FAREWELL MUSICALS

A farewell musicale was given Monday at the Baldwin by Mrs. E. P. Morgan, who expects to leave this city and return to California. Mrs. Morgan has been a resident here for about three years, and often has been heard in public concerts. She has a host of friends who will sincerely regret her departure, for she is possessed of a charming personality that has made her one of the popular matrons of the city. The program last evening was most entertaining, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those who had the good fortune to be present.

Following is the program:

Vocal solo—Mrs. Childers
Piano solo—"Last Hope"—Gottschalk
Mrs. H. D. Mills
Vocal duet—"Beautiful Moonlight"
Mrs. W. O. Huson and Mrs. E. P. Morgan
Violin solo—"Ave Maria"—Gounod
Mrs. Margaret Briggs
Vocal solo—"Staccato Polka"—Muller
Mrs. Morgan
Zither and violin duet—
Mrs. Briggs and Mr. Oldt

Miss Grace Nickerson
Vocal duet—"Love Divine" (Daughter of Jairus).
Mrs. Guy Childers and Mrs. Morgan
Vocal solo—"Waiting"—Millard
Mrs. Morgan
Violin obligato—
Mrs. Briggs
Suwannee River

Two Sides to Everything

A little boy was given too much underdone pie for his supper, and was soon roaring lustily. His mother's visitor was visibly disturbed.

"If he was my child," she said, "he'd get a good sound spanking."

"He deserves it," the mother admitted, "but I don't believe in spanking him on a full stomach."

"Neither do I," said the visitor, "but I'd turn him over."—Success.

Why She Hesitated

Mr. Brown, looking for his wife, asked the cook:

"Bridget, can you tell me of my wife's whereabouts?"

Bridget, evidently embarrassed, hesitated before replying, "I think they are in the wash, sor."—Success.

F. E. Brown and wife of Merrill were registered at the American on Wednesday.

FIGHT ON HAWLEY

Selection of Candidates May Rest With Congressional Assembly. May Be Warm Contest

Representatives Hawley and Ellis may be renominated and re-elected to congress next year, but with the primaries nearly twelve months distant the uncertainties are considerable. The return to Oregon of these two congressmen with their activity in looking after their political fences has served to arouse large interest in the congressional situation. One thing is assured, Republican candidates for congress will be selected by the Republicans through an assembly which will be held in each of the two congressional districts. It is believed this plan will simplify the selection of these candidates.

Some opposition to Hawley has developed in the First district, where several candidates have either appeared or have been suggested for the office. It would not be surprising if two or three of the aspiring ones contest with Hawley for the nomination at the hands of the assembly and later in the primaries. In that event, the position being divided, Hawley probably will win out, as he did in his first campaign when he defeated Walter L. Toozie, with S. B. Huston, formerly of Hillsboro and now a resident of this city, the third man in the race.

B. F. Mulkey, prosecuting attorney of the First Judicial district, was the first candidate to announce his candidacy for this nomination in the First district. Mulkey is counting on considerable support from Southern Oregon, as well as from the western part of the district, where he has a large acquaintance.

Although he has not made a formal announcement of the fact, it is understood that W. K. Newell of Washington county will also be a candidate for this nomination. Newell is a prominent fruit grower of Western Oregon, and has served two terms as state representative from Washington county.

Those who would retire Hawley, however, are inclined to believe that the candidate who would entertain any hope of accomplishing his defeat must come from Marion county, Hawley's home county. On this point the opposition to Hawley argues that any candidate who could defeat the present representative in his own stronghold could easily land the party nomination. On the other hand, with a candidate from some other county in the district pitted against him, it is figured that the support which Hawley would receive against any outside candidate in his own county, which would make him an easy winner.

Among the names most prominently mentioned in this connection is that of George F. Rodgers, a former state representative from Marion county, and who is now serving his second term as mayor of Salem. Rodgers is recognized throughout the district as well as the state as a capable and successful business man, an executive officer of ability and a Republican of unquestioned standing.

In Marion county there also is some talk that C. L. McNary, brother of Prosecuting Attorney J. H. McNary, may be induced to oppose Hawley for the nomination. McNary is serving as assistant district attorney under his brother, is president of the Salem board of trade and always has been one of the most active of the younger members of the Republican party.—Oregonian.

PINCHOT ROW IS NOW OVER

No Reflection on the Chief Forester Was Intended in Letter to Ballinger—Values Pinchot

According to a Salt Lake dispatch as a result of several long conferences with Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot President Taft caused to be issued a statement in which it is declared that never at any time during the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy has the president intended to reflect upon Pinchot, and in which Mr. Taft takes a more forward stand than ever in favor of the Roosevelt policies for the conservation of natural resources.

The president indicates that what is to be done in the way of reclaiming lands must be done within the law, but he announces his intention of applying to congress for such confirmatory and enabling legislation as will put the Roosevelt policies on the strongest possible basis.

Pinchot Gives Out Taft Letter

Mr. Pinchot, before leaving Salt Lake for Washington, also issued a statement in which he makes public a portion of President's Taft's letter, written to the chief forester at the time the letter to Secretary Ballinger was dictated. The president said he hoped Mr. Pinchot would not find reason in the Ballinger letter for resigning.

"I shall not resign," declares Mr. Pinchot, and he adds that he is going to continue to serve the government along the same lines he has pursued in the past, concluding with the statement:

"I believe in equality of opportunity and the Roosevelt policies, and I propose to stand for them as long as I have the strength to stand for anything."

Mr. Pinchot's statement was shown to the president before it was given out. The president's statement was as follows:

President Values Pinchot

In view of published items that the letter of the president to Secretary Ballinger was to be considered in some way a reflection on Pinchot, the president today authorized the publication of the following:

"That at the time he wrote the letter to Secretary Ballinger he also wrote a letter to Mr. Pinchot, asking him to believe that the conclusions stated therein were not intended in any way to reflect on him; that the president deemed Mr. Pinchot's continuance in the public service of the utmost value; that he expected to continue the policies as to the conservation of resources, including the reclamation of arid lands and preservation of our forests and the proper restrictions in respect to the use of coal lands and water power sites, as well as the improvement of our water ways, and to ask congress for such confirmatory and enabling legislation as would put those policies on the firmest basis; and that he would deem it a great loss if, in respect to the matters in which Mr. Pinchot had been concerned, the administration should be denied the benefit of his service."

Character Reading

"What makes you so sure that man is naturally cautious and diplomatic?"

"The fact that whenever I offer him a cigar he puts it in his pocket and says he will smoke it after dinner."—Washington Star.

For Instance

Crankley—Yes, I always eat the skin of fruit. I consider it really the best part of—what are you grinning at?"

The Other Man—I'm wondering how much nutrition you get out of a banana peel.—Chicago Tribune.

In the Arctic

"Does your husband stay at the club late at night?"

"Well, rather. Last night he didn't get home till half-past February."—Life.

"Blusher is the most bashful man I ever knew."

"How on earth, then, did he come to get married?"

"He was too bashful to refuse."—Exchange.
