WHAT NEW BLOOD HAS BEEN DOING

GREAT CHANGES THAT HAVE OCCURRED IN ONE YEAR

Building a Structure on a Foundation Laid by the Pioneers of the County

A year ago Tuesday there was celebrated in this city the arrival of the railroad. It was an event worthy of the success that crowned the efforts of the men who had in charge the management of that day. It marked the opening of the door on a new era for this city. The predictions of the day have been fulfilled to overflowing, enough having already been accomplished to show the people of the city and the Pacific Coast that Klamath Falls is destined to be the great inland city of Oregon.

During the past year great strides have been made in the way of improvements in business and residence property. These improvements have not been confined to the city, but have extended throughout the county until there remains hardly an acre of land under the first unit of the Klamath project that is uncultivated. The greatest change, however, has occurred within the city limits. But great as these have been they are infinitesimal to those that are to take place during the next twelve months.

The great sewer system, that is to change the sanitary conditions of the city, will be completed. There will have been laid many miles of hard surfaced pavements. The additions to the city will have been improved by the planting of trees, the laying of cement sidewalks, the extension of water and sewer mains and the erection of many beautiful homes. The business section will be transformed by the erection of many new business blocks, included in which will be the Odd Fellows' building, Willits block, the new hotel at the corner of Third and Main streets and another at the corner of Esplanade and Main, the Melhase block opposite the old courthouse site, the erection of the home of the Federal National bank, the commencement of work on the new courthouse and city hall, and many other structures of equal importance.

Perhaps the greatest of all will be the completion of the main line of railroad of the Southern Pacific and the entrance into this city of the Oregon Trunk. The probable commencement of work on the Modoc Northern, and the announcement of the construction to this city of another transcontinental railroad. Accompanying these huge enterprises will be the commencement of work on the Upper project, either by the government or private capital and the beginning of the reclamation of the marsh lands by the government and private companies.

While the past year has been one of importance in the development of this city and county, it is as nothing when compared to what is coming during the next twelve months. The value of property will again double and the men of today who think property is too high will look back with regret that they did not purchase at this time. History will only repeat itself as it has done every year for the past five. The time is at hand when pessimism should be interred and optimism placed on its rightful throne. The knocker should enshroud his hammer in mourning and lay it to eternal rest. The day of the booster is at hand—not because the city demands his services to make it grow, but simply to make pleasant the labors of the men who are working night and day to erect the superstructure of a great city on the foundation laid years ago by the pioneers who blazed the way for the new blood that is today bringing about this great transformation.

HAWLEY'S APPEAL WAS USELESS

CONGRESS APPROPRIATES BUT $3,000 FOR THIS YEAR

America's Greatest Scenic Wonder Must Await Development of the Creeks of the East

Poor Crater Lake! The gem of the American continent was handed out the paltry sum of $3,000 this year by the government. Out of this must be paid the salary of the superintendent, the ranger and other incidental expenses. The roads must be constructed, the buildings completed, the trail improved and improvements made that will require ten times the amount appropriated. Uncle Sam is too poor to fritter away money on Crater lake when such mighty streams as Podunk creek needs deepening and widening in order to float the mighty fleet of rowboats that have been awaiting the improvements to permit their being launched on the bosom of that noble waterway. The following dispatch from Washington contains the report of the result of the efforts of the Oregon delegation to secure an adequate appropriation for Crater Lake:

"Until the state of the Federal treasury is such that rigid economy is no longer an absolute necessity, there is little prospect that liberal appropriations can be secured for the improvement of the national parks of the West.

"This season, while every effort is being made to economize, the parks are being slighted, and only enough money is being allowed, as a rule, to maintain and patrol parks already created. The Crater Lake park, along with others, is being slighted, for the sundry civil bill carries only $3,000, where $25,000 could easily be expended in the next year to good advantage.

"While the sundry civil bill was before the house, Representative Hawley made a brief appeal for an increase of this appropriation, but none was granted. Mr. Hawley, nevertheless, improved his opportunity to advertise the Crater Lake park, and to place on record data that will be available whenever Congress is in a more liberal mood.

"In the course of his appeal for an increased appropriation, he said:

"This appropriation ought to be materially increased. For many years numbers of people have visited this place which sublimely discloses the craftsmanship of the Creator, and in recent years many have camped for a time within its confines. While some of the places of interest have been made accessible, a great many are approachable only with great difficulty. Crater Lake is a large body of water situated within the crater of an extinct volcano, and with the surrounding country is a scene of great magnificence and beauty.

"If it were located in the Alps of Switzerland, instead of the Alps of Oregon, it would have a world-wide fame. The lake and mountain scenery with which it is associated attracts a constantly increasing number of visitors, and there is a steadily growing demand that the means of access be made to correspond with the needs of travel. The present small annual appropriation provides for little more than the cost of superintendence and protection.

"Recently the Southern Pacific railroad has constructed a line from Weed to Klamath Falls, and is extending this line northward into what is understood to be the main line of its road from San Francisco to Portland. This line will run close to the park. There is active construction of additional railroad facilities in that portion of the state. This and the fact that the legislature recently appropriated a large sum for the construction of roads to the park is indicative of the interest in the place and emphasizes the necessity for the construction of an adequate system of roads and trails and of safe bridges. For these purposes an additional appropriation will be asked for of this congress."

