

CITY BRIEFS

Don Holgate was in the city from his ranch near Merrill.

John T. King of Merrill stopped at the American Saturday.

Chas. Patti of Bonanza spent Friday and Saturday in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Hyland were down from the Upper lake Saturday.

J. G. Stevenson was in the city from his ranch at Lost river Saturday.

N. C. Ginn of Bonanza, with his family, stopped at the Livermore on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hartley of Ft. Klamath were visitors in the city on Saturday.

"Evidently knot," thought the old-timer as he tried in vain to untie his shoestring.

Born, November 29th, at Round Grove, to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Owen, a ten-pound girl.

Born, Dec. 3d, 1909, at the Klamath hospital, to Mrs. J. F. McGuire of Mt. Hebron, a son.

A contemporary observes that the disadvantage in being a cute child is that one cannot always remain young.

A far-sighted editor has warned his readers to be thankful while they may, as congress will convene this month.

The Woman's National Daily says that it was to be expected that there would be trouble between Turkey and Greece about Thanksgiving time.

The board of directors of the Water Users' association met Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in regular session for the transaction of routine business of the body.

Joe Wright and family, who recently arrived from Ashland, have moved into one of the Dunbar residences in the north part of town.

G. P. Childers of San Francisco and Miss Florice M. Shumway of this city this morning secured a marriage license from the County Clerk's office.

C. Heitkemper Jr., Fred Ripley and E. St. Geo. Bishop returned Thursday evening from a hunting trip at Odessa on Mr. Bishop's houseboat.

Senator Aldrich says that Andrew Jackson is dead, and a southern daily notes that at last the senator has said something with which everyone will agree.

The Klamath canal has already frozen sufficiently to make the skating possible, and several of the residents have already been enjoying the first of the season's sport.

The Atechison Globe states that it is said of Daysey Mayme Appleton that she is the only girl who ever visited the country who could stop the hogs and at the same time wear a soulful expression.

The C. L. of S. I. met with Miss Faye Hogue Thursday afternoon, Miss Lily Wattenburg, who is spending the summer with her brother, R. E. Wattenburg, was one of the guests of the club.

H. S. Oden and son, Phillip, came down from Dairy Thursday on business. Mr. Oden states the roads are in a pretty bad condition, and hopes they will freeze hard enough to hold his wagon above the hubs.

John D. Rockefeller says he has struggled all his life. The Woman's National Daily believes that John has evidently been beguiled "into buying some new-fangled dictionary, since the one they use says nothing about there being a struggle in golf."

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick are visiting in the city from their home at Medford. Mrs. Kirkpatrick is a sister of Mrs. Fred Houston, and Mr. Kirkpatrick is a former employee of the K. K. K. Store, and is now employed by the Medford Hardware company.

Mrs. W. N. Vallandingham, wife of the new minister of the Christian church, died Thursday about 10 p. m. o'clock. She had been in ill health for several months, and it was hoped that the higher altitude of this city would materially benefit her health. Although her death had been expected, it was no less a terrible blow to the bereaved husband. The death of the six-year-old son in Portland, of scarlet fever last week, doubtless hastened Mrs. Vallandingham's death.

Nearly all of Thursday in the Circuit Court was consumed in securing a jury to try the case of the State of Oregon vs. O. T. Anderson, accused of subornation of perjury. The indictment is to the effect that the grand jury being in session and hearing evidence in the case against O. T. Anderson, accused of extorting five head of cattle of the value of $75 from one Mack Williams, an Indian, by threats of prosecution for crime, and the said Mack Williams having been subpoenaed and being then in attendance upon said grand jury as a witness in said matter, O. T. Anderson did then and there unlawfully, knowingly, willingly and feloniously incite, instigate, procure and suborn the said Mack Williams to falsely, knowingly, unlawfully and feloniously swear and testify, when called as a witness, that the said five head of cattle were delivered by him to said Anderson in payment of a horse.

Harry Nichols of Bonanza was in the city Monday.

J. S. Dawson is in the city from his ranch at Altamont.

Wm. Brennan returned Saturday evening from Portland.

John Ward of Merrill drove over Saturday from his ranch.

I. D. Ross of Poe valley was in the city from his ranch Monday.

Mrs. Maggie Whitsett left for Bly Tuesday morning on the stage.

