

TWO MEN INJURED IN AN ACCIDENT

HURT WHEN THEY LEAP FROM FLYING CARS

ONE MAN LOSES FOUR OF HIS TEETH

The Other Has a Sprained Arm and Thumb—Are Now Under the Doctor's Care

Tearing over the rails at break-neck speed, with two men trying to set the brakes and stop them, two dump cars belonging to the Ransome-Crummey company got away from the control of W. Simmons and George Bowren, who were in charge of them, and lie a wreck at the foot of the bunker at the intersection of Conger avenue and California street, while the two men are under the doctor's care.

The old street car system leads from the corner of Main street and Conger avenue to the quarry on the banks of Link river, near where it receives the waters of Upper Klamath lake, and the rails were utilized to haul the cars carrying the crushed rock which is to be used on the streets. A bunker capable of holding 150 yards of rock had been constructed at Conger avenue and California street and the rails had been laid on an incline leading to the bunker from which the rock could be loaded into wagons. An engine is on the way to haul the cars from the quarry to the bunker, but it has not arrived, and Saturday the experiment was tried of sending the cars down by gravity, and it was successful. Two more were sent down yesterday morning about 9:30, and they went down all right, but a whole lot faster than was intended. There is a 4 per cent grade to the bunker, and as the cars started down the grade Simmons and Bowren tried to set the brakes. They did so, but before they had checked the momentum of the heavy cars, which weighed about ten tons, they struck a place where there was wet grass on the rails, and the cars began to slide. After that it was impossible to stop them, and Simmons looked for a soft place to alight. He jumped just before the incline to the bunker was reached, and he rolled clear across the county road. When he had picked himself up he saw Bowren with his head in the trestle work and his feet sticking up. Simmons' right arm and thumb were badly sprained, while his hand was skinned. Bowren has a sprained ankle, a skinned face and four missing teeth as a reminder of the accident. They were taken to the Lakoside Inn, where they are under the care of Dr. G. H. Merryman and a nurse. They will both be out again before long.

The two cars kept going until they struck the bumper on top of the bunker, but the heavy timbers were no more than toothpicks to the swiftly moving cars. The front car struck the bumper and the other turned completely over it, landing on the ground at the opposite side of the bunker, a complete wreck, with what had been the first car on top of it.

The accident was an unavoidable one, as it would not have happened if the wet grass had not been on the rail and caused the cars to slide.

TALKS ON "THE ATTITUDE OF THE TEACHER"

Dr. Sheldon Gives Some Excellent Lectures on Topics Relating to School Work

The afternoon session of the county teachers' institute Thursday opened at 1:30 by singing, and immediately after Professor Alderman spoke on a general line, speaking of various things an ambitious, live teacher can do for her school, such as procuring good pictures for the school room, securing the use of individual drinking cups and having a school room fair for some Friday's entertainment, at which could be exhibited samples of the pupils' home and school work.

After recess Dr. Sheldon spoke on "The Psychology of Examinations," and he gave a most excellent and convincing address on that much discussed institution.

The next period was devoted to departmental work, the High school teachers being addressed by Dr. Sheldon on "Relation of Vocational Schools" and the grammar grade department taking up with Superintendent Carleton the subject of History, discussing "The Recitation."

The evening session in the High school auditorium was quite well attended, and the excellent program was very much enjoyed by those present. Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt rendered a beautiful vocal solo and responded to an encore, after which Professor Alderman addressed the session on "The Attitude of the Teacher." Mr. Alderman's address was full of earnestness and intensity. He spoke of how a teacher's attitude toward her work can change the conditions and character of the entire community. An attitude of interest toward one's work secures an attitude of interest toward it in all the patrons of the district, and makes her work a success. The teacher who does this earns more salary than that community can ever pay her, while the teacher with the indifferent attitude doesn't earn the salary they do pay her. He mentioned the fact that the teacher's attitude toward the pupil may change the course of the whole life of the pupil for the better or for the worse.

The High School Girls' Glee club gave a very pleasing chorus and responded to an encore.

The third day's session was opened Friday morning by singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," after which Wilbur Telford spent a few minutes calling the attention of the teachers to that most excellent school magazine of our own county, the High School Boomer. The teachers evidently endorsed the opinion expressed by the Boomer's representative, namely, that every school district of the county should possess a copy of the magazine published by the county high school, as a great many of them subscribed.

