

CITY COUNCIL DOES BUSINESS

CORNER FIFTH AND WALNUT IS LATEST LOCATION

Again Passes Ordinance for Raising Salaries of Treasurer, Recorder and Attorney

Monday night the regular meeting of the city council was held. One of the important matters disposed of was the question of another site for the city hall. Lots 9 and 10 in block 75, owned by F. H. Mills, were deemed suitable for the purpose, and the City Recorder was instructed to secure an option from the owner. The city owns lot 8 adjoining the two it is proposed to purchase, so that there would be available three lots. The price for which the property has been offered to the city is $4,000.

The following building permits were granted:

To R. H. Spencer to repair his residence, located on lot 4, block 2.

To J. L. Yaden, for the erection of a one and one-half story residence on lot 11, block 2, Hot Springs addition, to cost $1,800.

The following bills were allowed:

R. M. Richardson, $35; O. H. Goodell, $5; N. E. Conner, $12.50.

The ordinance providing for the increase in the salaries of the Treasurer, Recorder and Attorney was passed. This is the second time this had to be done, the former ordinance having been lost. The ordinance adopted last night provides for the following salaries: Treasurer, $300 per annum, payable quarterly; Recorder, $1,200 per annum, payable monthly; Attorney, $1,000 per annum.

An ordinance was introduced and passed to second reading providing for compulsory connection with the main sewer. This is one of the best measures that has been introduced since the city decided on the installation of the sewer system. The ordinance will probably be amended at the next meeting so as to provide for this compulsory connection only where streets are to be paved. It was the approaching paving of Main street that created the necessity for this new measure. There is a considerable amount of property on this thoroughfare that is owned by non-residents, and they have paid no attention to the proposed improvements. If the paving of the street were done before the laterals were laid it would result in serious damage to the pavement, and it is to avoid this that the council decided to take the step it has.

The council instructed the Recorder to advertise for bids for an additional $5,000 worth of sewer bonds. These bonds have already been authorized, the people having voted $45,000 worth of sewer bonds, of which $40,000 had been sold. The amount realized from these bonds will probably be devoted to the extension of the Main street sewer from its present terminus at the Klamath Development company's building to the bath house, where connection will be made with the sewer system that it is proposed to install in the Hot Springs addition.

CIVIL ENGINEERS BELIEVED LOST IN MOJAVE DESERT

No Trace of Them Has Been Found Since Last Friday

BAKERSFIELD, June 21.—A party of seven engineers from Berkeley is believed to have perished on the Mojave desert. The men were last seen Friday, and no trace of them has since been found. A posse is being organized to go in search of them. Charles S. Davidson, leader of the party, died in Death's Valley last Saturday. The seven companions buried the body of their leader and then disappeared. Mrs. Norman Stines, wife of one of the party, is coming here to take part in the search for her husband. The desert heat is intense now and the work of the rescue party is extremely hazardous.

ODD FELLOWS BUILDING ASSOCIATION REJECTS BIDS

Advertise for Bids for a Reinforced Concrete Structure

A meeting of the Odd Fellows Building Assn. was held Monday evening, at which all of the bids submitted for the erection of the Odd Fellows' temple at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, were considered. After going into the matter thoroughly it was decided to reject all of the bids submitted, for the reason that it was believed a reinforced concrete structure that would be fireproof could be erected at a cost not in excess of the price asked for a brick building. In accordance with the view, it was decided to re-advertise for bids for a re-inforced building.

The association should decide to erect a concrete structure it would be the first in the city. It would be what is generally known as a Class

A building, all of the walls and floors being of concrete. The insurance rate on such a building is the very lowest and it would play an important part in the securing of tenants for the storerooms and offices.

MAN AND WOMAN ACCUSED OF FIENDISH MURDER

Charged With Murdering Man and Placing Body in Trunk

PORTLAND, June 21.—The police today arrested Jesse B. Webb and Mrs. William Johnson on suspicion of murdering William A. Johnson in a room in the Grand Central hotel yesterday. Johnson's body was crammed into a trunk and hauled to the depot preparatory to its shipment to Puyallup, Wash. Blood leaking from the trunk while it was waiting shipment from the depot revealed the murder.