IDEAL LOCATION FOR HATCHERY

SPRING CREEK RECEIVED THE ENDORSEMENT OF STEVENSON

THE STATE HAS ABOUT $30,000.00

Which Can Be Used for the Hatchery as Soon as the Law Is Amended to Permit Its Use

State Fish Commissioner R. O. Stevenson and Roy Brammer, a deputy, who have been making a tour of inspection of the state, were in town Tuesday, and with Alva Lewis, the deputy at this place, took a trip to Bird Island. Mr. Stevenson and his deputy are traveling by automobile. Leaving The Dalles, they came by the way of Burns and Lakeview, and from here they will drive to Ashland, on their way back to Eugene and Forest Grove.

The commissioner states that he thinks Spring creek, below the rapids, is an ideal place for a hatchery, and that he will do all he can to have one placed at that point. He says there is some $30,000 in the treasury now that could be used for that purpose, if he had the power to do so, but he says the law is defective, and that until it is changed he is powerless to do anything. He is quite sure, however, that this will be remedied at the next session of the legislature.

He advised Mr. Lewis to go right ahead on the proposition, and secure forty acres from the government as the best location is on government land, and that when the defect in the law is made right they will have plenty of means to build and equip the hatchery.

In regard to screening the ditches and canals, Mr. Stevenson says it can be done; that screens one-half inch apart can be set at such an angle that it will allow tules and most of the debris to pass through, yet act as almost a solid wall to the fish. He said that it might require some attention from the headgate tender.

Mr. Stevenson was much pleased with his trip and what he had seen, and left for Ashland this morning with a good impression of this country in his mind.

TO BE HUNDRED AND SIXTY FEET LONG

CRATER LAKE COMPANY PREPARES FOR BIG BUSINESS

Work Was Commenced on It This Morning, and Will Be Rushed to Completion

Work on what will be the first big wharf in the county was begun Friday by M. R. Doty, the contract having been awarded to him by the Crater Lake company, through its manager, Colonel Wilkins. The wharf is to be built on piling, and will be 160 feet long and 16 feet wide, and will extend out into the lake its entire length. It will be so constructed that the Steamer Klamath, or such other craft that may have the privilege of its use, may make a landing on either side. The work is to be rushed, and Mr. Doty believes that he will have it ready for use within a couple of weeks.

The construction of this dock is only another step taken by the Crater Lake company looking toward the handling of the tourist travel to and from that famous scenic wonder this year. It is beginning to dawn on some of the Doubting Thomases that this company is to be master of a situation that will make it one of the best paying institutions in this part of the state.

Extensive plans for the handling of the travel this year have been in the course of preparation for some time, but nothing was said about them, for, as Colonel Wilkins expressed it, "we do not want it to have the appearance of hot air. We are just going ahead with our work, and as our plans are developed the public will see for itself."

OLIVER SHIDLER

Was born in the state of Indiana, Clay county, August 15, 1856; died in Klamath Falls, Oregon, June 13, 1910, at 5 o'clock in the morning, of consumption. He was married to Miss Ada Frasier of Marshalltown, Iowa, at Portland, Oregon, March 25, 1873. To this union have been born four children, two boys and two girls. One girl and one boy have preceded him to the better land. He came to Oregon about twenty years ago and settled at Salmon River, near Portland. He was a successful farmer for a long time, but on the account of failing health had to give up his work and soon went through with almost everything that he had. With his family he came to Klamath Falls about two years ago, thinking that the climate and the higher altitude might be of benefit to his health; but in this he was disappointed, and gradually grew worse, and most of the time was confined to his bed, a constant sufferer, until the end came and relieved him of his sufferings.

He leaves a wife, two children, a girl 7 years old, and a boy, eleven years old, and three brothers to mourn his loss. He was a loving and devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father, an honest, upright, moral man; a good, worthy citizen. He was not a member of any lodge nor of any church, but was a firm believer in the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal savior, and when the end came he was ready to go. During his long period of sickness he was never heard to murmur nor complain. He bore his sufferings with Christian fortitude and patience. He was conscious until the last, and made all preparations for his funeral and burial, and then said goodbye to his family, and with a triumphant smile on his face he fell asleep in Jesus and his soul took its flight to be forever with the Lord.

OFFICIAL DECORATOR OF ENCAMPMENT IS APPOINTED

D. E. Burrell was advised Tuesday that Harry Perkins has been selected as the official decorator of the socialist encampment. Mr. Perkins was the official decorator of the Alaska-Yukon exposition, and is recognized as being one of the best on the coast. He will bring with him about $4,000 worth of material for use in decorating.

O. D. Matthews, a recent arrival from Pullman, Wash., has purchased the property on the corner of Fourth and Pine street, just back of the First National bank. Mr. Matthews is a plumber by trade, and will improve this valuable piece of property. He will probably engage in business here later on. The deal was made through the Home Realty company, this being the second large deal this company has made in the last few days.

A. E. Spaulding of Phoenix, Ariz., a guest of the Home Realty company, has been taking an outing at Spring creek. Mr. Spaulding was so well pleased with this country that he sent for his wife, who will join him here in a few days, and together they will take a few more weeks' outing. It is quite likely that Mr. Spaulding will invest heavily in Klamath county real estate before leaving.
