CHICAGO, March 17.—A quarrel over a bag of peanuts resulted in the probable fatal shooting of Fred Meyer in the presence of an after-theater crowd of men and women at the Madison street and Fifth avenue "L" station. After a few words with Meyer, who was ticket agent at the elevated station, W. D. Pake, a bookkeeper, drew a revolver and shot him through the brain. Then Page put the revolver in his pocket, stepped over the body of his victim and started down the steps in a leisurely manner, amid a panic among the theatergoers. Page was arrested before he left the elevated station.

120 MEN MEET IN BATTLE AT TECARTE

Rebels, Surprised and Outnumbered, Are Quickly Routed—Two Cross the Line

SAN DIEGO, March 17.—According to Thomas Lumadri, a prominent Mexican lawyer at San Diego, General Rodriguez, leader of the rebel band, and six of his soldiers were killed in the battle at Tecarte this morning. The information, he says, was received direct from Phillip Ortega, commander of the federal forces.

The Mexican federalists and revolutionists met at Tecarte at 4 o'clock this morning. The rebels were routed, losing two men and having two wounded. Two federalists were wounded, according to advices.

The rebels, about forty in number, retreated under fire. Two of them crossed into America, and a party of thirteen, taking up a position in Harro's canyon, near Tecarte, defied the federalists. They remained in possession of this position. The federalists, who numbered eighty, surrounded Tecarte and surprised the rebels.

CAPTAIN APPLIGATE IS BACK FROM THE LAV ABEDS

Captain I. D. Applegate has returned from the lava beds, where he has been looking after his sheep. He states that while the snow is still quite heavy in that section, he did not suffer any loss of stock, as he was supplied with hay for feeding during the storms. The sheep have been feeding on the range for over a week, and are in good condition.

The Captain found it necessary to go to Alturas on business, and made the trip on horseback, a distance of eighty miles. Some places in the mountains the snow was four feet deep, and one stretch of thirty-five miles without habitation. These little inconveniences, however, do not bother Mr. Applegate, who seems to be able to withstand hardships which to a man half his age would not undertake. Mr. Applegate has passed his 71st year, but is still more vigorous than most men at thirty.

GETS NO REWARD FOR CATCHING JEFF DAVIS

WASHINGTON, March 15.—After working for more than 40 years to establish his claim before the Government for assisting in the capture of Jefferson Davis, and at last getting the item inserted in the general deficiency bill, John P. Smith, alias John Wagner, must go unrewarded. In its consideration of the bill recently, the Southern members made such vigorous objection when the item was reached that it was struck out. In 1865 a reward of $100,000 was offered for the capture of Davis, and this sum was distributed among the troop that made the capture. Recently Smith—or Wagner—proved to the satisfaction of the War Department that he was one of the men who helped capture Davis, and that he had never received his share of the reward. There is slim chance of the item ever being resurrected.

YELLOW GOES DOWN BEFORE THE ONSLAUGHT OF THE RED

Charlie Bung and an Indian Mixed It Saturday Night in Great Style

The face of the Celestial hotel magnate, Charlie Bung, is somewhat "banged" today, and thereby hands a tale. In addition to conducting a restaurant, the sign of which informs the passersby that our friend Charles dispenses the best two-bit feed in the city, he it known that he also conducts a lodging house.

Saturday night an Indian a little too much the worse for a council of war with Chief Red Eye, took a notion to hit the hay, and he concluded that Charlie's place was where he wanted to crawl in at. Charlie's place suited him exactly, with one exception—Charlie, strange to say, wanted pay for the use of the room, and demanded "four bit" from the would-be guest.

This aroused the ire of the Redman, and he went at Charlie in a manner that had Marquis of Queensbury, Graeco-Roman and other works of etiquette backed off the map for class. Was Charlie Banged? Well, a little. One eye was closed, and his face was split up in great shape, and as he dashed out on the street frantically blowing a police whistle he was a sight to behold. So far no complaint has been lodged against the Indian.

PORTLAND, March 20.—Portland will have its plays censored in the future so that its city's theaters will present only moral and helpful shows, if a city ordinance now being considered passes. Local organizations are backing the movement strongly, and urge the need of a more wholesome class of plays in the city theaters.

The ordinance provides for a board of seven censors, to be named by the mayor, who shall pass upon all acts in the vaudeville houses, plays in the other theaters and motion picture films. Objectionable exhibitions may be stopped by order of this board and not again presented within the city.

THIEF CARRIES AWAY EMPTY CASH REGISTER

PORTLAND, March 17.—Burglary resembling the case of the thief who ran away with the hot stove was reported to the police early this week. Some one entered the grocery store of S. Kritschevsky at 415 Fifth street, took the cash register out of the back end of the store, carried it down an alley and searched it. REPUBLICANS PLAN HARD ROW FOR CHAMP CLARK

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A policy of "heckling" has been decided upon by Republican leaders, as the House minority attitude towards Speaker Champ Clark and the Democrats in the coming extra session. The rules of the House are full of pitfalls for the unwary. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, as Speaker, had to trust himself to Asher C. Hinds at least three or four times a day for parliamentary rulings.

There are two parliamentary experts on the Democratic side—Fitzgerald of New York and Sherley of Kentucky, and many other good rules men. Among the Republicans there are, Hinds, the greatest living authority on the House rules; "Jim" Mann, of Ills., Marlin Olmsted of Penna., John Dalzell of Penna., Seno E. Payne of New York, and Cannon himself.

Rep. Mann recently gave proof of his parliamentary sagacity by a myterious filibuster against the omnibus claims bill. A perfectly good majority in the House had to resign itself to Mann's whims. There was no stopping him. And he was always within the rules. He gave the democrats a fair example of what they may expect during their regime at the House. He concluded with a satirical threat for them to be good.

"I think we will have a good deal of fun after April 4," said Mann here today. "Things will begin to happen right off the bat."

ROUNSEVELL CORPORATION OPENS DOWN-TOWN OFFICE

Office space in the new Bamber Wallpaper Store, opposite the Temple theater on Main, was rented Saturday by the Rounsevell Corporation, and they have opened an office for their real estate and contracting business.

Mr. Rounsevell states that he does not expect to engage in a general real estate business, but will continue as formerly to handle only the properties owned by his company. Their recent purchase of the Wilkins and Woodbury lots in the First addition make their present holdings quite extensive, and made it necessary to open a down-town office to properly handle the increasing business.

Mr. E. W. Adams, who for some months past has been keeping the books at the Star Drug Store, has been engaged by Mr. Rounsevell, and will have charge of the office end of the business.
