

MAKE HOUSEWORK A SCIENCE

COURSES OF STUDY BEING MADE PRACTICAL

Demand for Instruction in Public Schools Gives Good Positions to Graduates of O. A. C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 8.—Excellent instructional appointments in Oregon public schools have been secured by nine young women graduates of the department of domestic science and art at the Oregon Agricultural college of last June, as a result of the general awakening to the immediate need of special training for the girls who will be the housekeepers of the next generation.

Miss Hedwig S. Bleg of Hillsdale, O. A. C., '10, is the domestic science instructor at Lincoln High School, Portland, where a four-year course will now be given, including two years of cooking and two of sewing. The new course is to prepare the high school girls to meet intelligently the ordinary problems of home life after graduation, as well as to give a good foundation to those who may wish to take college work afterward to become domestic science teachers.

In the trade school at Portland the position of instructor of domestic science and art has been given to Miss Ruth Jeanette Hess of that city, who graduated in Miss Bleg's class. The instruction in sewing in the Salem public schools for this year is Miss Florence Alva Atken of Portland, another of Miss Bleg's classmates. Miss Alvild Romtved of Toledo, of the same class, has been retained by the O. A. C. domestic science school as an assistant in the faculty.

Four other members of last June's senior domestic science class are teaching in Oregon schools, as follows: Miss Mabel Rae Snow of Boise, Idaho, near Astoria; Miss Bessie Florence Parsons in a school near her home in Albany; Laura E. Jackson of Lorane, in the high school of her home town, and Miss Myrtle Lay at home, in the Molalla schools.

Arthur L. Bradley, formerly of Portland, who was employed in the testing department of the general electric works at Schenectady, N. Y., after graduating from the Oregon Agricultural college in '06, is now engaged in the installation of the new electric light plant at Mill City, Ore. .ckw1j-145nc41om ETAOINUNN

OIL CARS ARE TO FOLLOW SOON

WILL ARRIVE HERE THE LAST OF THE WEEK

Tank Wagon Will Supply Customers Before Many Days—Located on Sixth Street

It will not be long before the distribution of oil and gasoline in bulk will be made in Klamath Falls, for the new tanks which the Standard Oil company is to erect here will arrive the last of this week, and will be at once placed in position. The cars of oil will follow soon afterwards, and with them will come the tank wagon, which is to be used in distributing oil to the patrons.

The two tanks which have been shipped and are now on the way, are 10 feet 6 inches in diameter and 20 feet long. They will hold between 12,500 and 13,000 gallons of coal oil and gasoline, and this will enable those who use these materials to be assured of an abundant supply.

The special agent for the Standard Oil company will be here the last of this week, and make arrangements for the disposition of the oil and gasoline which his company will furnish.

The establishment of tanks in this city means much to Klamath Falls, as an abundant supply of coal oil and gasoline is now assured, and being sent in bulk it can probably be sold at a much less rate than when it was sent here in five-gallon cans.

CULTIVATE HAPPINESS

No matter what his vocation or condition in life may be, everyone owes it to himself and to the world to form a habit of being just as happy as he can, says Orison Swett Marden in Success magazine. Happiness means harmony and harmony means health to all bodily functions; it means efficiency. Faculties give out their best when they are normal. To keep happy is, therefore, the best personal economy and surest investment, it insures the greatest possible output of brain and body.

Much natural ability is rendered inefficient because men and women do not know that discord, whether in fear, worry, selfishness, hatred or jealousy, is a health and happiness killer; an efficient blighter. Many men waste more vitality and mental energy in a few minutes of hot temper than would be required in the legitimate running of their business for days.

What would we think of a banker who would open his vaults and throw all his money into the street? But when, in a fit of anger or rage, a man throws open the safety valves of his mind and flings out his energy, his precious life capital, character capital, we think very little about it.

We can make ourselves happy or miserable, comfortable or uncomfortable, according to the emotions which we allow to pass through our minds. Whatever goes through the mind must reappear in the character and physical condition.

HOLDS THE OFFICERS AT BAY

ORDERS GIVEN TO DEPUTIES TO SHOOT TO KILL

John Dietz, the Man Wanted, Is Fearless, and It Is Believed Several Will Be Killed

WINTER, Wis., Oct. 8.—Fifty deputies armed with rifles and dynamite attacked John Dietz' cabin today in an attempt to capture him. They have orders to "shoot to kill, but spare his wife and babies if possible."

It is believed that Dietz will be killed or captured before nightfall. Dietz' son held the deputies at bay for five days.

Dietz is wanted on an indictment growing out of some land litigation. He is notably fearless, and none of the officers were nervous enough to serve the warrant.

Dietz was recently ambushed and his daughter was shot by deputies, and, is dying, he fled to his cabin at Cameron dam, and the deputies surrounded the place. Three have been wounded. Governor Davidson has ordered an investigation.

