

THE TOY REVIEW A BIG SUCCESS

A CROWDED HOUSE WITNESSED INITIAL PERFORMANCE

PLAY WAS REPEATED LAST NIGHT

Unusual Talent Exhibited by Those Taking Part in the Performance

The elite of Klamath Falls were at the opera house last night to see the Toy Review given for the benefit of the public library, under the direction of Mrs. Birden Traker Gambell. It was a whole show from beginning to end, there not being a dull moment, while, with good music, artistic costumes and pretty faces the toy parade met with the approval of all.

Among the special features was the Japanese opening scene, in which the song, "Sweet Sana-oo," sung by the pretty chorus under the flow of different colored lights, tended to put the audience in a frame of mind to heartily enjoy the following numbers.

Constance Fisher, a small girl of six, held the stage alone, also the audience, in a song entitled "The Letter Song."

John Darrow, uniformed in the outfit of the Rough Riders, and a gun, made one of the hits of the evening in his song, "Just for a Brown-Eyed Girl."

The Japanese Rainbow chorus was an exhibition of skill, music and colors.

The ladies of the Shakespeare quartet in pink Princess gowns and in Gainsborough hats, were a picture, to say nothing of the music of the "Spring Song."

"I'm So Shy" will live in fond memory, as sung by tots such as were seen last night in this song as rendered by Helen Hamilton and Cleiton Lockwood.

Mrs. W. O. Houston, as Gretchen, wooden shoes and all, was a marked success and added much to the amusement of the play.

"I've Sweethearts in Every Port" was the act that took the house by storm.

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt's song, "Nita Sitana," was heartily enjoyed by all lovers of good music. Mrs. Zumwalt had to respond to numerous encores.

The specialty of Baby Marion was one of the good things of the evening, displaying a lightning costume change, good singing and dancing.

"You Can't Guess" was one of the good songs and choruses.

Mrs. Gambell as the good Fairy Queen had a way of distributing her favors that was pleasing to all. Backed by a good cast of dolls, tin soldiers and animals from Noah's Ark it made a very attractive and interesting picture. All connected with the entertainment deserve the most hearty congratulation on the pronounced success of their entertainment.

KLINE GOES TO PRISON

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—Ex-Councilman Kline, whose confession

revealed the great graft that has permeated every department of the city government, today started serving his sentence of three and one-half years in the penitentiary. The grand jury is still examining the employees of the six banks, who, it is alleged, paid the $102,000 bribe money to the members of the council to secure their appointment as depositories for the city's funds.

ANOTHER NEW BUILDING FOR THE HOT SPRINGS ADDITION

Klamath Development Company Will Erect a $5000 Home

The plans and perspective for the new home for the Klamath Development Company are now on display in the present offices of that corporation. It is to be erected at the corner of Wall and Main streets, during the coming summer. The material to be used will be cement blocks, the roof to be finished in Mission style, red tiling to be used. It will be heated throughout with hot water from the spring and will be equipped with all of the latest modern devices and conveniences.

The structure will be one story and will be divided into a large public office in front; two private offices adjoining this, and in the rear will be the draftsman's office and blue print room. Large corridors will join the various rooms. The interior will be finished in a manner as to call forth the highest in the workman's art and will present an appearance that will be both pleasing and attractive to the eye. The cost of the structure will be over $5000.

The fact that this company has announced its intention of carrying out its plans for the erection of a new home is additional proof of the falsity of the story that has been circulated to the effect that as soon as it had disposed of all of its property it would close its offices here and move to San Francisco. The Klamath Development Company is a permanent fixture in Klamath Falls, its officers are men who do things in the right way. The policy of the company has been to give value received for the money received and leave a margin for the buyer. It has spent thousands upon thousands of dollars into the pockets of the near-sighted, jealous, niggardly, unprogressive and grasping individuals who have been opposing every move this company has made. But its work of upbuilding has gone ahead and will continue to do so, until the very men who are today opposing its progress must admit that they made a grave mistake.

