

DID THEY FIRE ON RED CROSS

SECRETARY KNOX STARTS AN INVESTIGATION

AEROPLANES TO BE USED BY REBELS

Latest Report Says That Orozoco's Forces Are Twenty-Five Miles or More From Juarez

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City has been ordered by Secretary of State Knox to investigate the charge that the Mexican troops fired upon a party carrying the Red Cross flag during the fighting near Juarez Saturday.

The action is taken upon the complaint of Representative Smith of the El Paso district of Texas. Dr. Bush of El Paso, it is reported, was fired upon while displaying the Red Cross flag on the battlefield.

Is Orozoco Retiring?

EL PASO, Feb. 8.—There is little chance of any fighting in the vicinity of Juarez for some days. The latest report locates the insurgents at Samalayuca, twenty-five miles away. They are said to be marching south, with a view of meeting Navarro, to give battle. Many say Orozoco is really retreating to avoid a battle.

To Use Airships

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 8.—Six aeroplanes, to be used by the Mexican rebels to shell the federal forces out of almost impregnable positions in the mountain tops, are to be shipped across the border.

Aviator Smith of Douglas, who owns a Curtiss biplane, has received overtures from both Madero and the Mexican government to join their armies. He has tentatively agreed to accept the government offer.

Americans Join Rebels

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Private advices indicate that a hundred armed Americans have forced their passage across the border near El Paso, and joined the rebel forces.

BONANZA BREVITIES

We have no excuse to offer for launching our boat on the sea of journalism. With all due modesty we have hesitated, but the world seems to need us, and we are responding to the call of duty. Seriously speaking, we will endeavor to give a brief weekly resume of the happenings in our little town. When we have something to say, we will say it, and when not, we will be silent.

The people of the upper valleys are looking forward to a year of bumper crops. Not for a long time have we had a season that has promised so well. We have had an abundance of moisture in the form that is a benefit to the soil. In a short time our valleys will be irrigated and then immense crops will be an unvariable rule. We have here everything that goes to make land productive except water for irrigation. As for situation, fertility of soil, drainage, climate, yes, and scenery, if you please, we have the rest of the county and several other counties beaten a city block. What we want now is water, and then settlers, railroads and prosperity will follow.

We are glad to note the fact that the people of Klamath Falls are realizing that "everything for our city" is a short-sighted policy. Klamath Falls will remain a village until the whole surrounding country is being developed. We are proud of Klamath Falls, and will always endeavor to advance her true interests, and we feel sure the people of that city will reciprocate. And now, let us not forget the fact that there are 50,000 acres of the most fertile soil in Oregon lying adjacent to Bonanza, and awaiting development.

Roy Kilgore of this city, who has been living in Jacksonville for some time on account of his health, is returning once more to Bonanza. We are glad to have Roy with us again, and hope for his speedy recovery.

Miss Grace Lytle, our primary teacher, left for Klamath Falls Wednesday, to take the teachers' examination. Her sister, Alice, is teaching her rooms in the meantime.

Bonanza has a literary society. It is an old-fashioned literary society, and one that is very much alive. On Friday evening a stranger might see a vast throng wending its way to the direction of the school house and a question would elicit the fact that they were going to the literary meeting. At every meeting a program of music, singing and speaking is given, and then, as a grand finale, a debate. These debates are of inestimable benefit to those taking part in them, and they also arouse interest in public questions. Friday evening, February 4th, a mock trial was had which created a great deal of interest and amusement.

Single tax is a much discussed question in Bonanza. A great many learned discussions, pro and con, are heard in the rounds. With the editor's permission some observations along this line will be printed from week to week.

The attendance at school is quite good. New pupils are continually being enrolled.

The young men of Bonanza are organizing an athletic club. An organization of this kind is deserving of liberal support by the general public. Let's help it along.

C. W. Sherman, our local newspaper man, is visiting Yonka Valley. He is out urging everyone to subscribe for the Journal and the Bulletin.

Owing to legal obstacles, the election called on February 4th was postponed. Its purpose was to vote yes or no on the saloon question.

MIDLAND AND VICINITY

The Midland school had a holiday Monday, but school was resumed the next day. The school trouble was referred to County Superintendent Swan, and Miss Kirkendall was instructed to continue school.

J. W. Depuy and son Harvey were in Klamath Falls Saturday.

Mrs. Abel Ady returned home from Klamath Falls Sunday morning, bringing her infant daughter. She was met at the depot by three very eager children, who were anxious to see the new sister.

H. E. Willard left Tuesday morning in company with Johnnie Short, Ellis Young and Chas. Gray, for Hermosillo, Old Mexico, where they will look over the situation with a view to locating.

An agent of the Telegram has been in Midland this week. He left on the train Tuesday morning.

Clarence Harris of Olene was at Mr. Kelly's Monday.

OLENE ITEMS

Mr. Coseboom and family are moving to Klamath Falls.

James Grimes and wife spent Saturday night in Klamath Falls, attending business and visiting their parents.

The young people of Olene and vicinity attended a social party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor last Friday night. A pleasant time is reported.

The school term at Olene has been extended to eight months, instead of six, as at first intended. This will make the present term end about the last of April. S. C. Davenport, the present teacher, has been offered and will likely teach the extra two months.

The snow is rapidly disappearing, and farmers are busy preparing for the spring seeding.

Olene's veteran weather forecaster, Dempsey Anderson, says dust will soon replace the mud in the road. "Demp" usually knows.

Mr. Wilson, the postmaster, who has been confined to his bed for some time on account of broken ribs, caused by a fall, is rapidly recovering.

HOPE TO OPEN FOR SEPTEMBER TERM

SISTERS OF THE HOLY NAME CONSENT TO COME

Committee Soon to Be Appointed to Attend to Matters in Connection

Rev. J. J. Cunningham, S. J., pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, has returned to this city from an extended trip through Idaho, Oregon and Washington, and he states that he has secured the promise of the Sisters of the Holy Name to open an academy here. It is the intention of Father Cunningham to have the school started by the beginning of the September term.

While a school of this kind dwells to a great extent on the instruction of Catholic children in their religion, the institution will also receive children of another religion for scholastic instruction, and already a number of non-catholics have declared their intention of enrolling their children in the academy.

The members of the Catholic church are assisting the move in every possible way, and the establishment of the school is assured. In addition to those having children a number of unmarried members of the church are signifying their intention of assisting the school in its work by giving scholarships.

The question of building a school, the location of the same, etc., will be decided in a few days by a committee to be appointed by Father Cunningham for that purpose. Several sites are in prospect.

The Sisters of the Holy Name are considered among the most able teaching orders of the Catholic church, and their schools throughout the United States are of the highest standard. It is only after a careful investigation that Father Cunningham selected the members of this order.

In addition to the grammar school grades, it is more than likely that at least a two-year high school course will be given.
