

REVOLUTION IN HONDURAS

AMERICAN GUNBOAT SENT TO AMALAPA

Foreigners Are Put in Jail and Their Property Has Been Confiscated. Lives Are in Danger

GUATEMALA, Oct. 8.—Foreigners are fleeing from Amalapa, Honduras. The commandante last night ordered that all the American and English residents be put in jail and their property confiscated. Confinement in jail in that country is equivalent to an execution. The American interests are menaced, and the property controlled by the American colony has been seized.

The British consul at Amalapa fled to San Salvador, and has cabled to England asking that a cruiser be sent. At Amalapa the commandante announces that he will burn the city if the cruiser approaches. He ordered the British representative arrested on a charge of fomenting a revolution. Anarchy prevails, and authorities are not making any attempts to prevent pillaging.

Cry Death to Americans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8.—Private cables to this city say the Americans in Honduras have asked Washington to send a warship. "Death to Taft's dogs" is the slogan in Honduras as the result of American interference in Central America.

Gunboat Is Sent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—At the request of the state department Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop cabled to the commander of the American gunboat Princeton at Acapulco, Mexico, to start immediately for Amalapa to protect the American interests. The action was taken at the request of the Honduras government.

TWO-YEAR-OLD CHILD FALLS INTO A CISTERN

Mother Descends on Rope to Rescue Baby, But Child Is Dead When Taken Out

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Mary Shedlock of Bayonne, N. J., risked her life to rescue her baby, who had fallen into a cistern.

With three women holding the end of a rope Mrs. Shedlock descended to the bottom of the shaft.

Holding the child in her arms she was pulled up. Then she ran a block to a doctor, but the baby was dead. It was drowned in the shallow water in the cistern.

John Shedlock, 2 years old, wandered from home while his mother was busy about the house. It was some time before she missed him. She became alarmed and searched the neighborhood, but failed to find Johnny.

Assisted by three of her women neighbors the search continued, and at last the child's body was found in a cistern in the rear of the house of John Hoover. Mrs. Shedlock seemed to realize at once that her baby was in the well, and tried to jump into the water, but the other three women held her while a rope was brought. They attached this to her waist and then lowered her into the shaft. The woman got the child and both were pulled out. Mrs. Shedlock became hysterical when the doctor said her baby was dead.

MANUEL'S EXTRAVAGANCE HURRIES REVOLUTION

Love for Dancing Girl a Cause of Uprising of People Who Had to Pay the Fiddler

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—One of the secondary causes of the Portuguese revolution is believed here to be a Paris dancing woman.

The siren in the case is Mile Oaby des Lis. Her dancing of the "Jin Itau waltz" won the fancy of the young King Manuel of Portugal. Mile des Lis made a sensation in Berlin and Paris by her Japanese dancing. Manuel, on a pleasure trip to the French capital, saw the girl and promptly went mad over her. He brought her to Lisbon and was seen everywhere in public with her.

This might have done no great harm in his subject's eyes, but he proceeded to heap rich presents upon her, to load her down with jewels and to buy her everything her fickle fancy happened to crave.

Times were hard. People were clamoring for work. Hunger was more than a mere name in Portugal. When starving men and women beheld the king's sweetheart ablaze with diamonds whose price was wrung from the states and whose equivalent in food might have saved many a life, trouble set in.

Members of the bankrupt nation did not enjoy seeing $500,000 worth of jewels taken by a king to a foreign shore. (That is the sum Manuel is said to have spent on Mile des Lis.) The people, too, who had been turned into the streets to starve, growled when they heard that a huge suite of rooms in the royal palace had been assigned to the Jin Itau girl.

SAYS DYNAMITE WAS CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

Commission to Investigate Times Disaster Reports That the Building Was Blown Up

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—The commission appointed by Mayor Alexander to probe the destruction of the Times building has officially reported that the disaster was caused by the explosion of nitro glycerine, which had been placed in a highly effective position in an alley between the sections of the Times plant.

NEW MOVING PICTURE HOUSE

TO BE LOCATED IN ODD FELLOWS' TEMPLE

J. V. Houston Will Have Control, and It Will Be One of the Most Up-to-Date in Oregon

Realizing that the time is rapidly nearing when Klamath Falls will need an opera house used solely for traveling companies, and also that the people of this city demanded and were entitled to the best in the way of moving pictures, J. V. Houston has secured the third room in the new Odd Fellows' temple, next to the stairway, and will install therein one of the most up-to-date moving picture outfits to be found.

