

REBEL GENERAL CAUGHT ON LINE

WAS ATTEMPTING TO SLIP OVER WITH ARMS AND AMMUNITION

DECISIVE BATTLE IS NOW PENDING

Outcome of the Revolution Depends Largely on Meeting of Orozco and Navarro Near Juarez

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 13.—Lieutenant Riemschmauer and Sergeant Hart of the Third United States cavalry last night captured General Casillas, an insurgent leader, who was trying to recross the border with a rifle and 150 rounds of ammunition. Casillas was placed in jail pending an investigation.

General Casillas is one of the most intelligent insurgent leaders, and his arrest and detention causes the junta to be worried. He was practicing law in Chihuahua until the rebel outbreak, when he forsook the bar for the campaign.

It is believed that Orozco and Navarro will clash this afternoon or tonight. Newspaper correspondents are asking Gonzales for passes to Orozco's lines, in order to allow them to witness the engagement.

Sasmillas' arrest has aroused much rebel sympathy.

Orozco is south of Juarez, waiting for Navarro, who is advancing cautiously northward. The engagement promises to be the most decisive one of the campaign. If Orozco wins, the downfall of Juarez is certain; if Navarro wins the rebel forces will be too badly scattered to put up much of a fight.

The federals assert that the government troops are hemming in Orozco and the other insurgents, aiming to crush all at one blow.

Engagement near Samalayuca

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 13.—A party of workmen sent out to repair the bridges on the Mexican National railroad this morning returned here at 11 o'clock and reported that the revolutionists turned them back twenty-three miles south of Juarez. They were within sight of Samalayuca, and said that the firing was the heaviest south of Samalayuca.

Orozco's pickets told them the revolutionists were engaging Navarro's force. Navarro sent a courier to Juarez this morning to assure the people of in any way.

ARGUES FOR THE CANADIAN TREATY

ADDRESSES MEMBERS OF ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

Declares the Admission of Northern Wheat Would Prevent Speculation and Fluctuation

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 11.—Dressing the Illinois legislature today President Taft again defended the Canadian treaty. He denied the report that such ratification would reduce the prices of farm lands in Ohio, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, and asserted that the admission of the Northwest wheat at steady prices would prevent fluctuations, make speculation more difficult and prevent short crops and high prices.

He said that the farm exports of the nation are decreasing as the population increases, and that the country's production must be increased. He denied that the agreement would operate as an opening wedge for free trade, and gave a warning that unless the treaty is ratified it will arouse opposition to protection, knowing no moderation.

URGES PASSAGE OF THE RECIPROcity COMPACT

BOSTON, February 11.—A message urging that Congress be memorialized on behalf of Canadian reciprocity was sent to the Legislature by Governor Eugene N. Fox today. The Governor said: "This State is presumed to be the stronghold of tariff and high privileged interests and it is imperative that this mistaken view of the position of our citizens be corrected."

FORTY WIVES! NO WONDER THEY SAY HE'S INSANE

COLVILLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—Frank Durand of Metaline Falls has been committed to the State Hospital for the Insane. He was brought to the county seat by Deputy Sheriff W. G. Murray of Metaline Falls, and was laboring under the belief that he had 40 wives. He claimed to be living with only one of them, and said that she was around here somewhere, but did not know just where. A remarkable development of his alleged marriage was, according to him, that she recently bore him three children at the same time, two of which were hers, and the other his. His latest desire was to wed a 5-year-old girl at Metaline Falls. He had been working on the Idaho & Washington Northern Railway construction. He was born in France, and is 37 years of age.

A New Science

Walter L. Herve, one of the examiners in the city schools of Manhattan, recently asked a little girl what she studied. "Reading, writing and gozinta." "Gozinta? What is that?" "Why two goes into four, and three goes into six," the child explained.

CASTEL AND FRANKS HAVE HOT DEBATE

COUNCILMEN HEAR GREAT DEAL OF BOTH PRO AND CON

Initiative Petition Will Be Introduced Within a Short Time By Those Interested in Movement

Municipal ownership of public utilities was a subject for discussion at Friday night's meeting of city council, following the statement of Councilman Castel that the petition for the question of a municipal plant being put on the ballot was incomplete. The other members of the investigating committee did not report their views.

