State Superintendent Ackerman Will Be Here Again—Session Promises to Be Interesting

The Klamath County Annual Institute will convene in Klamath Falls Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, November 1st, 2d and 3d. On Monday a school board convention will also be called. The day sessions will be held in the Klamath Falls public school building and the evening sessions will be held in the High School building. The institutes of Klamath county have borne a reputation of being well attended by the teachers and of being of high interest and value. The program prepared for this year promises an equally interesting session.

Heretofore Mr. Ackerman, state superintendent, has visited the county but once in two years; now, owing to the coming of the railroad we are glad to announce that he has consented to be present again this year, although having been here last year. He will be present on Monday, when he will deliver several addresses to the teachers and the school officers, and lecture in the high school auditorium in the evening. Mr. Ackerman's work is becoming so well known in the West that he is rated as one of the best institute lecturers on the Pacific coast. During the past year he has been called to speak before large educational gatherings at Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. Having so much to do with the building of our educational system, and been so long intimately connected with school work, his talks are extremely practical.

The music will be in charge of Prof. George A. Wirtz, the music director of the Klamath Falls schools. On Monday evening Mrs. Zumwalt has kindly consented to render one of her charming solos, and the Klamath County High School orchestra will furnish music during the institute. On Tuesday evening Profs. Alderman and Ressler will lecture. The public is invited to attend all of the sessions, but are earnestly urged to attend the evening lectures, as they are of general educational interest. Parents, when possible, should attend, for the problems of the teachers are also the problems of the parents, and we are all interested in the results.

One dollar will admit yourself and lady to the big doings at the Red Men's hall Thursday night. It will be a mask affair, but you will be just as welcome without masks, so come on, boys, and bring your ladies. A good time and plenty of chickens and pumpkin pie. Why, it's cheap at half the price. Louisiana poets who were going to read their latest little effusions to Mr. Taft have been dissuaded. If they had proposed essays on the beauties of the Aldrich tariff they would have been welcomed with open arms.

Guy Hamaker, son of Mrs. J. W. Hamaker, returned Monday evening from Portland, where he has been residing for some time past. He will open up a plumbing establishment here in town. Frank Boutin Jr. of Bayfield, Wis. is in town looking over the country. His cousin was here last summer, and has evidently been telling at home about some of the things he saw while here.

There is some true sportsmanship left in the world. The former holder of the half-mile running record wrote a friendly letter to the man who set the new mark, congratulating him on the achievement.

In the controversy over certain Alaskan coal land claims the question is shall the people rule or the New York and Colorado Guggenheims? T. G. McHattan has returned from San Francisco, where he went partly on business, but mostly to enjoy the Portola carnival, which he certainly did.

mal. Upon the selection of its president, Mr. Campbell, as president of the state university, Prof. Ressler was selected to take the position of president of the normal. When the normal was forced to close by the unfortunate closing of the normals of the state by the last legislature, Mr. Ressler was selected to fill the new chair created in the Oregon Agricultural college. Mr. Ressler is a very scholarly man, and one well acquainted with the work of schools in every department.

The third speaker secured is Prof. L. R. Alderman of the state university. Mr. Alderman is a young man, born and educated in the state of Oregon. His rise to a position among the leading educators of the state has been rapid. He was educated in the University of Oregon. After graduation he devoted himself to teaching and held several positions in the state. He was elected to the county superintendency of Yamhill county. At the expiration of his term he was called to the city superintendency of Eugene. His administration of the schools was so successful that the attention of the authorities of the university was attracted, and he was tendered a chair in the university. He has had charge of the correspondence work of the university, and is making that work of much value. Mr. Alderman sustains a reputation of being one of the best institute lecturers in the state.

The visiting instructors will be aided by our local teachers. While the teachers enjoy the aid they get from the outside instructors, we have in the county talent for an institute of our own, if necessary, hence the aid by the local teachers will not be lacking in interest and value.

NOTES

The general sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Klamath Falls Public School building on the third floor. The department rooms will be assigned at the first general session.

Teachers are invited to send to the Superintendent any question or topic they wish to have discussed.

Urge a member of your school board to attend the school board convention.

Turn your certificate of attendance over to your district clerk with the instructions that he should send it to the County Superintendent that the district may claim the $5 allowed for your attendance.

The evening sessions will be held in the Klamath County High School auditorium.

CATTLEMEN BUY ALFALFA

There will Be a Large Quantity of Feed Left Over This Year—Big Movement of Cattle.

Reports from the Merrill country are to the effect that there has been a considerable drop in the price of alfalfa, due to the fact that ranchers realize that they have been holding it too high to warrant cattlemen feeding their stock here this year. As a result of the change in their attitude a great deal of hay changed hands last week, and indications are that much more will be purchased this week. Notwithstanding the heavy buying it looks as if there is going to be a great deal of alfalfa left over. When the season first opened the price demanded was such that thousands of head of cattle were shipped out to other feeding grounds. Those remaining to be fed will not be sufficient to use up the amount of feed remaining. This year has been a phenomenal one for the size of the crop, which in part accounts for the large tonnage of alfalfa that will be left over. It is understood that the price paid was $6 and $6.50 a ton.

W. C. Dalton, superintendent of the Carr Land and Livestock company of Tule Lake, delivered to J. C. Mitchell of Oakland about 900 head of choice beef cattle last week.

Miller & Lux passed through Langell valley with the fifth drove of beef and stock cattle, which they purchased last spring of the Herford Land and Cattle company of Lakeview, comprising over 1,000 head. They will be shipped from Mt. Hebron on the 29th. It will require forty ears to handle the consignment.

Alex Fitzpatrick of the of Sicán had three droves of 1,800 head pass Merrill to be shipped to Bakersfield last week.

Jack Horton brought over 750 head of beef cattle from the reservation a few days ago, and they are now on different alfalfa fields in the vicinity of Lost river.

The alfalfa raisers in the Merrill section have cut a lot of hay within the last ten days.

Fred Stuble, Mr. Swanston's buyer, purchased of Mr. Bradley and several others near Merrill about 900 tons of alfalfa. Jack Horton bought of E. Terwilliger about 500 tons. J. C. Mitchell bought several hundred tons of Mr. Tull. Lewis Gerber purchased of Mrs. Offield and W. O. Johnson on the Ball ranch about 900 tons. The price paid was $6 a ton, fed out.

G. W. Offield of Merrell, who is probably as well qualified to tell as anyone to the amount of alfalfa between this place and the Carr ranch on Tule lake, puts the amount stacked and ready for shipment at 15,000 tons. He says "the high prices asked for alfalfa forced the cattle men to ship instead of feeding. There should have been 6,000 or 7,000 cattle held in the Merrill country which were shipped out. The season's drive is practically over, with the exception of a few small lots."

Sincerely hoping the theatrical trust will not be prompted to take any longer chances because of the rapidly advancing egg market, we remain, with great respect, etc., the trust's truly, The Common People.