Johnson and Webb came to the hotel from Seattle Sunday. Johnson had considerable money as the result of the sale of his ranch. The woman under arrest posed as Johnson's wife. Yesterday Webb and the Johnson woman left the hotel and registered at a rooming house, where they were arrested this morning after an all-night auto ride. The woman's hand was badly cut and she had on her person $1,900. They both deny their guilt.

Roof Garden Wedding

A unique wedding was celebrated last night on the roof of the Laguna Vista Apartments. In a picturesque setting of pink and lavender sweet peas, under the subdued lights of many colored lanterns, Miss Alice Applegate and Claus E. Pell were married at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Henry K. Sanborn of the Brooklyn Presbyterian church.

The affair was picturesque in the extreme. The roof was hung in wreaths of huckleberry and the bride stood amid a bower of pink sweet peas.

She wore an exquisite pearl messaline gown trimmed in hand-made embroidery.

Only relatives were present at the pretty ceremony, after which a supper and dance followed. The couple left this morning for Del Monte.

Mrs. Pell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Applegate, pioneers of Klamath county, who have their winter home in this city.

E. P. MORGAN IS MISSING

E. P. Morgan, who is well known in this city, having been prominently identified with the real estate business, has mysteriously disappeared from his home in San Francisco. According to one of the papers of the Bay City, Mr. Morgan borrowed $200 from his brother-in-law. When the latter's wife stopped him on the street a short time ago and suggested the idea of his repaying the amount, it so upset Mr. Morgan's ethical equilibrium that he forgot everything else in addition to the loan and is today a wanderer from home and fire-side. There are a number of people in this city who will no doubt be surprised that he should forget such a little matter as the repayment of a loan of $200.

THE LAMENT OF THE PINES

Across the wind-swept forest sides Of Cascade canyons deep and wide Rose this lament from the sighing pines:

"Oh, McLaughlin, hoary mount of snow,

Dost hear the axemen's cruel blow? Must we abide, whilst drones supine Wage wordy war or draw a plan To halt the greedy gourmand clan Who raze our glen, glean our pride, Nor heed the cry of future race, But gang their heedless, reckless pace?"

All but gold do they deride. Oh, mount of snow, to heaven plead, Echo this message of our need."

ONE LONG ROUND OF KICKING PLANS ARE NEARLY COMPLETED

HOG COMBINE GETS MORE IDEAS ABOUT NEWSPAPER BUSINESS

Their Editor Tells Them Some Plain Facts and Then Calls Attention to His Contract

It was a merry old time that the Hog Combine publishing company had Monday afternoon. A meeting of the directors of the institution was held and it was a glum bunch of financiers and would-be publishers and editors that gathered together. When they decided to obey the orders of their master and start the sheet they did so gladly. Why, it was an easy matter to run a paper. Any fool could do it. Haven't the people of the city had proof of that fact for some time? The publishers of the two papers that had been working so hard for the good of the town and their own personal loss were fools, and everyone knew it; the Hog Combine was sure of it when they refused to do the bidding of the gang that wanted everything for nothing, and the people pay the bill. So the paper was started. It was a happy crowd that day. It was a lucky thing for them that they had their laugh first. If they had waited for it until the Herald quit business—well, they would be out their laugh in addition to the thousands of dollars they have poured into the Chronicle to keep it alive.

The meeting held yesterday afternoon was for the purpose of devising ways and means for stemming the tide. It has been a losing game from start to date, and getting worse. And that was the reason for the holding of the meeting yesterday afternoon. When the dignitaries gathered together they looked at one another as if to say, "Durn you, you got me into this, and you're to blame." Then they got down to business. The books were dragged to the front, heavy from their load of losses, and it was discovered that their pet was losing in the neighborhood of between $500 and $600 a month. Well, one poor fellow who furnished the money to buy the Herald, once a pretty, fell backward. All of the stockholders are not meeting the assessments. So it is up to the few, and that few feel the burden.