In behalf of those introducing the petition, President Franks of the Good Government league stated that the petition was not, perhaps, drawn up fully in accordance with the law, as it was presented merely as a suggestion to the members of the council that they draft an ordinance covering the question, and put it before the people at the next city election, instead of having the people draw up an initiative petition and place it on the ballot over the heads of the councilmen.

Following this, a lengthy discussion took place between Franks and Castel as to the matter of municipal plants, Franks citing examples of the success of municipal ownership in several cities. The question of the probable cost of the plant was broached by Castel, and Franks stated that it would be somewhat less than $500,000.

"What about the section of the city charter limiting the amount of the city's indebtedness?" asked Castel.

"If any section of a charter stands in the way of a city's advancement, the city council can change that section," was the reply of Franks.

Castel then stated that the attempt to operate a municipal water plant at Ashland was a failure, and Franks declared that it would not have been had the city made the benefited property pay for all extensions, as is done in Portland and other cities. He also stated that heavy property owners here have stated their willingness to pay for extensions in this way under a municipal system, and that the residents of Mills addition were heartily in favor of the scheme, as they would then be sure of getting water.

Mayor Sanderson suggested that the Good Government league supply the council with all the data they have on the subject of municipal ownership, that they may look it over thoroughly in their spare time, and to this request Franks acquiesced.

Councilman Stone suggested that the people interested in the movement should bring in an initiative petition to that end, and Franks stated that he would endeavor to have the matter brought in at the next meeting of the council.

INDIAN TRAILING MURDERERS

FEELING IN NEVADA IS AT THE HIGHEST PITCH

State and Cattle Company Offers Big Rewards for Capture of the Guilty

EAGLEVILLE, Nev., Feb. 13.—Sheriff Ferrel of Washoe county, Nev., with Superintendent Donnelly and three members of the state police arrived today, got a posse of Indian trappers and left on the trail of the slayers of the four stockmen.

The latest information says the deed was committed by cattle thieves. Coroner Lee Davis, from Reno, held an inquest before the funeral. The verdict was murder by unknown parties.

Officers say that the murderers have not left the country, and that they will locate them. Feeling is high, and lynching is feared.

CARSON, Nev., Feb. 13.—Governor Oddie has offered $5,000 and the Cambron Cattle company has offered $1,000 for the capture of the parties who murdered the stockmen.

POSSE IS ON TRAIL OF MURDERERS

BODIES FOUND BY SEARCHING PARTIES

Indian Desperadoes Posted Notices Warning: All Not to Follow—Battle Is Expected

RENO, Nev., Feb. 11.—Harry Cameron, John Taxgaue, B. Indiano and P. Erramuspe, all wealthy stockmen of that section, were found murdered in Little Rock canyon near Queen River, Calif. They have been missing since January 19th, when they went to care for their stock in the storm-swept region.

Searching parties started Wednesday from Constantia, Calif., and late yesterday afternoon found the bodies. The blankets and provisions had been stolen.

A band of nine hostile Indians has been in the country, leaving after them warnings not to follow, under penalty of death.

SACRAMENTO BANK ROBBED

SAFE BLOWN OPEN WITH NITRO-GLYCERINE

$5,918 and Valuable Jewelry Taken by Quartet, Who Wound Two With Shotguns

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—Robbers early this morning blew up the safe of the Nippon bank and escaped with $5,918 and several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry which had been left with the bank as security on loans. Charles Pullen and Albert Allison, in attempting to frustrate the robbers, were wounded with shotguns.

The nitro-glycerine detonation was terrific, and was heard a great distance. Four bandits were engaged in the job. They escaped in a stolen rig. The police found a quantity of jewelry that dropped out of the buggy. A posse is following the bandits.

WHO WANTS TO BE A COOK AT THIS RATE?

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—What is the use of being a cook if one cannot reserve for one's self a few tidbits in the kitchen now and then?

Thus thought Private Satoris Brown, troop E, 10th cavalry U. S. A., detailed as cook at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. Following the court martial, Brown discovered that he had exchanged five months liberty for a paltry three pounds of beef, in addition, at the expiration of this sentence, Brown will find himself dishonorably discharged from the army and disenfranchised.
