

PROVIDES FOR STREET SIGNS AND NUMBERING OF HOUSES

Ordinance Recently Passed Providing for Sixty New Hydrants Refused by Water Company

A big grist of ordinances was handled by the City Council at their meeting Monday night most of them being new ones introduced for the first time.

The ordinance was passed changing the boundaries of Wards 1, 2 and 3, and creating Wards 4 and 5, and providing for four additional Councilmen.

A communication was read from the Klamath Falls Light & Water Company refusing the contract recently passed by the Council providing for sixty new hydrants, and the reasons for doing so were given in full. A draft of an ordinance which the company was willing to accept was presented with the communication by O. B. Gates. In order to get it before the meeting Councilman Wilkens stated that he would introduce it. After it was read Mayor Sanderson referred it to the City Attorney. Later in the evening Mr. Drake reported on it and turned it back to the Council, whereupon the Mayor referred it to the fire and water committee.

W. S. Worden, of the Klamath Development Company, presented a supplemental plat of Railroad addition with a draft of an ordinance approving the plat. The ordinance was introduced before the Council by Wilkens, and was passed to its second reading and read by title only.

Councilman Wilkens, one of the committee appointed on numbering of the houses, introduced an ordinance providing a system of numbering all buildings. The base of numbers is established at Link River and center of Main street. Each block is to contain 100 numbers and a number is allotted to every twelve and a half feet. The odd numbers will be on the north and west sides of streets and the even on the south and east. The ordinance carries a penalty on and after April 1, 1910. It was passed to its second reading.

Councilman Summers introduced an ordinance providing for the repair of Second street between Main and Klamath, by filling in and grading. The cost is to be assessed against the abutting property. Passed to its second reading.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Wilkens, providing for placing street signs containing the names of all street, on the corners of all streets and avenues. These are to be placed on buildings, telephone or telegraph poles or other prominent places and must be so located before April 1. Main street is made the base and streets north or south are designated as North First, or South First, etc. It was passed to its second reading.

The Council then adjourned until Thursday evening, when it is expected that the sewer ordinance will be ready.

MANIPULATORS CAUSE TEMPORARY PONIC TO SCARE TAFT

Believed to Be a Move to "Teach a Lesson" to Taft and the Supreme Court

United Press Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Wall street had a fit yesterday, during which many of the leading and substantial stocks took a tumble that wiped out the millions of profits the holders have been seeing accumulating for the past several months. There was no apparent cause for the sudden decline, and experts today assert that it is simply the work of manipulators and the money interests, done for the purpose of teaching the Taft administration and the Supreme Court a lesson.

The semi-panic bears all the earmarks of having been made for the purpose of influencing the administration and the courts in dealing with the trusts, and many are today declaring that the interests are giving the Supreme Court an object lesson of what may be expected if the tobacco trust is dissolved and the decision directing the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is upheld.

The tobacco case is now before the Supreme Court on an appeal from the Federal Circuit Court, which some time ago ordered that this trust be dissolved and the combination that has for years been bleeding both the tobacco grower and the consumer, brought to an end. The tobacco trust has been even more daring than the Standard Oil trust and has reaped millions of dollars as a result of its work.

The decision ordering the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, which is the head and body of the oil octopus, came as a result of the work of Attorney Hadley of Missouri, and was one of the hardest blows dealt illegal combinations under the Sherman anti-trust law. Having practically abandoned all hope of a favorable decision, these interests and their allies have determined to try and force the Federal authorities to cease their efforts by bringing on yesterday's panic, and intimating that it is only the forerunner of what may be expected and which will be of far greater proportions than the panic of 1907.

Another cause advanced for yesterday's action is the fear that is manifested by the interests of the Federal incorporation bill, which, although now abandoned, shows that the administration favors its provisions and may bring it up later. Many men who have been credited with making millions in the market in railroad and steel stock that was apparently sound, have seen their profits melt away by the mysterious decline of the market. It is this unaccountable drop in stock values that has led the experts to reach the conclusion that it is simply a desperate effort on the part of the interests to terrorize the nation.

DAIRY DEVELOPMENTS

The dance promised at the Smyth ranch February 14 is declared off.

Nice weather, this; but some mornings last week—O, my! It was cold enough to satisfy an Eskimo.

Theo. Flackus last Saturday sent the skin of a bobcat to the county clerk's office, by a neighbor, to get the certificate for a bounty, but the neighbor found out that the county clerk does not allow a substitute to make the necessary affidavit, so he brought the skin back to the owner again. Mr. Flackus will be required to do his own swearing.

Mr. Wright got the scalp of a coyote the other morning in his feed lot. He had butchered some hogs the day before, and left some of the offal in the lot. The coyote, attracted by the scent of the offal, came into the lot while he was milking, and his dog collared him at once. While the two were fighting Wright seized a pitchfork that happened to be handy and soon despatched the intruder.

