

SNORTHORN COWS FOR WEED RANCH

TWO CARLOADS OF MILCH QUADRUPEDS IMPORTED TO DEMONSTRATE DAIRY QUALITIES OF ACRES

Senator Abner Weed, who owns a tract of 22,000 acres on the upper lake, has ordered two carloads of shorthorn milch cows, which are now on their way to his Klamath county ranch. These cows were furnished by W. M. Carruthers of San Francisco, and were shipped from Humboldt county by steamer to San Francisco. From the Bay City they were shipped by rail to Mr. Weed's ranch at Weed, where after being given a rest, they were again loaded onto the cars and shipped to Chiloquin.

This is the first move to convert the northern part of the county into a rich dairy section. It has long been recognized that the Wood and Williamson river valleys were ideal for dairy purposes, and there can be no question as to the successful outcome of Mr. Weed's experiment. The greater portion of Mr. Weed's land on the upper lake is what is known as marsh land, and he has already expended large sums of money in dyking and reclaiming it. Already about 10,000 acres have been reclaimed, and furnish a large amount of grass for feed. It is stated that there will be several more carloads of dairy and breeding stock brought into Klamath county this spring, as a number of small farmers and dairy men in other parts of the county are going in together and combing their orders, so as to save on the freight charges.

POSTOFFICE BOX MUST BE LOCKED

Postmaster Clyde K. Brandenburg is making a crusade against the leaving open of lock boxes. It is not generally known that the regulations of the postoffice department demand that the combination to the box be thrown off when left by the user, so that no one can open the door. Failure to do this subjects the holder of the box to forfeiture. The penalty is a severe one, but the department considers that it is necessary in order to keep the pigeon holes protected.

Those who might miss mail when their box was left open would probably be the first to accuse the department of carelessness. Postmaster Brandenburg is warning the boxholders to get in the habit of closing their boxes. He has found as many as forty open at one time. Sometimes people who have difficulty in working the combination of a box leave the combination on so as to make opening easier at the next visit. From now on those leaving their boxes open need not be surprised to have the boxes taken from them.

Mr. and Mrs. Peffley, who are employed by the government to instruct and care for Indians on the Klamath Indian reservation, arrived in the city Sunday evening with the little child of Anderson Faithful, who recently murdered his wife near Yalmax, on their way to Portland, to wait upon the federal grand jury. The little girl, who is only about 6 years old, is a remarkably bright little one, and can tell a very clear story of the circumstances which took place immediately before and following the tragedy, and will testify before the grand jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horton arrived in Klamath Falls Saturday evening, expecting to be established in their handsome residence on the West Side very soon. Before this taken place, however, they will visit friends in the Bonanza and Bly districts. Mr. Horton will again take charge of affairs at the Horton Irrigation proposition in Yonka Valley.

FARMERS TO MEET LOCAL CLUB

COMMERCIAL BODY WANTS THEM TO TALK THINGS OVER—LETTER FROM BEET SUGAR MANUFACTURER

On Saturday at 2 o'clock, at the old banking room of the First National bank, the Klamath Falls Commercial Club will hold a meeting to which are invited all farmers interested in beet, sugar beet or other problems of interest to agriculture in this section. The club wants the grangers to be on hand to give suggestions and experiences.

The following letter received from President C. S. Morey of the Great Western Sugar Company, Denver, is of much local interest:

"Beg to acknowledge receipt of yours of the 29th, enclosing test of beets in your locality. If these beets were not kept too long before they were analyzed, the sugar content certainly ranges very high; but Oregon is a long way from us, and it occurs to me that sugar companies nearer you would be more likely to be interested in your locality than we are. Just at present we are making no plans for building any more factories. This matter of tariff reduction confronts us, and until that is settled we do not feel like making any further investments. If there is anything your community could do in the way of helping defeat the determined effort that is being made by the cane sugar manufacturers to have the tariff on sugar removed, that will benefit your locality and every other locality where sugar beets can be raised more than anything else.

"I should be glad to hear from you as to how crops are raised in your vicinity. Whether by irrigation or natural rainfall. We shall be glad to bear your location in mind and when this tariff matter is settled, if it is not settled, if it is not settled adversely to beet sugar interests, we may be willing to send some one up to investigate your location."

BANQUET GIVEN IN NEW HOSTELRY

BONANZA, Feb. 13.—A big celebration was held here last evening when the Ladies' Magazine Club entertained their husbands and gentlemen friends. A banquet was given at the Big Springs Hotel, and it was a sort of formal opening of the new hotel, which is to be publicly dedicated next Saturday night.

Twenty-four couples enjoyed the pleasures of the evening, which consisted, among other things, of a sort of geographical and geological contest. A question box was used and prizes awarded, the first prize going to Earl Hamaker, and D. G. Horn receiving the booby prize. Valentine decorations were used, and the walls of the big reception hall were covered with hearts and other appropriate decorations.