Mr. Sheldon followed with a most excellent talk on "Teaching Morality in the Public School." This very vital subject has received very close study on the part of Dr. Sheldon, who gave many helpful suggestions on it. He spoke of teaching morality by teaching as a part of the school curriculum, biography, calling attention to what great and honest men have done, and by short sensible talks on vital subjects—provided their talks are not too long or too frequent. He spoke of how general this movement has become throughout the world, and he urged teachers to try to tactfully get in line. He advocated a supervised play ground as a great aid. He said, "This is one of the great coming questions of the next ten years."

W. S. Slough gave a very excellent address on "The Right Attitude of the Will." He urged the preparation by the teacher of the work to be presented. He, too, talked of the little things the teacher can do to raise the standards of the community, i. e., even the procuring of a mud-scraper for the school house steps. He spoke of pictures, Perry, Brown, Cosmos. He urged teachers to spend spare moments in "Self Culture."

The departmental work was then taken up. The High school division listened to L. R. Alderman on whether there should be a high school inspector in the state, and to Dr. Sheldon on "History in the High School."

Assistant State Superintendent Carleton said, in his talk on "Organization of a Rural School," visit the parents and invite them to visit you. Get them vitally interested in the school. Get the pupils organized, get the neighborhood organized. Encourage each pupil to plant and care for a little plot of ground of his own, and to keep an account of what is raised. Make the school grounds and building as attractive as possible.

In the course of his lecture on reading Professor Alderman said:

"Reading is a great factor in preparing pupils for life, especially silent reading." He said that tests in the rate of silent reading of pupils in the same grade showed that where one pupil read fifteen pages an hour, another would read close to a hundred pages, and strange as it may seem, the rapid reader got more out of his first fifteen pages than the slow reader did out of his. The rapid reader was not bothered by the stumbling block of the hard word. He said: "Establish a new rate, encourage pupils to read at home."

STRAUSS WILL RESIGN AS AMBASSADOR TO TURKEY

Taft Endeavoring to Persuade Him to Remain—Huntington Wilson to Be His Successor

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Secretary of State Knox confirmed the report that Oscar Strauss has asked to be relieved from his duties as ambassador to Turkey, saying that he wished to resume his business in New York. Mr. Strauss' resignation has not been formally presented to the state department. President Taft is endeavoring to persuade Mr. Strauss to remain. It is reported that Huntington Wilson will succeed him.

Honor Visiting Instructors
A number of the local teachers gave an informal dinner to the visiting instructors at the Livermore hotel Friday night. About twenty participated in the affair and afterwards went to the opera house to witness the production of "The Wolf."

Mrs. Clopton and daughter, Madge, who have been visiting here for some weeks, expect to return to their home in Berkeley in a few days.

THE ODD FELLOWS' TEMPLE NEARING COMPLETION
Will Be Ready for the Roof by the Last of Next Week—Expect to Finish It on Time

Rapid progress is being made with the Odd Fellows' temple, and it is expected that it will be ready for the roof by the last of next week. When that is done the interior work will be rushed, and it is expected that the building will be completed by the time set—the 1st of January.

DR. CRIPPEN FILES APPEAL FORM VERDICT
LONDON, Oct. 28.—Dr. Crippen's appeal was filed yesterday morning. In it he declares that the crown has not proved that he was guilty of the crime.

TEACHERS WILL ASK FOR A LARGER APPROPRIATION

Instructors Believe That More Time Is Needed in That Line of Their Work

The closing afternoon of the teachers' institute was opened last Friday by singing, after which Dr. Sheldon spoke of the very good attention and great interest accorded the speakers and the subjects discussed. He then addressed the institute on "Thackery as an Educator," making this subject as interesting as he did that of "George Elliott as an Educator."

Following this, the question box was opened, and several questions were profitably discussed.

Mr. E. V. Hawley of the Klamath County High school gave a short description of the new high school department in manual training. In establishing this new department the high school is keeping pace with the foremost schools of the state, and it is here bringing close to Klamath county students an opportunity for training along a very practical line of work. Mr. Hawley says that the department is equipped with modern work benches and good modern tools. In the drafting room are used rules that are used everywhere. Some free hand drawing is taught.

The course for the first year consists of work in wood; the second year's work will be in iron; third year in pattern making; and the fourth year in the machine shop.

