WILLIAM HARMON CLARK
William Harmon Clark died at his home in this city at 10 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, death being due to pneumonia. The primary cause of his illness was a severe cold contracted while ministering to the wants of a friend who was sick. About a week prior to his being confined to his bed he had remained up all night with him. This was one of the characteristics of Mr. Clark. He was ever ready to seek out and aid those in need, a trait that had won for him the love and affection of a circle that will long miss the cheery companionship and help of a man who by instinct and training was the soul of charity.
About three years ago he came to this city and entered the employ of the Light & Water Company, of which corporation he remained an employe until death claimed him. His death will be a severe loss to the company, for he was possessed of qualities so necessary in the execution of his duties as superintendent of the water department.
The deceased was 41 years of age and is survived by his wife, three girls and two boys, who reside here; his father and mother and one brother, residents of Loveland, Colo., and two sisters, residents of Boulder, Colo. The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon in the Christian Church, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows' lodge of this city, of which he was a member. Interment will be made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.
ELMER MOLLENAUX
Elmer Mollenaux, who has been suffering from a complication of tuberculosis and Bright's disease, died at his home in this city Wednesday. The deceased had been confined to his bed for nearly three weeks and his death had been momentarily expected for many days. For many months prior to his illness he conducted a shoe repair shop on Main street, where he had by his genial personality made many friends. He came here from Loveland, Colo., where he has a number of relatives living. He was a member of the Loveland Lodge No. 36, I. O. O. F. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, under the auspices of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, interment being in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.
SMALL BLAZE; SMALL DAMAGE
The Bamber & Peairs building was the scene of a small blaze on Tuesday which threatened for a few moments to consume the structure and its contents. Mr. Peairs had placed a can of oil on the stove to heat, and left the room for a few moments. During his absence the oil can boiled over in the stove, igniting and sending forth a dense volume of smoke. By quick work he succeeded in removing the hot oil and confining the fire to a small area until he succeeded in putting out the fire. The alarm was sounded, but before the department turned on the water he had the trouble well in hand and its assistance was unnecessary. The building was slightly damaged, mostly from smoke. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

RAISIN DAY APRIL 30
Southern Pacific Agent Mills has gone raisin mad, and all because he wants Klamath Falls to make a record in eating raisins, as it has in so many other instances. The Southern Pacific Company is desirous of making April 30 memorable as California Raisin Day, and has therefore written all of its representatives to do all they can to promote that fact in their various localities. As a result, Mr. Mills talks and thinks raisins continually, and when April 30 comes there will be few homes in the city that will not use raisins in some form or other. "Raisin Bread," is the slogan of the Southern Pacific, but Mr. Mills states that if anyone has any objection to that particular kind of diet, they may make an exception in their case, provided raisins will be partaken of in some other form. All of the hotels will serve raisin bread on that day, and if there is anyone in the city who does not follow their example he had better keep quiet about it. Otherwise Mr. Mills will be making a noise in his direction like raisin's h—
WANTED—EXHIBITS
In anticipation of the visit of the Portland business men's excursion, the Chamber of Commerce wants exhibits for the booth in the court yard.
Real estate men who can supply samples from their stock are requested to do so. Farmers who have samples of vegetables in fair state of preservation are asked to send in samples—samples of grain will be a good advertisement. Housewives who have samples of canned fruit (raised in Klamath County) are urged to send samples properly labeled; they can be returned later to the owners.
We are erecting a tent house in the rear of the booth, where an attendant will be in charge, and all samples will be properly cared for and displayed. Send your stuff to the booth. Do it today if possible. Get it there by Saturday at the latest.
Our town is full of strangers wanting information. Help to tell the good things of Klamath County by sending in your exhibit.
MARK TWAIN LINGERS AT POINT OF DEATH
No Hope Held Out for Recovery of Noted Humorist
REDDING, Conn., April 20.—Mark Twain's condition took a sudden turn for the worse this afternoon. The doctors are now administering oxygen in a desperate effort to save his life. They say he is sinking rapidly, with absolutely no hope for his recovery. His only daughter, who has just returned from her honeymoon trip, is constantly at his bedside.