Thos. E. Stanley of Dairy was a visitor in the city over Sunday.

Elder R. E. Dunlap of the Methodist church returned Sunday evening from Dorris.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Martin Jr. returned Sunday evening from their trip to Portland.

Mrs. W. W. Smith of Bly returned Sunday evening from Ashland, where she has been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marten of Reno, Nev., are registered at the American.

Buck and Quinn Anderson are down from Bly attending the county court.

"This is too much," murmured the old cow-horse as the haystack rolled over on him.

The Hanna family moved into their new residence at the ranch south of town.

It is cheering to note that petitions to Congress need not now be sent to Africa.

S. W. Kilgore and his son, Merle, were in the city Saturday from their ranch at Wilson's bridge.

William Wilson and mother of Merrill are in the city visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Momyer.

The thermometer registered 4 degrees below zero over in Lakeview at 7 a. m. on November 15th last.

Crisler & Stillis have moved their cattle from the Campbell ranch and taken them to Merrill to feed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Moore left Sunday morning for Portland, where they expect to spend the winter.

Dr. Leonard has moved his offices from the Withrow-Melchase building to the new White-Maddox block.

A contemporary notes that downward revision of the football schedule is the dominant issue just now.

City Marshal Carter returned Monday from Ashland, where he has been for the past few days on business.

Does your payday come on Saturday? If so, you may be pleased when you learn that there are 53 Saturdays in 1910.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lippard of the Stukel ranch are visiting in the city with Mr. Clark of the light and water company.

R. C. Young has rented rooms at the Ewauna house for his wife and little son, the latter being under a doctor's care.

Mrs. W. H. Helleman and son left Sunday morning for Oakland, and were accompanied as far as Weed by Mr. Helleman.

Dr. John Patterson, school clerk for the Merrill district, has completed the school census and finds there are 199 children of school age in that vicinity.

Rev. W. N. Vallandigham started for Portland Sunday morning with the body of his wife, who will be buried beside the little boy who died Thanksgiving day.

A. F. Arant, superintendent of the Crater Lake national park, has purchased the new bungalow on Ninth and Jefferson streets recently built by A. L. Evans, and will move his family there within the next few days.

Wanted at Once—One or two young women to train for nursing; must be of good character, neat, energetic, intelligent and willing to work. They will receive $20 per month training, including board, room and washing. Address Emily A. Humphrey, Klamath Hospital. 2t

The annual summer session of the University of Oregon will be held this coming summer from June 29 to August 10th, inclusive, a six weeks' term. The attendance during last summer reached nearly 100, most of whom were Oregon teachers, and indications point to a much larger attendance for the next summer.

The demand by literary societies throughout the state for the Oregon High School Debating League Bulletin has been large, but there is still a small supply to be had for the asking from the University of Oregon registrar. The Bulletin contains a full discussion of the effective debating, in addition to complete bibliographies on a number of important subjects.

O. A. Harris and Charley Roberts went up on the Upper lake Monday after ducks and got the limit. They declare that the shooting is exceptionally fine up there now.

The precipitation at this place for November was 3.28 inches, the greatest rainfall on record for that month in any year.—Silver Lake Leader.

The hides of ten coyotes and six bobcats were brought into the county clerk's office Monday and the bounties thereon collected.

DAIRY DEVELOPMENTS

John S. Shook and family have returned to their Bonanza home.

Charles and Theo. W. Flackus have recently invested in a power wood-sawing machine.

At this date the ground is frozen about four inches deep and the roads are about as rough as one could imagine.

Farmers of Pine Flat haven't given up the idea of boring for artesian water, and it is probable that another effort will be made to that end next summer.

Chas. Flackus has been hauling lumber from the Falls to complete the new house he is building, the local sawmill not being able to furnish dry lumber.

The potato crop of several people in the valley is still in the ground, they having put off the digging until too late. They may come out in the spring all right, however.

Mrs. G. G. Anderson has been quite ill for some days from an attack of tonsillitis, but is now happily improving. Mrs. J. A. Jones has been acting as landlady during her illness.

With about half a foot of snow on the ground and the roads blown full of drifts—and more coming—this looks very much like winter. The mercury stood at 10 above Monday morning, and it stood at 28 above at noon.