Mr. Swan then called for the reports of the standing committees. The general committee on local institutes, consisting of R. H. Dunbar, C. A. Howard and J. G. Wright, reported as follows: The county is to be divided into three institute districts, the first institute to be held at Yonka, November 19th, the second at Midland, December 10th and the third to be at Merrill some time in the spring.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows: We, a committee of the teachers' organization of Klamath county, Oregon, present the following resolutions for your consideration:

Whereas, We are drawing to the close of three days of interesting and valuable instruction;

Whereas, We have been extended every courtesy by the officers of the city schools of Klamath Falls and the teachers of the Klamath County High school, and have been given a delightful reception by the teachers of the above mentioned schools;

Be it Resolved, That we express our gratitude to the instructors, Dr. Sheldon, Prof. Alderman and Assistant State Superintendent Carleton for the valuable services rendered us.

Resolved, That we acknowledge our obligation to the officers and teachers of the city schools of Klamath Falls and the Klamath County High school for their part in making this institute an agreeable one.

Resolved, That Superintendent Swan be instructed to express by wire to State Superintendent Ackerman the appreciation of the teachers of Klamath county for the valuable services he has rendered the state of Oregon during the twelve years he has acted in the capacity of Superintendent of public instruction of this state.

Resolved, That the teachers of Klamath county re-emphasize their opinion that the state of Oregon should provide for its teachers suitable normal instruction through the medium of normal schools. Be it further

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the Klamath County Institute for 1911 should be a five days' session, with instruction in all departments from primary grades to High school. And be it further

Resolved, That a committee should be appointed from this organization to wait upon the county court of Klamath county, asking for a sufficient appropriation to carry out the above mentioned plan.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this organization, to become a part of the permanent record of the same.

(Signed) C. A. HOWARD, Chairman.
D. W. WIGHT,
FRED PETERSON,
C. E. MULKEY.

Returns to Eugene

L. R. Alderman, who is one of the faculty of the State University at Eugene, returned to his duties in that institution last Saturday, after delivering a number of addresses at the county teachers' institute, which has just been held in this city.

Mr. Alderman has achieved his present position on the faculty of the state university through his own efforts, having passed through every phase of school work from the country schools to the college work. He is the candidate for state superintendent of public instruction on the republican ticket, and his experience fits him for the position.

APPEAL TO COMMISSIONER

LAND OWNERS WILL TAKE THIS STEP AT ONCE

Necessary to Do So in Order to Protect Their Rights in the Co-operative Certificates

The reclamation office in this city referred the matter of the suspension and rejection of water right applications by the land office at Lakeview, Oregon, to the Washington office, and now has the following advice to offer to all who have received notices that their applications are held for suspension or rejection because of payment in co-operative certificates.

Make an appeal at once to the commissioner of the general land office from the decision of the register of the Lakeview land office. This appeal may be in the form of a letter stating when and how the payment was made, giving the number of the certificates used in payment, the date of payment, total paid in certificates, amount paid in cash (if any), year and charge for which payment was made. This last was all for operation and maintenance charge for the year 1909.

All of the above information can be obtained from the receipt given by the project engineer to each person who made such payments, and if the party has lost or mislaid that receipt he can obtain the necessary information from the special fiscal agent, Mr. C. C. Hogue, Klamath Falls.

The director of the reclamation service assures all who have made such payments that their interests will be protected, if they take the precaution to make the appeal as set out above. It must be made within thirty days from the date of the notice from the register of the Land office.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Klamath.

Elvira Harrington, Plaintiff, vs. Elijah Harrington, Defendant.

To Elijah Harrington, the above-named defendant:

In the name of the state of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and suit on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of summons made herein to-wit: Thursday, the 10th day of November, 1910, that being six consecutive and successive weeks from the date of the service of this summons upon you, and if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded and prayed for in her complaint, to-wit: That the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between yourself and the plaintiff herein be forever dissolved, annulled and set aside, and that the plaintiff be awarded the care and custody of her three children, viz: Ada Harrington, Wilbur Harrington and Leland Harrington, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is served upon you by order of the Hon. George Noland, judge of the above-entitled court, dated September 28, 1910, ordering that summons be served upon you by publication in the Klamath Republican, a weekly newspaper printed, published and circulated in Klamath Falls, Klamath county Oregon, for a period of six consecutive and successive weeks, from date of the first publication, the date of the first publication being on Thursday, the 29th day of September, 1910, and the date of the last publication being on Thursday the 10th day of November, 1910, that being the last day in which you are required to appear and answer.

HORACE M. MANNING,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