CROSS BILL OUT OF COURT FILES

MOTION TO STRIKE ELEMENT INTRODUCED BY DEFENSE IN KENT VS. ADY SUSTAINED BY COURT

When circuit court resumed its session Wednesday, after a recess it was to listen to the issue of Kent vs. Ady. Some time ago Joseph E. Kent, assignee of three claims against Abey Ady, entered suit. The case was set, and on the day for trial a delay was granted on defendant paying certain costs incurred. Next the defendant filed a cross bill in equity, which the plaintiff moved to strike from the court files, the latter party not wishing the case to go into the equity division.

Wednesday morning Judge Benson listened to the argument on the motion to strike, and sustained it. From this the defendant gave notice of appeal. The court ordered the law action to proceed, to which the defendant entered formal objections. It was contended, in substance, that the court ought to await the outcome of the appeal before the law action be taken up, but the court did not see it that way.

This is the second time within a few weeks that this procedure has been followed in a case in the circuit court here. In the case of Cantrall vs. Carroll the defendant filed a cross bill and motion to strike it was sustained. The defendant gave notice of appeal to Judge Percy R. Kelly, which has since been taken, asking that the law action await the appeal, but Judge Kelly was not so inclined. When he ordered that the trial proceed the defense wanted more time, which the court was willing to grant if $200 was paid by Carroll for the plaintiff's expenses in getting ready for trial. Carroll's attorney, C. M. Oneill, said Carroll was financially able to pay but $100, but the court would not modify its order, and insisted that the trial go on. The defense was unprepared to go ahead, and judgment was given to Cantrall.

OLD MAN'S INDIAN SLAYER CONVICTED OF MURDER

White Victim Lived on Leased Land on Indian Reservation, and Paid Agent Instead of Redman, Refusal to Whom Led to His Attack

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 14.—Jim Johnson, an Indian, accused of killing William Lusby, an old man living with his wife on leased land on the Yakima reservation, some months ago, was convicted of murder in the second degree by jury.

Both Lusby and his wife were terribly beaten by their assailant, the old man dying almost at once, and Mrs. Lusby's life being despaired of for some time. The murder was a particularly brutal one, the Lusbys paying their rent to the Indian agent, as required, and refusing, according to Mrs. Lusby's story, to give the money to Johnson himself. Their refusal was the basis for his attack.

FIRE FIGHTERS MUST CLAIM PAY

BY MARCH 31 IF THEY SUFFERED CASUALTIES OR DISABILITIES IN SUCH WORK PRIOR TO DECEMBER 1, 1910

District Forester Geo. H. Cecil has just received information that March 31, 1912, has been set by the department of agriculture as the latest date on which claims under the general deficiency bill, approved March 4, 1911, can be presented for casualties and disabilities suffered by temporary employes while fighting fire on the national forests prior to December 1, 1910.

Mr. Cecil believes that all claims originating in Oregon and Washington properly payable under this act have already been presented, but in case there are any still outstanding they may be submitted at once to the forest supervisor in charge of the forest where the accident occurred.

The two tots were later found locked in each other's arms, fast asleep, in front of the door of the Golden apartment. Nobody had responded to their continued calls to be let in. The mother was found lying dead on the kitchen floor, a tube connecting with the gas range in her mouth. She had been depressed because of ill health.

ELKS GIVE RODEO AT FAIR GROUNDS

REAL WILD WEST STUNTS TO BE PULLED OFF IN THREE DAYS' SESSION TO BENEFIT FUND FOR TRIP

For the purpose of building up its fund for the proposed trip to the grand lodge meeting at Portland in July, the Klamath Falls Lodge No. 1247, B. P. O. E., will conduct its first annual rodeo May 31, June 1 and 2, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, at the Klamath county fair grounds. There will be a tremendous carnival, so it is said, of sports and pastimes of the ranch and range for the championship of the Pacific coast in each event.

There will be a man's relay race of 7½ miles, 2½ miles per day, best time for three days to win. Each rider will have five range or ranch horses and two assistants, one to catch finishing horses and one to hold starting horse. Riders must saddle, unsaddle, mount and dismount unassisted. The same horses are to be used each day, barring accidents. The ladies will have a relay race for ranch and range horses saddles under twenty pounds, no rubber cinch allowed.

The men's pony express race for ranch and race horses will be similar to the relay race, save for carrying twenty-five pounds of "mail." It will last three days, be 7½ miles, a third of which will be run each day, same horses daily. A ladies' pony express race with ten pounds of mail, similar to the men's race, will be held.

There will be other races, as follows: Three days' men's cow pony race, two miles, three days; ladies' cow pony race, similar conditions; men's wardrobe race, three days, three-quarters of mile each day, wardrobe to be furnished by the management (here's a chance for great doings); bucking contest of two days, riding with plain halter, chaps and spurs, but no quirt; wild horse race, three days; "catch the rooster," buried all but his head, while the rider runs full gallop, and pulls him out of terra firma; maverick race for roping both horns of cowering bovine; steer "busting" contest, animal to be roped, thrown and hog-tied in less than three minutes, contest to last three days.

Entries will close on midnight of Thursday, May 30th.

All those wishing to enter should address the carnival committee of the Elks.
