ELECTED TO AN OFFICE NOT IN EXISTENCE

JUSTICE MILLER INTENDS TO RESIGN

Oversight Results in Peculiar Complication—Justice Precincts Were Not Changed Last Fall

An oversight on the part of the county court has resulted in a peculiar situation. Justice of the Peace A. D. Miller, who was supposed to have been defeated at the last election by a narrow margin, is still the holder of that office, while his opponent, Charles Graves, is not the justice of the peace, as he supposed.

When the county court changed Linkville precinct last fall and made it into four voting precincts, East and West Klamath Falls, Midland and Pine Grove, they stopped short of what their efforts should have accomplished. Before the voting precincts were changed each voting precinct was a justice of the peace precinct also. At the time the voting precinct of Linkville and the justice of the peace precinct of Linkville covered the same territory. When the county court changed the voting precinct they neglected to alter the justice of the peace precinct, and when the election was held Mr. Graves was voted into a position that did not exist. The ballot should have been for justice of the peace of Linkville precinct, instead of East and West Klamath Falls, Midland and Pine Grove.

As the case now stands, the Hon. A. D. Miller is the justice of the peace for Linkville. In order that Mr. Graves may secure the office to which he was supposed to have been elected it will be necessary for him to resign the office for which he qualified and then Judge Miller says that he will resign and the county court can appoint Mr. Graves, or anyone else they see fit, to the office. Judge Miller is not standing in the way of Mr. Graves' occupation of the office, but is anxious to resign and see Mr. Graves appointed. But as the matter now stands he must hold his office until his successor is either elected or appointed and qualified. As soon as the tangle is straightened Judge Miller will resign and Mr. Graves can then be appointed.

C. E. WEIKERT BUYS VALUABLE PLACE

To Begin Putting Up Buildings and Improving the Ranch in a Short Time

Work on what will eventually be one of the finest stock ranches in this part of the state will be begun very soon, when C. E. Weikert begins the improvements which he is to make on the John Shook ranch near Dalry, which he recently purchased.

The Shook ranch is one of the finest places in Klamath county, and comprises 880 acres of excellent land. Mr. Shook has occupied the place for a number of years, and has made money every year that he has cultivated the land.

A few days ago Mr. Weikert, whose home is in San Francisco, purchased the ranch of Mr. Shook, taking the place under a three-year option, and paying cash rent for it until the purchase price is paid.

He will at once begin putting up buildings and make the place one of the most up-to-date stock ranches in the state. It is situated in a valley that has no superior for stock raising, and he will breed none but the finest grade of cattle. Mr. Weikert is a practical stockman, and will make the ranch one of the show places in the county in a few years.

Mr. Shook will devote his time to improving other ranches that he has in various parts of the county.

DR. TRUAX WILL OPEN AN OFFICE SOON

Well Known Physician Has Just Completed a Post Graduate Course in Eastern College

Dr. L. L. Truax returned Tuesday evening from the East, where he has been for the past year. Dr. Truax was formerly located at Bonanza, but for the past year has been taking a post graduate course in medicine in Philadelphia. He also spent some time in the leading hospitals of Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, and he has returned here better equipped in knowledge in his profession, with the intention of practicing in this city.

He will open up an office as soon as he can secure a suitable location.

Dr. Truax states that in both Pennsylvania and Ohio one can hear more talk about the Klamath country than of any other section in the West. He says that this country is attracting a great deal of attention and people were constantly inquiring about Klamath. The doctor was very successful in his practice here, and many of his friends are glad to welcome his return.

On Wednesday of last week, Joe Brown, a Mexican, eloped with the wife of Dennis Crawley, an Indian living on the reservation, and the two came to this city. Friday the inmate husband was here searching for his erring spouse. He solicited the aid of the officers, and then started out by himself. He failed to find his wife, but did meet Brown in front of Houston's. The two came to blows, and Brown felled Crawley with a blow on the cheek. Some one saw the officers approaching, and as soon as he said "police," both men took to their heels. The whereabouts of the woman is not known, although she is believed to be in the city.

TONS OF GOLD FOR THE ATLANTIC FLEET PAYROLL

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—If there are twentieth century Kidds or other buccaners scouring the Spanish Main with piratical Dreadnaughts they have a chance this week of tackling a treasure ship laden with gold and modern "pieces of eight" when the United States supply ship Celtic steams into the Caribbean sea to pay off the sixteen battleships comprising the Atlantic fleet. The Celtic is loading about a million and a half gold eagles and double eagles, in addition to sides of beef, bacon and other "grub" which the tars of the Atlantic fleet will want when they arrive from European waters.

The Celtic will land her gold and stores at Guantanamo, and it will be payday for the fleet as soon as the ships arrive.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

(By Helen Rowland)

In the end nobody finds life quite so flat as the rounder.

After all, the difference in husbands consists merely in the degree in which their wives happen to find them out.

A man always fancies that the best way to win an argument with a woman is to kiss her and tell her how pretty she looks—and it usually is.

The way in which a woman works out a problem is as mysterious to a man as the way in which she works dough.

Funny how a husband and wife can cling together through tragedy, poverty, illness and sorrow, and then fall out about a little thing like the possession of the newspaper.

Man's "infinite variety" consists entirely in the variety of his faults. If all men were perfect the world would be terribly monotonous.

Nothing makes a man feel so injured as to have his wife keep perfectly silent about something that he fully expected to be nagged about.

The difference between courtship and matrimony is something like the difference between listening to a "travelogue" and taking a trip abroad.

A little college is a dangerous thing—for a girl who wants to be a shining light in the matrimonial market.

Reason for It

"I like wide-awake men in the office, and Jaggsby seems so stupid."

"Oh, Jaggsby is the most wide-awake man I know."

"I never thought he was enterprising."

"He isn't. That is not what makes him wide awake. He's got insomnia."
