DAILY GUARANTEE ADDS PRECAUTION

Lake County Banker-Judge Suggests Advertising by Banks of Any Real Estate That They May Hold and Wish to Dispose of LAKEVIEW, Oct. 31.—Dr. Bernard Daly, county judge, banker and attorney, says that he favors the bank guarantee plan, and would add to it the precaution of the bank advertising in the local newspapers any sale of real property that they might at any time care to dispose of. This would be a precaution to the honest banker and the other fellow would get hit. Dr. Daly is a student of banking matters, and his indorsement of the guarantee plan is made after careful thought on the subject and a familiarity with the banking business. He has amassed considerable wealth through his line, and believes that the honest banker has nothing to fear when the depositors are protected, while the protection is necessary against those that use the institutions for their own gain to the detriment of the depositor.

LAKEVIEW LACONICS

Ivan E. Beeler, a settler in the homestead country to the north, is in town attending court. He reports that his section of the county is progressing rapidly, and that indications are that a large number of new settlers will arrive there during the next few weeks.

A. Kauffman, the well known watchmaker, has gone to San Francisco, where he will purchase a large stock of goods for the holiday trade. J. Chas. Smith is selling jewelry during his absence.

Postmaster J. A. Morris of Adel is a visitor in town attending the trial as one of the special venire. Mr. Morris is known to many people in Lake and Klamath counties, and is kept busy shaking hands with old friends. He is the merchant at that place.

During the absence of Night Marshal "Man" Whorton, who is in Portland as a witness before the federal grand jury, Loren Bayley is doing the work.

The recent interpretation of the state law regarding the carrying of lights on all vehicles has resulted in a greatly increased sale of lanterns and other lamps for display on both front and rear of wagons, buggies, autos and other vehicles that are compelled to travel at night.

Henry Hach and sister and Miss Ethel Johnston of View point, Pleasant Valley, have gone to Portland on a visit, from which point the Hachs will go to Minnesota to attend the wedding of a brother at an early date. The Hach family is well represented in the Viewpoint section, as there are two brothers and one sister holding down 320 acre homesteads there, and there would no doubt be others of the family had not all the land near the three been filed upon by other settlers.

The infant son of George Johnson, teller in the Lakeview bank, died suddenly and was buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Jack Kelsey, a well known resident of Paisley, was here for several days attending court and transacting business. Mrs. Kelsey accompanied her husband on the trip.

Jesse Parker of the M. C. ranch in Warner Valley, was a visitor in town the past few days, where his son was a witness for the state in the trial of Bigge Archie.

Joe Toll, the Klamath county rancher, whose place along the road between Bly and the county line is a well known place for stopping about meal time, was a visitor here this week.

A large number of homeseekers are in town from Eastern points. The most of them have been looking for homesteads and desert lands, though a few are after timber claims.

Manager Friday of the Warner Valley Mercantile company at Plush, was a visitor in town this week, looking after the interests of his firm, who lost heavily in the fire at Pine Creek. Six of the finest animals freighting in this section of the state belonging to

F. Ftach of the Matchless store had the misfortune to lose his household goods and many valuable papers in the recent fire at New Pine Creek. The goods were in charge of a freighter, who lost all his wagons and property in the fire.

Messrs. Thruston, McGrath, Erickson and Causey are after big game in the Fort Warner section of the county, and promise to bring back enough animals to supply many folks. The company were burned, together with a large amount of goods consigned to the store.

Dan Malloy's opera house at New Pine Creek was among the buildings destroyed by the fire. Mr. Malloy had only $500 insurance on the building, and feels that hereafter he will insure his holdings to the limit. He does not know whether to rebuild or erect a large hotel on the property, or combine the two.

Thomas Sherlock, the well known stockman and rancher, brother to Charles Sherlock of Lakeview, is spending a little time here on business. Mr. Sherlock is now a resident of Davis Creek and Alturas.

The sale of some fine fruit lands is reported from Davis Creek, where a party of Chicago men bought about 200 acres lying two miles north of the town, which they will subdivide into smaller tracts and sell to people from Illinois.

Sheriff Warner B. Snyder says the Herald erred in stating that a balliff had been furnished to D. Biggarstaff of Paisley, who was indicted. The sheriff states that Biggarstaff had put up $5,500 bond, and that he came to Snyder and asked him to swear in a guard so that the bondholders should feel at rest, as they were comparative strangers to him.

