

IRRIGABLE LAND TO BE SOLD

NEW RULING BY THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE

Certificate Must Be Procured From County Clerk Showing Land Owner's Stock Subscription

The following from a letter received by the register and receiver of the Lakeview land office has direct bearing on the sale of land in the Klamath project. It shows the method to be followed in getting the question of water rights properly adjusted. This article should be preserved by every land owner under the Klamath project, as it will save him much annoyance and delay whenever he sells any of his land.

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Washington, D. C., April 29, 1910:

"In case of sale by a private owner of part of the irrigable land covered by a subsisting water right application, the vendor, in order to have his water right charges adjusted to the reduced acreage retained by him, will be required to present to you the following evidence:

"First. Certificate of the proper officer having charge of the county records, showing record of a subscription for stock in the local water users' association covering the land in question, and that the land has been duly conveyed by the subscriber at a time subsequent to the recording of the stock subscription.

Second. The certificate of the local water users' association, under corporate seal, to the effect that proof has been presented to the association of the transfer of the land to the person named and that appropriate transfer has been made on its books of the shares of stock appurtenant to said land.

As an alternative, or in case no association has been organized on the project, the vendor should so arrange that his vendee shall promptly make a water right application for the irrigable land within the tract conveyed to him and upon presentation and acceptance of such application appropriate notation of such transfer, with a reference to the new water right application, will be made on the original or prior water right application.

DENVER PAPER PRAISES KLAMATH

Good Publicity Work Done by M. L. Allison While in His Home State

The Denver Republican of recent date has a quarter-column article describing the recent of M. L. Allison of this city to Denver, where he is well known. Mr. Allison secured a very favorable notice for Klamath Falls in the Republican, and told a truthful, conservative story of this city's growth.

Incidentally the Republican reveals the fact that Mr. Allison was three times mayor of Grand Junction, Colo., and for many years was manager of the townsite company that laid out that town, now one of the fine cities of the West.

WANTS TIMBER EXHIBITS

O. A. Stearns of the Chamber of Commerce asks the Herald to request the lumber men of the vicinity to bring samples of the timber products of the county to the Chamber for the inspection of visitors.

L. M. Allison returned Sunday night from a trip to Wyoming and Colorado. Mr. Allison reports the expenditure of thousands of dollars in Colorado to save the fruit crop, of which only half was saved. Also that he saw no place he liked better than Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Marjorie Hoagland, whose hotel at Bonanza, the New American, was burned out in the recent fire, has decided not to rebuild the structure. Instead, she will make her home in this city, where she has bought the Oregon House.

J. J. Browne is a recent arrival in Klamath Falls from Spokane. He is interested in getting located where the climate is suitable for his health. So far he is much improved with this country.

E. C. Jackson of Riverside, Cal., is a recent arrival in the city. He is largely interested in the climate on account of his health, and is considering the advisability of engaging in business here.

J. A. McReynolds is on a shopping trip to this city from Spring Lake. Spring Lake people are in need of straw hats at this season of the year, and Mr. McReynolds is taking out a quantity.

WHY?

When plutocrats and millionaires into our town arrive. We decorate with bunting; to catch their eye we strive;

The flags unfurled float to the breeze from every business stand— Of course, we do just as we please; this we all understand.

But then, it seems so queer and odd on Decoration Day, There is no one to speak an ode; there is no band to play

A stirring march; the big bass drum is mute, not a sound stir— Did we forget this holiday? In me contempt it stirs.

At the courthouse the pole was bare, and at the school house, too. Did we forget the Nation's dead? I fear it must be true.

The men who backed the stars and stripes, amid the battle fray Are forgotten! Has business strife killed Decoration Day?

Our mayor the proclamation had forgotten to issue; It was sure not bad intention, but this notice is due.

But when old comrades marched in line, a just tribute to pay To comrades dead, young men unkind ridiculed by the way.

But as I said a while ago, when big men come to town (By wealth and coin we estimate manhood in this small town), We decorate, and all are stirred. By heart we learn a speech;

And everywhere flags are unfurled. This should a lesson teach. A COMRADE.