A certain individual named Lincoln was called on the carpet, and he was whipped around the ring; but he was not worrying. Every one in a while he was seen to fondle lovingly a piece of paper he had in his inside pocket; it was his nine-months' contract. And that was where the shoe pinched the directors.

This assessment business is getting to be such an old, old story that they are getting tired of it. And here was another call for money. When was this old thing to get on its feet? In addition to the money for the payment of running expenses of the office the payments on the plant were due and no money in the treasury to meet them. That meant another assessment for that. It certainly looked rosy—not.

After spending most of the afternoon in a futile effort to run the sheet on a less expensive scale and of trying to convince Lincoln that he must do it, that gentleman informed them that they could go to; that he was managing that part of the business; that if they did not like his style they could pay him his salary just the same, and he would turn the paper over to them or anyone else; but he had a contract. Ah, the contract! That was the trouble.

Space will not permit the printing of even a small portion of what was said. And if it did, then Uncle Sam would step in and haul someone off for circulating profanity through the mails.

CHASTAIN, LANGELL & CO. RETIRES

The firm of Chastain Langell & Co. has announced its retirement from the grocery business, the doors being closed Friday evening. The stock of the firm will be taken over by the other grocery firms of the city. This announcement will come as a great surprise to the many friends of this firm in the city. The high character of the members of the firm as well as the uniformly courteous treatment always accorded the patrons had won for it the warmest feeling of friendship among all classes, and its retirement will cause more than a passing feeling of sincere regret.

E. Ezell, proprietor of what was known as the Summers ranch, was in the city Thursday on business. Since assuming possession of the property Mr. Ezell has changed the method of irrigating the crops materially. New ditches have been laid out and a perfect system of drainage started. He states that it will take time to perfect his plans for the system that is to irrigate the lands, but that he believes when it is completed it will be one of the best that can be devised.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE HAVE RECEIVED TROPHIES

The Contest for Goddess of Liberty Will Close on Tuesday, June the 28th

The Fourth of July committee has received ten handsome prize cups that are to be awarded as trophies for the principal events on July 4th and 5th. They have been placed on exhibition in Heitkemper's and have already attracted much attention. Six of the events for which the cups will be given as prizes have already been selected. They are:

First, the best fraternal float, for which all of the fraternal organizations in the city will be expected to compete. This cup is valued at $35. Under the rules of award it will become the property of the fraternal society that wins three times in succession. Already a number of the societies have announced that they will compete, and it is expected that the rivalry in this field will be very keen. Second, the best Commercial float, to be competed for by the business houses of the city. The entries in this competition will undoubtedly be the greatest, as nearly every one of the leading stores of the city has placed orders for floats. The value of this cup is $35.

Third, the Motor Boat contest. This will arouse considerable rivalry between the owners of launches in the city and it is stated that a number of wagers have already been made.

Fourth, the best make-up in the Callithumpian parade.

Fifth, the best lady's turnout.

Sixth, the best horse.

The other selections will be made within a few days, and ample time will be given for preparation.

Work on the dance pavilion, which is to be located in the courthouse yard, will commence tomorrow.

Only one concession has been awarded for the Fourth, that of soft drinks. Edmun Gowen was the successful applicant.

The $50 saddle which is to be offered as a prize to the best broncho rider was placed on exhibition today in the show window of the K K K store.

RENO WILL BUILD THE ARENA

GOVERNOR OF NEVADA SAYS HE WILL NOT INTERFERE

And Pay the Thousand Dollar License That Is Demanded by the Municipality

RENO, Nev., June 21.—Tex Rickards announced today that he has selected the city of Reno as the place for the big fight between Jeffries and Johnson. This announcement was made after he considered the claims and offers of Goldfield and the city chosen. The Reno merchants have announced that they will build the arena and pay the $1,000 demanded by the municipal ordinance.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 21.

Governor Denver A. Dickinson of Nevada, who is here today, declared positively that he would not interfere with nor attempt to stop the big fight between Jeffries and Johnson. This settles definitely the question of State interference and assures the pulling off of the mill between the two big ones.

I have a number of pretty and appropriate things for spring and summer in jewelry.
