

SENATOR ELKINS IS LAID TO REST

BURIED IN MAPLEWOOD CEMETERY TODAY

HUNDREDS WITNESS THE SERVICES

Senators and Congressmen Were Honorary Pallbearers—Flags at Half Mast

ELKINS, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins was buried in Maplewood cemetery today. The funeral train arrived shortly after 8 o'clock. The services were held in the Davis Presbyterian church. Hundreds of persons lined the road leading to the edifice. Brief services preceded the interment, the coffin being borne by workmen employed on the Elkins estate.

Mrs. Elkins did not attend, being prostrated at her Washington home. The honorary pallbearers were Senators Scott, Bacon, Bailey, Foster, Carter, Smith and Root, and Congressmen Rucker, Alexander, Longworth, Calderhead and Lamb.

By order from Washington the flags on all the military posts of the country were at half mast in honor of Senator Elkins, who was secretary of war during the Harrison administration.

TERMS OF PARDON KEEP HUSBAND AND FATHER AWAY

Wife of Alf Wallis Is Laid in the Grave Without Him Witnessing the Services

One of the saddest incidents that has occurred near Hildebrand in years took place when the body of Mrs. Alf Wallis was laid in her grave, and her husband was not permitted to attend the funeral nor that of his little child, who died but a few days before its mother did.

Some two years ago Alf Wallis and Charles Liskey were convicted of stealing horses, and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary at Salem. A few weeks ago they were pardoned, their freedom being given on the express promise that they leave Oregon and do not return to the state. This they agreed to do, and they were accordingly granted their liberty.

The two men went to Dorris, Calif., a few miles below the Oregon line, and there the friends and families of the two men met them. The greeting was pathetic, and Wallis caressed his little child repeatedly.

A few days after Mrs. Wallis returned to her home near Hildebrand the child was taken ill. It was at first thought to be a severe cold, but when a doctor was called he pronounced it diphtheria of the most malignant form. A day or two later the baby died, and the mother was also taken sick, and a little later died. The conditions of pardon of Wallis prohibited him attending the funeral, and his wife and baby were laid away without him having the comfort of seeing the remains deposited in their last resting place.

Before Mrs. Wallis was confined to her bed she passed the night with a woman friend. That friend now has diphtheria, but fortunately the doctors have it under such control that there is no danger.

The only reason that can be assigned for Mrs. Wallis and the child having the disease is that Mr. Wallis must have been inoculated with it before he left the prison, and that when he caressed his child he transferred the germ to his innocent baby, and from it the mother contracted the dread disease.

Mr. Wallis left soon after parting from his wife, and is now believed to be in Missouri.

MUCH WORK IN THE COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE

Increase of Instruments Filed for Record Is 100 a Month Over Last Year

The work of the county clerk has increased amazingly this year over what it was last year. The work connected with the circuit court has doubled over 1909, while there have been 1,200 more instruments filed for record during 1910 over what had been filed in 1909. It has made the office force hustle to keep anywhere near even.

TBACCO TRUST CASE IS BEING ARGUED

The Fate of All Anti-Trust Procedure Will Be Decided by the Decision of the Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A legal battle to determine the validity of the Sherman anti-trust law was begun in the United States supreme court today by an argument on an appeal of the suit to dissolve the Tobacco Trust, capitalized at $400,000,000. There is a most formidable array of legal talent represented. Johnson Hornblower is the Tobacco Trust counsel, and Attorney General Wickersham and his deputies are opposing him. The same case was argued last year and ordered reheard, owing to deaths among the justices of the supreme court. The fate of all anti-trust procedure hangs on the result of this case.

SPOKANE OFFICER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Was Reading in His Home When a Bullet Penetrated His Lung—No Clue to the Assassin

SPOKANE, Jan. 6.—Former Police Chief Sullivan, who was shot by an assassin at his home last night, is reported to be recovering.

The shooting is most mysterious. Sullivan was alone, reading, and the bullet was up. The bullet broke the glass, struck the chair back and then penetrated Sullivan's lung. Sullivan was facing a grand jury probe of alleged illegal handling of houses of ill fame. He resigned his chief's job several months ago under pressure. The police say they have no clue to the assassin.

CITY OF MINNEAPOLIS IS IN DARKNESS

Newspapers, Manufacturing Plants and Stores Without Power and Lights

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 6.—An explosion this morning wrecked the city plant of Minneapolis General Electric company, and the newspapers, manufacturing plants and stores are without power and lights.

Two persons were seriously hurt and the $500,000 plant is a total loss. The explosion is believed to have resulted from the accumulation of gas under the switchboard. The telegraph lines are out of commission on account of their being no power.