BALLINGER MAY BE APPOINTED TO THE SUPREME BENCH

Rumored That He Will Succeed the Late Judge Brewer

LORAIN, O., March 30.—That Taft will end Ballinger's troubles by appointing him to the place on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States, made vacant through the death of Justice Brewer, is the statement that was made public here today. It is based on a remark made by Mrs. John Ballinger, wife of Secretary Ballinger's nephew, to the effect that the whole Ballinger-Pinchot row would be settled by the Secretary's retirement from the Interior Department and his appointment to the Supreme Bench.

TAXPAYERS ARE GETTING BUSY

REALIZE AT LAST WHAT IS AT STAKE IN CITY ELECTION

BUT 2 DAYS LEFT FOR REGISTERING

Registration Is Short of Last Year, Loss Being in Second and Third Wards

The taxpayers of the city are beginning to sit up and take notice of the approaching city election and are bestirring themselves to see that their friends and neighbors are registered. Throughout the city are scores of men who have purchased property on which they have, or are contemplating the erection of, homes. These are the men who are vitally interested in the approaching city election. Every dollar added to their taxes means that much of a hardship, and they are not going to sit down and take no interest in who is going to have charge of the affairs of the city.

Another class of people who are also becoming interested are those who are renting property. There is a two-fold reason for their activity. None of them but what contemplates the purchase of a home, and he does not desire to face wholesale taxes. Neither does he want to pay any higher rent than he is now being charged. He realizes that if his landlord is compelled to pay higher taxes this additional expense will have to be paid by someone, and that "someone" is the man who rents. One renter was heard to express himself to the effect that he was not particularly interested in the city election, for he was a renter. His question was met with the question, "Who pays the freight on your groceries?" The man very readily saw the point and registered.

The question, of "Who pays the freight?" sums the situation up in a nutshell. For years the people were deluded into believing that the consumer did not pay the tariff, but all that is changed now, and the working man—the renter, in other words—now knows that he is the fellow who in the end must pay the fiddler for the music charged up to his landlord and enjoyed by the city officers.

There are yet two days left in which to register. That a large number have not yet registered is evidenced by the fact that the registration falls short of that of last year, when in fact it should be far ahead of it. The greatest falling off is in the Second and Third wards. Every effort should be made to get this vote out. IF YOU ARE NOT REGISTERED YOU CANNOT VOTE. The city election is going to be one of the most interesting ever held in the city. Big questions will have to be decided. Every voter has his interests at stake, and if he fails to register he is contributing to his own loss. Friday night at 6 o'clock the books will close, and with them will close the last chance for you to vote, if you have not registered. Do not put it off until the last moment—you may forget it then. Go to the city hall NOW and get your name on the registration list.

FEAR DEFEAT OF SANDERSON

HIS BACKERS ARE BEGINNING TO HAVE COLD FEET

MAYOR SAYS THAT HE WILL STICK

Believes He Can Be Elected and Will Remain in the Race to the End

It is being quietly rumored that some of the men who have been backing Sanderson for mayor are casting about for better material, for they are beginning to recognize the fact that his strength with the people is not what they thought it was. It has even been hinted that when the show-down comes Sanderson would not be a candidate, though he stated yesterday that he was sure to be elected. However, it is a poor sport that will not bet on his own game, and Sanderson is strongly of the opinion that the mayorality is purely his and his only. That is where he has lost out. He has forgotten too long that there are others interested in the affairs of the city besides himself, and in pursuing his course of running things with a high hand he has been digging his own grave, which is already half completed.

Little attention is being paid to the candidate that will be the opponent of the present mayor, for the reason that every effort is put forth to get every voter registered. That is the important factor in the fight that is to come. And that there is going to be a fight that will make this old town ring is certain. The taxpayers of the city are being stirred up and when the campaign is on there will be some interesting questions that will have to be answered by Mr. Sanderson, if he is so unfortunate as to be making the race.

He has shown so many weak points that it is not at all unlikely that he will be replaced by stronger timber. The scheme back of his candidacy was a very nice one. His race for mayor was only preliminary to that for county judge. It was supposed that he would have a walk-away for that office. He was to be then boomed for county judge, his great success as an administrator of the affairs of the city being brought forth as an argument why he should be placed at the head of the county government. All these plans were very nice on paper and were drawn up with the fond belief that Mr. Sanderson would have no difficulty in walking away with the first plum. But things are a great deal different to what was expected. Sanderson will not and cannot be elected mayor, and this, of course, eliminates him as a possible factor in the race for county judge. When the real situation was learned as to Sanderson's standing with the voters, a conference was held of the men who made the original plans and the question of bringing up some other candidate was strongly discussed. There was such a diversity of opinion that it was all postponed until after the close of registration, when another canvass would be made and a definite decision reached. Sanderson has heard an inkling of the facts and he is considerably disturbed. He has stated that he will stay in the race whether these men support him or not, but that bluff would be only natural and is not taken seriously by anyone.

