Hawley Leads by a Safe Majority—Results Will Not Be Changed by Future Returns

PORTLAND, Sept. 26.—Jay Bowerman has issued a statement declaring that he would support all the nominees on the republican ticket. E. Hoffer, Grant B. Dimick and Albert Abraham, the defeated candidates, have likewise promised to support Bowerman and the ticket. It is certain that Oswald West has won the democratic gubernatorial nomination, but much interest was taken in the primaries. This afternoon Bowerman's lead was estimated at 4,300. Hawley's lead will probably be 2,500. Ellis 1,100, Crawford 10,000. Hawley's lead will probably not be changed by later returns.

ARMY OFFICERS ARE PLEASED

HAVE PLEASANT TRIP THROUGH THE RESERVATION

Visit the Old Stamping Ground of Colonel Jackson, Who Fought the Modoc Years Ago

Captain O. C. Applegate and B. St. Geo. Bishop returned from the Klamath Indian reservation last Friday, where they had been with General Maus, General Finzer and Colonel Jackson, who were looking over the Klamath reservation and the old fort and grounds. The officers were delighted with the treatment they received while at the Agency and Fort Klamath, and were very favorably impressed with the country.

Captain Applegate and Colonel Jackson were familiar with every foot of the ground, and were able to point out all the places which had been the scene of military maneuvers during the troublous times of the Modoc and other Indian wars, and which were used by the soldiers stationed at the fort to perfect them in the military tactics, and which the officers thought were as suitable today for that purpose as they were years ago.

The army officers returned to Portland by way of Medford, while Captain Applegate and Mr. Bishop returned to this city.

General Maus is in command of the Department of the Columbia of the United States army, while Colonel Jackson is a retired United States army officer who is now inspector of the Oregon militia. General Finzer is adjutant general of the state troops.

SIDEWALKS AND TREES BEING REMOVED

Curbing Will Then Be Laid and the Grading Begun—Paving Will Be Laid Soon Afterward

Many of the trees which have been growing on Main street are in the line of the curbing or else in the street itself and will have to be removed before the pavement can be laid. Workmen are busy already removing the trees and cutting off or tearing up the sidewalks, getting the highways in shape for the curbing and grading, which will be done as soon as the streets are in readiness.

The Warren Construction company is ready to begin work as soon as the city has the streets in readiness, and it is believed that the construction of the paving will be begun within the next few days.

A number of hills will have to be made at several places on the south side of Main street and it may be necessary to construct retaining walls to hold the curbing and sidewalks. When this is done the work of putting in the curbing and the grading will be commenced in earnest.

The contract calls for the completion of the work by December 15.

PHYSICIANS SAY CHAVEZ WILL SURVIVE

Aeroplane Will Probably Get Prize of $10,000—Not Permitted to Tell of His Flight

DOMODOSSOLA, Italy, Sept. 24.—Chavez, who fell 3,000 feet with his aeroplane yesterday, awoke cheerful this morning, and the attending physician, Dr. Carl, announced that his condition was satisfactory, and that he probably would live.

The Italian Aviation society, which offered the $20,000 prize, is planning to erect monuments at the starting and ending of Chavez' flight. They probably will give Chavez $10,000.

The report that Pallet had also aviated the Alps was due to the fact that he arrived at Stressa on the train and it was assumed that he had aeroplaned there.

Chavez tried to tell the story of his flight, but the physician stopped him.

MUZZLE OF BIG GUN BURSTS

ACCIDENT TO 12-INCH RIFLE ENDANGERS CREW

Sailors on Battleship Georgia Narrowly Escape Death From an Explosion

ABOARD BATTLESHIP GEORGIA (by Wireless)—Portsmouth, Va., Sept. 23.—The muzzle of one of the 12-inch starboard guns in the forward turret of the battleship Georgia burst this morning, and although a number of the crew were stunned, none was killed. The turret's construction protected the crew, and averted what might have been a terrible disaster. The wind drove the fumes of the burning powder into the turret, but all of the men were rescued.

STORY OF BURIED TREASURE TOO MUCH FOR GUARD HONOR

Private Soldier and Negro Prisoner Thought to Have Fled to Dig Up Riches

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—That a tale of buried treasure in the Philippines induced Private F. W. Brooks of the United States hospital corps to liberate William Spillman, the negro trooper under life sentence for the killing of a fellow soldier, and that both men are in hiding somewhere about the city, awaiting their chance to make their way to the islands and dig up the gold, is the theory now advanced to explain the disappearance of the prisoner patient and his guard from the general hospital at the Presidio.

It is said by soldiers who knew Spillman before he was brought back from the islands to answer for the crime committed there that he boasted of knowing the whereabouts of a treasure in plate and money, buried by a Spanish family during the Philippine insurrection prior to the American occupation of the islands. Spillman was a member of troop B, Tenth cavalry, when stationed at Camp Wallace, L. A., Union province. It is said that the quarrel which led to the killing of his fellow trooper at the camp arose over the treasure, which they were planning to recover.

Brooks and Spillman knew each other in the islands, and when the negro was sent home for examination as to his sanity, Brooks came on the same transport. It is supposed the negro revealed to him the story of the treasure and lured him with promises of sharing the spoils into opening a way to liberty when chance made Spillman the negro's custodian at the hospital.