Jerry Pearson, Ivan Welch and some other boys, took a team and went rabbit hunting recently, routing out the rodents as they drove through the brush and shooting them from the wagon. They got eighteen in a short time—when they ran out of ammunition. It's not a new plan, but it's about the best one I have seen tried.

"This practice of committing perjury in court is becoming entirely too prevalent lately," said a prominent citizen in my hearing the other day. "It must be stopped. The community owes it to itself to send somebody over the road as an example for others. Unless this is done our courts will be made a mockery and justice a sham. Let the grand jury do its duty and the lawyers theirs, and the practice will cease."

Dancing parties are all the vogue as social functions in the valley thus far this season. First, there was one at Manuel Viera's, next at George Smyth's, and last Friday evening a surprise was given at H. J. O'Brien's, and now another is announced to be given at George Smyth's on Christmas eve. All have been well attended by the young people—and many of the older ones—of the valley with not a jar to mar the general enjoyment, the pool orchestra and others furnishing the music.

Arrangements are in course of preparation for a Christmas tree and celebration at the Dairy schoolhouse on Christmas eve. At a preliminary meeting held last Friday afternoon the following committees were appointed: Program, Miss Kittie Wells and B. M. Hall; decorations, Walter Welch, Mrs. John Jones, Miss Maude Nortridge, B. A. Hall and Miss Wells; Santa Claus, Mrs. A. L. Michael, Mrs. J. A. Jones and Mrs. Mary Sedge; finance, Misses Maude Nortridge, Jessie Anderson, Elsie Oden and Zelma Sedge. This is a good start, and presages success.

The plan of asking congress to provide for the sale of the reclaimed lands in the beds of the Tule and Lower Klamath lakes, as suggested by Judge Benson, meets with general approval among members of the Water Users' association, so far as I have been able to learn. To permit those lands to be taken up by homesteaders at no cost to themselves beyond the cost of the water right would be manifestly unjust to those who must pay for reclaiming these lands. And it would likewise be unjust to those holding excess lands, as it would lessen their chances of making sales. This proposal comes to the landholders of the Upper project with especial emphasis, because they are to be charged with the cost of building the Clear lake dam and the reservoir site which makes possible the reclamation of Tule lake. In a letter to Mr. Hopson, the supervising engineer, written last summer, the writer suggested this plan of disposing of the lands reclaimed in Tule lake. That gentleman replied by saying it could not be done, because there was no provision of law therefor. It was then suggested that, possibly, the same end might be secured by assessing these reclaimed lands with a drainage tax equal to their probable market value—the proceeds to be credited against the cost of the other parts of the project. This plan was endorsed by the water users of Yonua valley and made a part of their answer to the circular letter of Chairman Carter of the senate committee, but was ignored in the general answer, prepared by the directors, which was presented to the senate committee at its Klamath Falls meeting. This suggestion of Judge Benson ought to be pushed for all it is worth by the unanimous action of all who are interested in the project—and it ought to be done AT ONCE! Congress is now in session, and an appeal should be prepared and presented before any other action is taken by that body. I would suggest that everybody ought to take to writing letters to congressmen and senators whom they may know in person, urging this action. If carried out, it would mean a considerable reduction in the acreage cost of the water right—an accomplishment well worthy of our supreme effort. Backed up by a big petition, these personal letters would be very effective, and I think I know what I am saying. NOW is the time for action! It might put the cost of our water right down to less than $20 an acre.

ANDREW ERICKSON TO BUILD TO SPRAGUE

Will Rush Work—Spur and Three Miles of the Main Line Now Completed.

Andrew Erickson, a big California railroad contractor, has taken a subcontract to build the last twelve miles of the twenty-five miles of track to be built from the depot to Sprague river by Erickson & Petterson. Subcontractor Erickson has already established his camp on the Indian reservation and has, at present, about 100 men employed, and intends to start a steam shovel in the near future.

There are now over 300 men employed in the railroad camps from here to Sprague river, and this end of the work is being rushed as fast as possible.

The track is laid on the main line from the depot to the old Hanks place, a distance of about three miles. The industrial spur from the main line to the lake is completed and the railroad can now take the material to be used in their construction work to the lake and then by water to the different points along the lake shore where the men are working.

At the waterfront the Southern Pacific is building a large wharf and