ROOSEVELT LEAVES CARO FOR NAPLES

Sigh of Relief Is Breathed Over His Departure

United Press Service. CAIRO, Egypt, March 30.—Ex-President Roosevelt started from here on the 4:45 train this morning for Alexandria. From there he will go to Naples, departing for the latter place sometime today, and arriving there Saturday.

There was no reminder today of the demonstration of yesterday, when the Nationalists, fanned into a frenzy by the speech delivered by the strenuous American, marched before his hotel crying out for a constitution and the downfall of the autocratic form of government. It may be the calm before the storm that will again break out as soon as he is well away from the country. Fear has been expressed that the agitation will bring into closer bonds the malcontents and result in an outbreak more fierce than any heretofore experienced. It is thought that a mistake was made in lining up the ideas and sentiments of the Egyptians alongside of the American standard. This can never be done.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt filled the station and the noted guests were given a cordial farewell. The Khedive sent a magnificent bouquet to Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied with a note conveying his compliments. A large number of the high officials assured Mr. Roosevelt that the demonstration yesterday was only the work of irresponsible agitators. He only laughed at the affair and expressed the hope that there would be no unpleasant aftermath.

INSURGENTS SEEKING RECRUITS THROUGHOUT U. S.

United Press Service.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 30.—Representatives of President Madriz of Nicaragua today sought the aid of the Federal grand jury to prevent Gordon, of Texas, taking a relief expedition to Estrada, the insurgent leader. Gordon is expected to appear before the grand jury to answer the charges, setting up as a defense that this Government has not recognized and does not recognize the Madriz government. It was learned here today that Estrada has sent several Americans to the United States, whose mission it is to gather recruits in this country, and with these he hopes to regain that which he has lost and eventually accomplish the freedom of his country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—The members of the United States Supreme Court have decided that they will not accompany the remains of Justice Brewer to Leavenworth, Kas., for burial, as originally planned, on account of the trip being too long.

MAD RUSH SHAKE HANDS WITH TAFT

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN TURN THEMSELVES INTO MOB

MANY WOMEN FAINTED AND INJURED

Delegations From the Schools of New England Gathered to Meet President

United Press Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—Two thousand men, women and children sightseers stormed the executive offices today, in a wild desire to have the honor of shaking the hand of President Taft. Several women fainted in the crush, a number of children were injured and many narrow escapes from fatalities were reported. The mob broke through the police lines and those in front were jammed through door and windows by those in the rear, who were possessed with an insane desire to crowd further forward. The police had a hard time driving them back, but finally their efforts were successful.

The delegation was made up mostly of high school students and teachers from New England. The whole front yard was filled with six or seven delegations, which had waited for the purpose of hearing the President talk. The police had no difficulty in maintaining order until it was announced that the President was ready to receive them, when a mad rush was made for the building and the crowd resolved itself into a mob.

Order was finally restored and the President shook the hands of over 1800 people, when he was forced to rest awhile, because of other arrangements. One of the surprising features of the whole affair was the manner in which a number of dignified statesmen forced entrance into the executive building through rear windows.

MOUNT AETNA BELCHES FORTH LAVA AND ASHES

United Press Service.

CATANIA, Sicily, March 30.—A foot of ashes from Mount Aetna cover the country and streets of villages twenty miles distant, and the volcano is still very active. The stream of lava is slowly moving towards the city. The people are filled with hysterical fright, although the conformation of the land is such that the stream will probably be diverted and the city saved from destruction. Fresh craters are appearing daily, and it is estimated by Professor Ricco that there are now thirty-five of them active. The vineyards and crops for miles around have been destroyed by ashes.

NAVAL OIL STATIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer today issued an order to establish naval oil stations at Mare Island and Puget Sound. The tanks will have a capacity of 625,000 gallons.
