Join the Elks

Chas. Graves, justice of the peace, and Bert Withrow returned Sunday from Ashland, where they were initiated into the Elks lodge on Saturday night. They report having a fine time, but regretted that they were unable to remain over Sunday to attend the memorial services of the order.

Nebraskan Buys Home

J. S. Crawford, a recent arrival from Wahoo, Neb., has bought through the Home Realty company, the large residence on the corner of Sixth and High streets. The house was owned by D. B. Ward, formerly of this city, but now of Orland, Calif. It is one of the best residences in the city, and the close in location makes it a very desirable home. The place is leased to C. C. Hogue until spring, and will not be occupied by the new owner until that time.

Mr. Crawford came here several weeks ago. After investigating the country he decided that Klamath Falls is the place that he has been looking for. He at once sent for his family, who arrived here several days ago.

Mr. Hogue purchased through the same company the lot adjoining the premises purchased by Mr. Crawford, and it is his intention to build an elegant house in the near future.

The New Grand Jury

The following are the members of the new grand jury:

E. C. Reams foreman, A. L. Michael, Alonzo Bainter, Willis Johnson, S. A. White, C. J. Swingle, H. J. O'Brien.

Charles Graves is bailiff and J. W. Bryant is court bailiff.

Thoroughbred Sheep

Seven thoroughbred Lincoln sheep from Monmouth, Ore., and consigned to J. T. Spaulding of Alturas, came in by express Friday. J. A. Howell of the California town came here after them, but when he arrived he found the express charges were $106.50.

He only had about $30, and did not know anyone here, and was in a quandary as to what to do. Finally C. A. Bunting came to his rescue and gave him a check for the difference, and Mr. Howell left Saturday with the animals. Mr. Spaulding is a stockman of Alturas, and is evidently going to embark in the sheep business.

Shipping Stock to California

Frank Swingle was here Monday from his ranch in Langell Valley, with forty-four head of mules and horses, which he is taking to Crows Landing, Calif. The animals were sold to B. F. McCully & Co., and will be shipped from here tomorrow morning. Mr. Swingle is the owner of a big stock ranch near Lorella, and raises those fine mules and horses for which Klamath county is so well known.

Sent Body Away

Undertaker Earl Whitlock prepared the body of William Lampe, who died Wednesday at the Summers' ranch, and the remains were sent to Gardnerville, Nev., Lampe's home, Sunday morning. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' lodge at the Nevada town, and they will have charge of the funeral at that place. He was 52 years old, and died of tuberculosis.