Another artesian well has been found at a depth of 150 feet on the A. H. Hammersley place, four miles from town, in Goose Lake Valley. The flow is strong enough, according to reports, to irrigate a large area from a comparatively small pipe. The well is a short distance from the other flows in the valley.

A fire on the West Side Thursday afternoon was the cause of considerable grass and a couple of hay stacks being burned. Quite a number of business men went from town in autos to fight the flames when it was thought that some of the ranches in the valley would be endangered.

Sam Dicks of Crooked Creek Valley is just completing a fine house on his ranch, and H. O. Kuhl, the well known painter and decorator, is giving it the last touch of art before turning it over to the owner as the finest ranch house in that part of the county.

Lafe Conn, the well known attorney was seen on the streets with a fine bunch of mallards that had fallen victims to his trusty gun.

Bert Rice of the Lakeview Herald is out on a trip after deer, and when he returns the staff of that paper probably will have plenty of venison.

Miss Lillian Taylor, a well known young lady of New Pine Creek, was wedded at that place Sunday to Everett Reed. The happy couple will make their home in the valley, and are receiving the congratulations of a host of friends that wish them well.

The "Mark Twain of Central Oregon" is the title that has been given by the Portland papers to V. L. Snelling of Lakeview. In addition to being a humorist, he is one of the men who first saw the wonderful possibilities in this part of the state for the landless man, and now he is so enthusiastic that he takes 500 or even 1,000 mile journeys to inform people that there is something here that is worth while.

BAND LEADER, DISCOURAGED, MAY LEAVE FOR NEW FIELDS

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 1.—Director Charles Rice of the Lakeview band has announced his intention of leaving this city because of lack of public appreciation of the band. He has brought the organization from a raw state to a condition of efficiency that is very rare for a small inland city, and the work of the players has often been favorably commented on by strangers. Rice has had charge for a year and a half, and his friends are hoping that a movement will be started strong enough and early enough to get the band some uniforms and give the bandmaster inducements such as will keep him in this city.

RAILS ARE NOW LAID TO SUGAR LOAF

Nevada-California-Oregon Railway Is Within Thirty Miles of Lakeview, and Making Speed as Fast as It Is Possible

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 31.—Chief Engineer Oliver of the N.-C.-O. railway reports that the rails are laid to Sugar Loaf Hill, thirty miles from here, and that a crew of tracklayers are at work on the line, making speed as rapidly as possible. The grading crew that has been at work in the vicinity of New Pine Creek has come here to lay out the station grounds and an additional mile of grade as the former site chosen will have to be abandoned, owing to the selection of the new site. The crew is encamped within a short distance of the center of town on the new right of way.

SICK MAN'S GUESS BEST ON YIELD OF OATS CROP

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 2.—In the guessing contest waged at Silver Lake over the yield of oats on the Chrisman place, J. A. Martin, a well known resident, who has never seen the field of grain on account of being ill and confined to his home, won the guess, of 17 bushels to the acre. The total showed that the gentleman was 4 1/2 bushels over the actual amount, and as his was the nearest of all the guesses made, the owner paid him the $5 prize.

This grain was grown on newly broken ground, and while there were better fields in that part of the country, it is still a profitable crop, and will yield a gross sum of $1,953 for the 120 acre field.

As the land will be in much better shape for seeding next year it will no doubt do a lot better than when planted. This grain was grown without irrigation.

KLAMATH-LAKE SETTLERS NOT AWARDED EXTENSION

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 30.—Comment throughout the county indicates that Congressman Hawley was "sleeping at the switch" when the bills were passed at the last session of congress allowing homestead settlers until next April to take up their residence in certain land districts if they filed previous to a certain date. The bill covers other land office districts in Oregon, but neglects the portion of the state covered by the Lakeview land district, which includes Klamath and Lake counties and a portion of Crook county. This places the settlers in the district at a disadvantage, and denies them privileges that are accorded to others. While it is believed that the lands in this district are better than those of many other portions of the state, they feel that every settler should be accorded the same rights.

GRAIN GROWERS EXPORT PRODUCTS

Dissatisfaction Expressed Over Low Price of Cereals, and Talk of a Combine Among the Millers Being Heard

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 27.—The grain growers in the valley here are thinking of shipping their grain to Sacramento and other places on account of an alleged combine among the millers of the valley to place the price of grain at the lowest possible notch. It is now $1.15 at Lakeview and $1.10 at New Pine Creek.

