Answer Filed In The Case Of Platt vs. Worden

An answer was filed late this afternoon by Attorneys Kaykendall and Ferguson on behalf of the plaintiffs in the case of Harrison C. Platt and Robert Treat Platt, against Major C. E. Worden, involving over a thousand dollars for attorneys' fees. The transaction occurred in the months of July and August, 1910. It is claimed by the Portland attorneys, through their answer filed today, by Messrs. D. V. Kaykendall and C. J. Ferguson, that an agreement was entered into to compensate them for their services, they claiming that "one of the plaintiffs, being, at that time, attorney for Al D. Daniels, the owner of an unsatisfied judgment for a large sum of money, duly docketed and holding a lien, did journey from Portland to Klamath Falls for the purpose of adjusting said judgment and in taking thereof in payment money and certain securities."

Having admitted the balance of $7.10, and praying for a judgment against Major Worden, the Platt lawyers go on, it is said in the answer this afternoon, to say that the defendant paid the bill claimed, by his check, but as the plaintiffs had already entered upon the discharge of the contract set up in the complaint, the defendant, Worden, was "therefore indebted in a larger amount to the plaintiffs and the sum of $7.10 was allowed to stand to the credit of the plaintiff." It would seem as if the case will be bitterly fought.

Attorney Thomas Drake, now in the Fort Klamath country, represents the defendant, Major Worden.

Should Be Secured by One of Klamath County's Wheat Growers—Open to Farmers of Seven Northwest States—Klamath County Carried Off Premium Last Year, But This Is Worth Winning

Five thousand dollars for the best five bushels of wheat grown in the American Northwest is the prize announced as the grand champion sweepstakes to be awarded by the Northwest Development League this year.

This is the world's greatest prize for wheat—twice as large as any prize offered in Canada, five times as much as has ever been offered before for any class of grain in the United States.

The wheat is to be displayed at the Northwest Products Exposition, which will be held in Minneapolis November 12 to 23. No entry fees will be charged. The samples must contain five bushels, and along with the threshed grain ten bundles or sheaves from six to ten inches in diameter must be sent.

States which compete are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

The prize consists of a Big Four "30" farm tractor, manufactured by the Gas Traction company of Minneapolis, and a set of plows made by the Emerson-Brantingham company of Rockford, Ill. The tractor and plows will be delivered to the winner free of cost by the Development League. This machinery was selected by the officers of the league after much consideration of what the prize should be, and it was decided the most practical prize would be a farm tractor and plows. The tractor selected will do most anything, plowing, harvesting, drilling, harrowing, threshing or freighting.