Dietz has been offered a fair trial by Attorney General Gilbert, but he has refused. The neighborhood is in a most excited state. It is believed there will be much bloodshed before Dietz is taken. Chief Deputy Thorburn said: "I will bring either Dietz or his body in today."

Dietz was wounded in the neck and his son was wounded in the groin. The deputies fired several hundred times. Leslie Dietz dragged his father toward the cabin, and Mrs. Dietz helped them inside. Sheriff Madden thinks it will be necessary to kill the family to get Dietz. The deputies poured several volleys into the cabin, piercing the walls. This afternoon Leslie ran into the barn, returning under the concentrated fire of the deputies. Sheriff Madden thinks that all but Leslie are either dead or wounded.

RADIUM ONLY TWO MILLION AN OUNCE

A Big Drop in the Price of That Very Rare and Most Mysterious of Metals

A recent dispatch from New York informs the world at large that radium is growing cheaper. Sir William Ramsey, in a recent London lecture, stated that the present market value is only $2,100,000 an ounce—a drop of $900,000 from the quotation given out by scientists in January last.

A radium bank has existed for some time in Paris. Last January one was started in London, and similar institutions are to be established in New York and other cities. The cost is enormous. As much as $200 has been charged for the use of 100 milligrams for a single day.

CLEWS TO THE TIMES DYNAMITERS BEING FOLLOWED

One Suspect Is Under Surveillance and Another Is Arrested—Schooner Is Sought

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Three leads from the mass of clews are being followed by the detectives in connection with the hunt for the Times dynamiters. One suspect is under surveillance here and another has been arrested at Yuma. The whereabouts of the schooner Kate is sought. It is believed she aided in the transportation of the dynamite to Los Angeles.

Good Team Work, This

The preacher's evening discourse was dry and long, and the congregation gradually melted away. The sexton tiptoed up to the pulpit and slipped a note under one corner of the Bible. It read:

"When you are through, will you please turn off the lights, lock the door and put the key under the mat?" Everybody's.

Remove Trees on Main Street

KING MANUEL AND FAMILY EXILED

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS CALL ON PORTUGUESE MINISTER

Their Personal Property, However, Will Not Be Confiscated. Are at Gibraltar

LISBON, Oct. 7.—The foreign diplomats virtually recognized the Portuguese republic this morning when they called on the new foreign minister, Dr. Machado. It is announced that King Manuel, Queen Amelie, the Duke of Oporto and Dowager Pia Maria will be exiled. Their personal property, however, will be respected. This is an unexpected concession.

The United Press obtained the first connected account of the royal family's movements, and it shows that King Manuel wanted to stay in Lisbon and fight, but that his advisers forced him to flee. When the palace began to crumble they left by a secret exit and went to Mafra. Queen Amelie and Dowager Pia Maria were then at Cintra, and joined the king at Mafra. The Duke of Oporto remained hidden until Thursday, when he then boarded the royal yacht Amelie, and sailed to Ericeira, near Mafra. King Manuel and the others, whom the students of the Mafra military school were guarding, went to Ericeira. The king went constantly during the trip. Several times he threatened to return, but his mother dissuaded him, and he boarded the yacht at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and sailed. The yacht reached Gibraltar at 11 o'clock last night and the party are the guests of Sir Francis Forester Walker, the governor of Gibraltar.

THE STUDY OF LAW

The study of law is long. Work hard as he may, the lawyer will be studying until he dies. He will be studying human society from its crude beginnings, in its industries, its commerce, its needs, its possibilities, its weaknesses, its great ideals—now lapsing back, now sweeping on—down to the present day. And the present day is as wide as the world, says Ernest Poole in an article entitled "America's Young Men," in Success magazine.

The young man will find much that is perplexing in this study of the law. And long before he has finished his studies—which is to say, long before he dies—he intends to go into politics and apply what he has begun to learn. And this he will find more perplexing still. For the books he has read will be placed upon shelves, and the human interest of the day will clash and clamor around him. At first they will seem chaotic and blind. But year by year, if his mind be keen, he will discern in all these interests two main tides drawing him in opposite ways.

On the one hand, as in his boyhood, wealth will make its claims and offer its great prizes. On the other the mass of the people will make claims and offer prizes too. And though he retains his integrity, his purpose to serve the common good, he will find that in each case he must decide anew for the claims of wealth will often appeal to him as right, and the claims of the mass of the people will often seem to him unwise.

And for many such decisions he will be given little time. For since in less than a hundred years the very warp and woof of human society has changed, tremendous forces now press forward, demanding changes in the law, some so radical and deep that already angry passions rise, years of crisis loom ahead. And the man who will lead must take his stand with firm, quick decision in time when popular feeling runs high, in the thick of election upheavals when it is hard for the mind to rule.

What will be his record? When he has finished all his study—which is to say, when he dies—what pages will he have helped to add to all those ponderous books of law? Will he have worked for himself or for the whole, for the size of the fees or the good of the cause? Not even this man himself can tell.

A GOOD POSITION

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway Telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of railroad and wireless officials, and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.