THIEVES PLAN RAID ON A NEW JERSEY TOWN

EDGEWATER PARK, N. J., Jan. 6.—Last week nearly every dog in this place was poisoned and the residents came to the conclusion that a band of robbers was preparing to raid the town. Citizens put additional bolts on their doors and windows, and took other precautions.

The robbers came early in the day, and after attempting to hold up Strickland McCay, a wealthy citizen, they broke into the railroad station and postoffice. The robbers blew open the safe, but before they could get much booty they were frightened away.

"Why not art or literature?"

GOVERNOR JOHNSON FRUGAL

Cost $1,043 LESS FOR INAUGURATION THAN GILLETTE

Legislature Is Also Showing a Similar Disposition, and Is Not Spending Very Much

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 7.—The cost of inaugurating Governor Johnson was $1,043 less than the inauguration of Governor Gillette, according to the report of Chairman Estudillo of Riverside, who was chairman of the inauguration committee. The music, lights and draperies cost $412 for Johnson, while the same cost $1,455 for Gillette. The old regime paid to inaugurate the secretary $150, while the new paid $5. The present legislature is showing economy, as to date the assembly has used $520 of the $3,000 allowance for the first week. The senate used $1,600. Last year for the same period the senate expended $2,500 and the assembly $1,377.

BROUGHT FLOWERS FOR THE MAN HER PAPA SHOT

Little Girl Brings Roses to a Burglar Who Lay Dying in the Hospital

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Jan. 6.—John Pennimore, self-confessed burglar, is thought to be dying in a local hospital from bullet wounds received when shot a few nights ago by Patrolman Carson in a running pistol fight. New Year's night the officer was told Pennimore was not expected to live. He went home with a heavy heart, and for a long time there was silence in the house. It was broken by the query of his 4-year-old daughter:

"What's the matter, papa?"
"I've shot a man who cannot live," the patrolman explained.

A few minutes later the little girl disappeared. She had some money saved from Christmas presents. Down town through the snow she plodded until she reached a florist, where she was known. She asked for roses. Clasp the flowers in her arms she went to the hospital and to the bedside of the dying man.

"I've come to bring you these," she lisped. "Papa said he had hurt you." She handed the roses to the wounded man.

Tears stood large in the eyes of the sufferer.

"Thanks, kid," he said. "I've got one at home just like you. But no one knows where the home is—and I ain't telling nothing. Thanks, kid." Pennimore, a little while later, lapsed into unconsciousness.

UNCLE SAM CLEANING UP

Crusade by the Government Agents Against the Get-Rich-Quick Sharps

Within the last few weeks Superintendent William H. Hotchkiss of the New York Insurance department, has held up seventeen insurance companies and their promoting agents, driving them out of the state or compelling them to modify their plans. Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock within a year has caused the arrest of seventy-eight individuals, firms, "fiscal agents," and the like, for using the United States mails to defraud investors. With scarcely an exception the men arrested carried out the swindling operations through methods of promotion, including the usual paraphernalia of alluring prospectuses, stock canvassers and newspaper advertisements, entrapping the prospective victim by mendacious promises of huge profits.

While much still remains to be done in the way of protecting simple-minded folk from the stock selling sharks, more has been accomplished in this direction in recent months than in whole years past. Without question, the next step should be to bring the proprietors of newspapers and periodicals to an appreciation of their responsibility in the matter.—Munsey's Magazine.

AMERICA'S CROPS

Output of Our Farms Surpass the Records of All Ages

The latest statistics received from the department of agriculture tell of the production of wheat, both winter and spring, oats, rye and barley, these being the chief grain crops of the United States. They show that in the aggregate, including corn, American farmers grew and harvested, in the year 1910, a little more than 5,000,000,000 bushels of grain, more than half of which was Indian corn. There is nothing like this in the history of the world, so far as history records agricultural production. Such a crop explains, at least in part, the restored confidence of American business men and bankers, with respect to industry, commerce and finance in the coming year.—Munsey's Magazine.

JAPAN'S WORKING CHILDREN

The Japanese are progressing so rapidly on the job of getting civilized that they can already boast of a system of child labor that can put even our august institution to shame, says a writer in Success Magazine. "According to Dr. Kuwada, a member of the Japanese house of peers, more than two-fifths of the 1,000,000 factory hands are women and children. With no laws to fear or evade, the mill owners are employing 70,000 children under the age of 14. In the

In the spinning mills these child workers are often compelled to continue at their tasks at night without receiving extra pay or chance for rest. For disobedience of shop rules they are barbarously lashed and fined, this latter imposition usually wiping out their meager wages.

When completed the buildings will be handsome structures, and will be a credit to the enterprise of the man who has sufficient faith in Klamath Falls to invest his money in an enterprise of this nature.
