MERRILL RAISING BIG MULES

TWO COLTS, HE SAYS, WILL BEAT THE PRIZE SPAN

While Less Than Seven Months Old, They Stand Over Fourteen Hands in Height

N. S. Merrill, the man who attained national fame by raising the largest pair of mules in this country, was in the County seat Tuesday on business. Mr. Merrill says he has two colts now which he thinks will even be larger than the prize winning animals.

The colts will be seven months old in April. One stands fourteen hands and two inches in height and the other fourteen hands and three inches. Their weights are 700 and 760 pounds.

When two years and one month old the prize winning mules, which are owned by Guy Merrill, stood eighteen hands high and weighed 1,300 and 1,350 pounds.

PORTLAND BROTHERS BUY ASHLAND PAPER

ASHLAND, March 15.—The Ash-Tidings, which has been owned and edited by F. D. Wagner for about twenty years, has been sold to R. B. and L. S. Bennett, brothers, both of Portland. R. B. Bennett has been on the local staff of the Telegram for about two years as court reporter and telegraph editor. He was graduated from Yale college in 1906 and worked on Eastern newspapers for several years before coming West. His brother, who will assume the business management of the Tidings, has been connected with large printing houses in New York and Portland. Both are well equipped for newspaper work, and contemplate conducting the Tidings along progressive lines. They will assume ownership the first of next week.

GOOSELIVER INDUSTRY FLOURISHES IN FRANCE

Paris, March 15.—According to consular reports just received, the gooseliver industry of France is largely on the increase. The small city of Toulouse alone sold 200 tons during 1910 at an average wholesale price of 50 cents a pound. The geese appear quite satisfied to contract hypertrophy of the liver by overfeeding. Each bird swallows about 30 quarts of maize moistened with warm water and is then relieved of its liver which makes nearly a pound and a half of "foie gras." The treatment lasts six weeks.

Well, Pie Gosh!

A man working for the Southern Pacific at Klamath Falls has complained to the Post Office Department about the loss of a "mince pie" from a package mailed at London England.

COMAN GOING TO PORTLAND

WILL OBSERVE COURT PRACTICE IN THAT CITY

After Admission to the Bar, Well Known Young Man Intends to Practice Here

Mr. Warren E. Coman, who for a year has been engaged in journalism in this city left on Tuesday with his mother for Portland, where he will "brush up" on the study of law and take the examination for admission to the bar of Oregon. His many friends will be glad to learn that after being admitted Mr. Coman intends to return to Klamath Falls to practice.

Mr. Coman is a graduate of the law school of Northwestern University, and was a classmate of Horace M. Manning of this city. He was summoned to practice before the Illinois Supreme Court. After practicing law in Chicago for some time, Mr. Coman found that the strain of his working in the advertising department of the Chicago Tribune while he was studying at the university was too much for his health, so he came to the coast.

Since coming to the coast Mr. Coman has been connected with several newspapers, and came here a year ago as the first city editor of the Chronicle. Nine months ago he became associated with the Herald as city editor, which position he resigned in January in order to take a complete rest before going to Portland. Mr. Coman during his residence in this city has made hosts of friends on account of his genial disposition and sterling qualities, and the Herald joins with them in inviting Mr. Coman to return to Klamath Falls as soon as possible.

EPISCOPALS BEGIN CHURCH WORK IN REAL ESTATE NOW

Committee Working to Secure $5,000 to Purchase Desirable Lot for Erection of Church

The committee appointed by Bishop Robert L. Paddock and Hon. George T. Baldwin a few days ago to solicit funds for the erection of a church here, is working hard to secure $5,000 with which to purchase a lot for the edifice. In addition to building a church, a rectory will also be built.

Bishop Paddock, who has been in this city for the past few days, talking on the erection of a church, left Tuesday for Lakeview on a similar mission. The Bishop states that there are at least sixty people here that he knows of who have been affiliated with the Episcopal church, and he believes more will be found as soon as the church is started.
