing is only one of many complaints that has been made in regard to this particular section of the Fort Klamath road by motorists. The motorist travel through this section this season has been quite heavy, and this city has benefited in trade a great deal by this patronage. Next season this travel will doubtless be doubled, and this city will enjoy the full benefit of the patronage. Under these conditions, with the small amount of work necessary to put this part of the road in passable shape, it is up to the county court to see that the same is attended to. No better time for doing it can be found than right now, so that the outside world can be informed that this almost impassable place will be a thing of the past when the automobile tourists swarm through this section next season.

Mayor Sanderson is very anxious to get all the numerous nails hammered down in the sidewalks. To that end he recently gave orders to the police to put the first able-bodied prisoner at work on this task. Coming up Saturday the Mayor stubbed his toe, and forthwith gave the police orders to bring forth a prisoner for the nail stunt. "Certainly," was the response on the part of the officer. The Mayor leaned back in his chair, doubtless with the thought that the $40,000 in sewer bonds has not showed up yet, and the city needed the money, when lo, and behold! poor, old "Polly" was brought before the Mayor. "What for, what for?" cried Polly; "me no carpenter; me only Injun!" The Mayor collapsed, and Polly was led back. Moral: Put in cement sidewalks, Mayor.

Mrs. R. A. Emmitt and grandson, Emmitt North, and Mrs. Fred Blehn and son returned Monday from Crater lake and points in Northern Klamath, where they have been spending their vacation for the past four weeks.

HIS DUTIES COMPLETED

Nothing Further to Do Than to Compile Report Until Supreme Court Passes Upon Constitutionality

Benjamin F. Heidel, assistant engineer of the office of good roads department of agriculture, has left Medford for Seattle, having completed all the preliminary investigations in connection with the construction of the Crater lake highway. For two months he has carried on his investigations, and now there is nothing further to do than to compile his report for the Crater lake good roads commission until such time as the Supreme court passes upon the constitutionality of the appropriation, when the work, if the decision is favorable, will be taken up again. He was under orders from the department to report in Seattle as soon as his work here was carried as far as possible at the present time. Mr. Heidel has now gone over every foot of the line and has made his decisions regarding the route of the line. He declines to discuss any of the matters he has learned until after his report is in the hands of the commission.

"I sincerely trust," said Mr. Heidel, "that I may be allowed to return and oversee the construction of the road. I am confident that the road will be built in time and the beauty of the natural wonder—Crater lake—certainly justifies any expenditures which will throw the lake open to the gaze of the world. The investment from a financial standpoint is all that one could desire, and I should like very much to get the signal to go ahead."

CENTER FOR BOX SHOOKS

Its Advantageous Location Will Bring Other Plants and Make This City Center of Industry on Coast

With a capacity of 40,000 box shooks a day this city starts its career as the center of the box-making industry of the Pacific coast. The Great Northern Box company is the first company to engage exclusively in this business in this city. It has established a plant on the Upper lake that is the most complete on the coast. The machines installed are of the very latest pattern, and the plant is operated entirely by electricity.

When nearly two years ago the Long Lake company started to manufacture box shooks the wisecracks in the city shook their heads and willingly volunteered the information that box shooks could not be manufactured in this city in competition with other places. The work went on quietly, and it was soon seen that someone was buying them. Then it became known that a factory was to be erected, devoted exclusively to the manufacture of box shooks. This was deemed the utmost folly. But the tune is changing, and those who saw nothing but disaster in the undertaking have come to the conclusion that there are other wise heads in this old world aside from their own. Only soft pine shooks will be manufactured here. They will be marketed throughout the fruit packing districts of California, and are destined to play an important part in the war that is now being waged in the Golden State between the trust and the independent manufacturer.

When this city is on the main line it will be in an excellent position for the supply of box lumber, as the almost unlimited supply in this section is practically untouched. This will mean but one thing—that Klamath Falls will be the center of the box-making industry of the Pacific coast. The value of this is evident when it is remembered the Great Northern Box company will employ close to fifty men and boys in their plant. It will require no great amount of figuring to convince any skeptic that it will not take many such establishments to make a good showing in the payroll line.

Arrangements have been made for the erection of cottages for the accommodation of the employees of the factory. Already a number has been built, and the new ones contracted for will meet all requirements for the present. These are modern in style and construction, and are superior to similar structures to be found in proximity to the box factories throughout the coast region.

Ackley Bros. are going to engage quite extensively in the manufacture of shooks this fall and winter, and will add another link in the chain that will strengthen the business welfare of the city.