WATER COMPANY REFUSES TO ACCEPT ORDINANCE

In the Meantime, the Property in the City Is Left at Mercy of the First Disastrous Fire

It became apparent at the meeting of the City Council last Monday that Klamath Falls will not get the much talked of fire protection, which, when installed, was to cause the reduction of fire insurance on an average of 20 per cent. The Light & Water Company refused to accept the ordinance recently passed by the Council, and submitted a communication explaining their reasons for doing so. There has been some difficulty for a year past between Mayor Sanderson and the water company, but the public are not particularly interested in any personal fight these parties might have, but what they are vitally interested in is the establishment of better fire protection for the city and the reduction of insurance rates.

About every month or so for the past year the announcement has been made by the Mayor that the matter was all fixed up and the city was to have an additional number of hydrants and an excellent fire system, but just so often the hope has gone glimmering. Who is to blame for this condition is not of importance to the people. They elected a Mayor and a Council and gave them full authority to look after their interests, but it must be admitted that someone has made a dismal failure, and in the meantime the property of the entire city is at the mercy of a disastrous fire which might occur at any time. Insurance rates under present conditions are such as to practically prohibit the individual from protecting himself.

To the outsider the condition seems about like this. Mayor Sanderson stated last evening that he would not recognize that the Light & Water Company had any franchise to do business in the city, yet he wishes them to accept a franchise to maintain hydrants and water mains on Klamath avenue and certain other parts of the city. On the other hand, the water company is not discussing any former rights they have, but offer, in case the city wishes additional hydrants, to enter into a contract for supplying same. They do not wish another franchise, but only ask for a contract with the city so that they will be justified in the expense of installing the additional hydrants. The two parties seem to agree on all conditions, except the water company does not want a franchise, and they claim that the Mayor insists on giving them a franchise instead of a contract.

Now it looks like a deadlock, as neither side will agree, and the city is left without the fire protection which is so much needed. The water company claims that if the contention of the Mayor was true that they had no franchise for operating their plant and running pipes through the city, it would be very unwise for them to bind themselves to furnish water to this district over other streets. To the uninformed it looks as if the contention is true that there is no franchise in force enabling the city to procure water and lights, it is about time that this important defect be remedied.

Suspicious.

During a period of political agitation a stranger arrived in Magdeburg, where, on applying to the authorities, he obtained a permit or ticket of residence. He had not been long in the town before he became aware that his steps were being dogged by a man in blue uniform. He bore it for days, but at last said to the spy: "Sir, do you wish to drive me mad? Why do you pursue me in this way?"

"I am a detective, and my instructions are not to lose sight of you," was the quiet answer.

"Why, what fault have the police to find with me?" shouted the stranger in the greatest excitement. "My passport is in order. Here is my ticket of residence. I am a citizen of Berlin. Why do you follow me about?"

"It states in your passport," was the reply, "that you were going to reside here for pleasure. That looked suspicious, as it is the first time any one came to reside in Magdeburg for pleasure."

FOLLOWED THE GUN.
"Die, Bertrand Maltravers!" hissed the villain. And the hero of the piece prepared to fall and perish, as per instructions of the prompt book.

But, alack, the revolver with which the fell deed was to be executed failed to do its horrid work! The villain, however, was a man of resource.

He stole behind his victim and smote him on the head with the butt end of the refractory weapon, and the hero, thinking one death as good as another, fell to the ground.

All would have gone well now, but the promoted super, who was taking the part of the policeman who discovered the body, was late in taking his cue. He walked on and in due course found the body. He was not a funny man by any means, but still his first words caused a yell of laughter.

"Shot!" he cried tragically. "He's been shot through the back!"—London Wraps.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Klamath Falls People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first; But when you know 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles follow;

That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end, You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured. Chas. Voss, Pine & North Sts., Yreka, Cal., says: "I honestly believe that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. I suffered from dropsy for a long time and despite all my efforts to get relief, I gradually grew worse. At times various parts of my body became bloated and I frequently had great difficulty in putting on my shoes. I suffered from headaches and I had a constant desire to pass the kidney secretions. I ran down in health until I became a shadow of my former self. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and seeing that they had been used with excellent results for similar troubles, I procured a box and began taking them. They helped me from the first, and I continued their use until I was entirely free from kidney trouble."

Nyal's Vegetable Prescription is indicated in all ordinary diseases of women. This remedy never disappoints, its good effects being perceptible from the very first. It is composed of the purest and the most reliable drugs; mercurials, opiates and other harmful drugs being excluded. The many disconcerting influences to which woman is constantly subjected render her liable to many functional disorders that not only tend to destroy her comfort and happiness, but which gradually merge into chronic and serious diseases.

Nyal's Vegetable Prescription is without a peer for the successful treatment of female weakness, painful and disordered menstruation, hysteria, cramps, "bearing down pains," inflammation and falling of the womb. This is a remedy of sterling worth.