It is claimed that there is no reason for the low price except that the mills have a supply of grain at their disposal in the valley that will keep their rollers working for some time without having to go out of the county to California points, as has been done many times in the past. The rate from Davis Creek to Sacramento is low enough to warrant the growers shipping, thus compelling the mills to either come off their high horse or import grain.

DIVORCE GRANTED FOUR WIVES IN LAKE COUNTY

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 27.—Divorces have been granted in the following cases brought before Judge Henry L. Benson in the circuit court here:

Bessie Whitehouse against Raulin Whitehouse, decree granted, with the custody of two minor children; Gussie A. Heryford vs. L. R. Heryford, decree granted and maiden name restored to Gussie A. Young; Bertha Carron vs. F. B. Carron and Anna Blair vs. Tracy Blair, decrees for plaintiffs.

TEMPERANCE LESSON FROM KILLING

Follett Manslaughter Case Venire to Cost $1,500, and Expense of the Entire Trial May Run to $4,000 or More

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 31.—The special venire called for in the A. E. (Pete) Follette manslaughter case will, it is asserted, cost at least $1,500, and there is every indication that the trial will cost the county at least $4,000. This large sum of money is being used as an object lesson against the illegal sale of liquor in a dry precinct, as it is presumably due to this fact alone that the man charged with murder in the first degree is making a fight for his liberty or his life.

ANNUAL TOWN ELECTION IS AT LAKEVIEW NEXT TUESDAY

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 1.—The annual town election will come on November 7th, at which time the citizens of Lakeview will also vote on the additional bonds for the completion of the new high school. There are no candidates in the field so far, or, at least, none have come from under cover. A mayor, four councilmen, the treasurer and recorder will be voted on at that time.

It is hoped by the progressive element that all voters will take an interest in the election. Many want to know where candidates will stand on the question of bonding the town for a sewerage system, and if candidates are not in favor of this measure they may get some lively opposition.

People who want to see Lakeview go ahead are anxious for sewerage and elimination of the filth that has been a disgrace to the town in the past.

GRAB GROOM FOR JURY DUTY AFTER TYING OF THE KNOT

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 2.—Albert Gerking of Silver Lake arrived here with Miss Lola Dendmond of the same place, and immediately repaired to the county clerk's office and secured a license to wed. Then the happy pair wended their way to Judge Bernard Daly's office and the knot was tied.

No sooner had this been done than Sheriff Warner B. Snyder grabbed the groom and served a subpoena upon him to serve on the special venire from which a jury is to be chosen to try A. E. (Pete) Follett.

The young folks are well known throughout the northern end of the county, where they have lived for some years, and the romance that has just culminated in their marriage had its foundation when each of them were employed by A. B. Schroeder of Silver Lake on his ranch there.

DEPOT SITE PICKED AT LAKEVIEW

Allegation Made That Selection of Location for N.-C.-O. Has Been Hindered by Silent Forces—Picking Up Desired Land

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 27.—General Manager Dunlavy of the N.-C.-O. made a flying trip here last Sunday, and before he left selected another depot site, owing to the litigation necessary for securing the site formerly selected. The new site is at the foot of Center street, directly west of the court house, and about eight short blocks from the business district of town.

The committee having the selection of a site has had many difficulties in getting the land needed. It is claimed there have been silent forces at work getting options on every available piece of property as soon as it was mentioned as a possible site, and the price raised beyond reason.

The more progressive element among the residents of the county and town, who desire the railroad, and who have promised it the depot site and right of way, decried this alleged selfishness at a time when all should work for the common good.

SPECIAL VENIRE OF FIFTY MEN IN PETE FOLLETTE CASE

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 30.—A special venire of fifty men has been called in the A. E. (Pete) Follette murder case, and it is believed that the most of the jurymen will have to be drawn from the northern part of the county in order to try the case. The regular panel was exhausted without anything having been done in the matter.

KODAK FINISHING—First class and prompt results by Frank Duncan, over First National bank, or leave orders at Little Book store, two doors west of postoffice.

MARRIAGES NOT NUMEROUS LATELY IN COUNTY OF LAKE

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 2.—Forty-one marriage licenses were issued this year by County Clerk Frank Payne to couples that entered the matrimonial lists. While this number is not at all large, it is the best that can be recorded.