Mr. Houston will leave for the city in a short time, and will investigate the various machines and apparatus, with the view of getting the most up-to-date equipment to be obtained.

The new show house will be fitted up with the latest in sanitary chairs, with arm rests, and the floor will be sloping, so that an unobstructed view may be had of the curtain from every chair in the room. A spacious lobby and everything that will conduce to the comfort and convenience of the patrons will be included in the equipping of the new theater, and it will be in readiness for business when the temple is completed the first of the year.

The present operahouse will be used after that date for traveling companies and vaudeville.

LORIMER COMMITTEE IS STILL IN SESSION

Holtzlaw Testifies That He Received $2,500 for His Vote for the Senator

United Press Service
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Speaker Shurtleff testified that he had not heard of money being offered for Lorimer votes, and that he had not attempted in any way to influence anyone's vote. Senator Holtzlaw again testified that Broderick gave him $2,500 to vote for Senator Lorimer.

Senator Burrows announced that the committee had not decided whether to have Senator Lorimer testify. Representative Wilson, a most valuable witness, is missing. His business partner testified that he left on September 17th, and did not say where he was going. He heard Wilson mention transactions at Fresno and Los Angeles, Calif., but did not know whether he went there.

SANITARY BARNS, AND HOW TO ERECT THEM

New Course at Oregon Agricultural College Will Teach Boys to Build Right

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 10.—How to plan and build dairy barns that are both sanitary and convenient will be taught this year at the Oregon Agricultural college in a course in farm structure just introduced.

The students will learn how to design their own houses, barns, granaries, silos and other farm buildings; where to place them; how they should be constructed, and the cost of both materials and construction. An unusual feature of the instruction will be that which will aid students to draw plans in class for buildings, solving special problems of their own home farms, such as barns on hill sides or on low ground.

The various uses of concrete on the farm, with practical laboratory work in the making of concrete floors, walks and fence posts will also form a part of the students' instruction.

Problems in fencing, including the relative merit and cost of various sorts of materials and different designs will be an interesting part of the course, which will include as well a comparison of the efficiency of good and bad roads, and the methods of construction and maintenance of good roads in rural districts.

VALLEJO WANTS TO KNOW WHO TAKES A DRINK

VALLEJO, Oct. 10.—Hereafter the entire interior of the saloons of Vallejo will be visible to those walking on the streets of the city. So strong has been the agitation waged here for several months past against private booths and boxes in both restaurants and saloons that the board of city trustees has unanimously passed an ordinance prohibiting any such booths, and, moreover, decreeing that all doors to saloons shall be provided with clear glass panels of a sufficient size to permit of the interior of the place being visible to the people on the sidewalk and prohibiting any screens or other obstruction being placed in any way that would conceal any part of the premises.

Provision is made in the ordinance for the immediate revocation of any license in the event of any of the above provisions being violated.

HOLD BUT LITTLE HOPE OF RESCUE

ENTOMBED IN MINE BY AN EXPLOSION

Cause of Disaster Laid to Accumulation of Dust—Woman Tries to Kill Her Children

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 10.—Fifty-one miners are entombed in the Starkville mine near here. It is believed that it will be impossible to reach the point where they are entombed for several days. Hope of rescuing them alive is practically abandoned. The Las Animas county coroner is preparing to receive the corpses and has established a morgue in a machine shop. The main tunnel is filled with afterdamp, and the lives of the rescuers are imperilled, and they have been repeatedly repulsed.

The explosion occurred five miles from the mouth of the mine. The only chance to escape is an old tunnel leading into the Engleville mine adjoining. Several years ago, during the Engleville fire, this tunnel was walled up with masonry. A number of men are tearing away the masonry wall in an effort to reach the entombed miners.

It is believed the explosion was due to a collection of dust. The mine has always been considered safe. Blasting is forbidden, and no powder was allowed, as coal can be knocked down with a pick. All last night women paced the streets, asking, "Are there any news?" The answer always was that rescue was improbable. Human life cannot exist in the gas-filled tunnels. One Italian woman, whose husband was entombed, bade her eight children kneel in prayer, intending to kill them as they prayed. Neighbors interfered and prevented her from accomplishing her purpose. Most of the entombed men are married.

Rescuers this afternoon found the tunnel so badly caved that it will take a week to reach the point of the explosion, and all hope of rescuing anyone alive has been abandoned.

An attachment for acetylene automobile headlights has been invented by which the gas may be lighted by short circuiting the regular sparking system with a switch from the driver's seat.