According to the report of the treasure, credited to Spillman, it was dug up by several Chinese after the Spanish family had hidden it, and conveyed into the interior, where it was again buried. It is the location of this spot which Spillman claimed to know.

SEPTIC TANK IS COMPLETED FIGHT DUEL WITH PISTOLS

FINISHING COAT BEING PUT ON TODAY

Work Would Have Been Commenced on the Sump, But There Is No Sand Available

The concrete work on the septic tank was completed Thursday and this morning the workmen are putting on the finishing coat on the top. The manholes are in place and everything was in readiness to go to work on the sump, but there was no sand available to do the work with, so the concrete mixer was moved to the Bristol building, where it will be put to work on that structure.

The water had been pumped out of the sump and work would have been begun this morning, but nothing will be done with that for several days now.

PEPPERED FROM CHEST TO ANKLE

CLARENCE ARDEN IS SEVERELY INJURED

Boys Had Been Shooting at Blackbirds and Fired in the Direction of Savidge's Mill

Clarence Arden was severely wounded Saturday by a charge of shot fired by one of a party of small boys who were hunting near the Savidge mill on Sixth street.

Arden, who is tall and thin, at the mill, about 12:30 and had just stepped from the door of the engine room after he had eaten his lunch. He noticed several boys near the mill, one of whom had some game. Suddenly he felt something strike him, and immediately afterwards heard the report of a gun.

As soon as it was discovered that he had been wounded he was taken to Dr. Hamilton's office, where it was found that the charge of shot had struck him in the left side and his body was peppered from his collarbone to his ankles. Many of the shot had pierced his arm and his body and legs were filled with the pellets. Dr. Hamilton operated on him Saturday afternoon.

The boys who were in the party were Kenneth Murray, Mardin Hilton, Powell Hilton, Mahlen Landess, Tom Arnett and Clarence Montgomery.

Kenneth Murray was unloading his gun when it was accidentally discharged. Kenneth is 14 years old.

It should be against the law for a boy to handle a gun until he is taught how to use one, and any person firing a shot in the direction of a building of any kind should be severely punished.

Mr. Arden is 25 years old, and came here from Sacramento six months ago. He lived for two years in the California town, and resided at 815 Eighth street while there. His mother is with him here.

STEAMER KLAMATH MAKES REGULAR RUN MONDAY

Will Not Be Laid Up for the Winter as Was Reported—Injury Was Only Temporary

The steamer Klamath is not laid up for the winter, as was reported several days ago, but resumed its regular run Monday.

Some time ago one of the blades of the propeller was broken off, and this necessitated the removal of the opposite blade. The running of the steamer with a two-bladed propeller jarred the boat so much that on the way down from the Agency landing two bolts in the hanger of the wheel became loosened, which necessitated the running of the boat very slowly, and when the steamer arrived at Eagle Ridge the passengers were transferred to the launch at that place and brought back to this city. The Klamath, however, came to its dock under its own steam. A new propeller has been secured and was put in.

The Klamath is one of the best boats on the waters in this part of the state, and the thousands of persons who have had the pleasure of riding on the vessel will be pleased to learn that the runs will be made to Upper Lake points as usual.

They started for the lake the next morning and arrived home at 9:20 Sunday evening. They said they couldn't have had a better time.

BOTH MEN ARE KILLED IN THE CONFLICT

Wives Encourage Their Husbands in Quarrel Which Makes Each of Them a Widow

PELHAM, Ga., Sept. 23.—With their wives encouraging them, Chas. Tate and John Marchant, two farmers, fought a duel with pistols and both were killed. Tate's two-month-old bride was the widow of Marchant's brother. Marchant opposed the marriage, and the feeling that was aroused was very bitter. The wives of the two men met Monday and quarreled, and agreed that their husbands should fight. Wednesday the two met in the road, and Marchant dared Tate to "shoot it out." Tate accepted the challenge and both fired at each other several times, and both finally fell pierced by bullets.

REMAINS ARE EATEN BY ACID

CORPSE OF YOUNG GIRL IS DISCOVERED

Believed to Be That of Eva Swan, a Paso Robles School Teacher—Police Seeking Clues

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The coroner today took charge of the body which was dug up from the basement of the Eureka street house last night. Detectives are working on the case, endeavoring to positively identify the remains. The body is believed to be that of Eva Swan, and her friends will be summoned to view the acciden body and endeavor to identify it beyond doubt.

Her former home was at Paso Robles, where she taught school, and her friends there have been summoned and are expected to arrive today.

Dr. Grant is being held at the police station here on suspicion, and he is being sweated. The nurse, Marie Messersmith, is being held, and is also being questioned by the officers. The police are seeking Willie Sanch, the doctor's former assistant, who is alleged to have told Ben Gordon the story of the operation, death and burial. He has disappeared, and is being sought.

A trunk was taken some weeks ago to the Eureka street house, and it is alleged that bloodstains and wisps of hair, which have been sent to a chemist for analysis, have been found. The police are trying to prove that the trunk belonged to Dr. Grant, and it is believed that the body was taken to the house in the trunk. An autopsy is to be held to determine the cause of the death. The report from the autopsy is expected soon.