Bachelors holding down homestead claims in the different valleys say that something will have to be done by the Commercial Club to get young and old ladies to come to the county, or they will have to leave and look for wives themselves.

Last winter the needs were so apparent that a bachelors' club was formed, and it prospered nicely until the president got married, then it fell away because the secretary could not attend to the correspondence properly. He stated that he surely was on the job when it came to telling one girl nice things, but when a few dozen tried to take all his valuable time he would quit, and they have not been able to supply his place again.

Meanwhile there are thousands of acres of land that some good woman could take as homesteads and live on while they just naturally took their pick of the whole crowd of fine fellows that are making the sage brush country blossom as a rose. If they did not take to the poor lonely fellows they would at least have a quarter or half section of land as compensation for the time that they had spent in the quest.

FINE FLOWING WELLS FOUND IN SUMMER LAKE VALLEY

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 1.—Among the Summer Lake visitors in town of late was Jonas Small, the well known stockman. He has one of the flowing artesian wells of that section on his home ranch, and it is among the best in the county.

It is also the deepest well in Summer Lake Valley, being about 700 feet in depth, with an eight-inch casing that gives forth a fine flow of water sufficient to either irrigate a large portion of his holdings or supply water for many head of livestock.

That Lake county is an inland lake bed is claimed to be demonstrated by the various stratas that the drillers went through in making this well.

At nearly 700 feet they found a log that had in some previous age become imbedded in the mud of that period. The log was in a good state of preservation, from the appearance of portions of it that were brought to the surface, but they later disintegrated and were lost.

Besides Mr. Small's well there are eight other artesian wells that are flowing in that section of the county, all having been drilled by one firm since last fall, when the first well drilling outfit came into the valley. A number of settlers had filed upon "desert" lands which needed water before the applicant could make final proof, and headed by L. P. Kippel, another stock man, they made arrangements to have a well drilled, in the hope that they would get a flow of water.

The first flow was struck at 165 feet, though there are places in the valley where even this easy depth has been shortened, one well having flowed at only ninety feet.

One man, independent of the well drilling outfit, put down a two-inch hole with a hand auger to a distance of 122 feet, and secured a fine flow of water without any casing, though the lack of same allowed the well to cave in in a short time, and resulted in stopping it.

There are a number of the wells mentioned that are flowing at from 165 to 260 feet, with a pure supply of water, which is more than can be said of many wells in other states.

The importance of the artesian flows in their relative value to the taking of lands was demonstrated when over 3,000 acres of adjoining lands were filed on the day following the first strike by men that had worked on the drilling machine.

Where the water is placed on the land there is absolutely no doubt as to its productiveness, and while no one has tried dry farming in that valley, as it is generally understood among agriculturalists, still there are many here that believe that the lands are even good enough to take without irrigation, and some have taken homesteads thereon.

Summer Lake Valley, or that portion of it north and northeast of the body of water bearing that name, is the "earliest" portion of the county, and the development of that area through the artificial means of securing a water supply will result in thousands of acres being planted to various crops that will be used by the stockman of that section of the county for feeding purposes, and will help the "high cost of living" to be reduced.

PAISLEY BUILDINGS ARE GOING UP

Large Garage, Some Residences and Other Structures Being Put Up, Which Will Lend a Metropolitan Aspect to Little City

PAISLEY, Oct. 31.—Paisley is having some new buildings erected of late. The most prominent is a large garage erected by A. Hartlerode, next to the Hotel Chewaucan that was finished recently. C. E. Campbell is putting up a residence, Clark Johnson a dwelling, and S. P. Moss is remodeling the property that he recently purchased for his winter home, when not at his large ranch. George Ranney has erected a building that adjoins the old blacksmith shop on the north, while many other places are greatly improved through the addition of a large amount of carpenter work and some paint.

LAKEVIEW, Oct. 27.—Tom Barton, proprietor of the "Antlers" rooming house, has returned after a business visit to the vicinity of Pine Creek, where he has been engaged for some time.

George and Manuel Whorton have gone to Portland, where they are witnesses against a man named Johnson, brought before the federal grand jury charged with selling liquor to an Indian.

YUAN SHI KAI IS PREMIER OF CHINA

United Press Service
PEKIN, Nov. 1.—Yuan Shi Kai has been appointed premier of China. Other cabinet appointments will be submitted him. This makes Yuan virtually ruler of the empire.
