The men Wilson selects should be selected not because of any personal service rendered him or even because of past service to the party. INDIANS MAY BE OWN BOSSES SOON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—That the American Indian should be released as soon as possible from the paternal care of the United States government, now his guardian in virtually everything he does, was the opinion expressed in the annual report from the bureau of Indian affairs, submitted to Secretary of the Interior Fisher by Robert G. Valentine, until recently commissioner, and made public this week.

The commissioner voiced the hope that the day might be near "when the United States will finally have lifted its hands from Indian affairs, and all Indians in all respects will stand on an equal footing with all their fellow Americans."

"With all the exceptions compatible with the Indians' welfare," he added, "they should be made subject to the laws of their states and be taught to look to their local government instead of the national government. My conviction is that no possible obstacle should be placed in the way of the transformation of Indian affairs administered by the United States into the affairs of normal citizens, under the ordinary jurisdiction of the states."

"The home condition of the Indians is one of the most unsatisfactory features of the Indian problem," said the commissioner, "for which reason special attention is being given to the instruction of Indian girls. The character and efficiency of the training given to them must be improved, because it is realized that for the girls, more than for the boys, the instruction should be of an intensive form. Girls can be kept in school for a few years after they have developed into womanhood," it was stated.

The greatest investment the Indian service has, continues the report, is in the so-called returned students, who have been away at the larger schools and have returned to live at or near their home reservation. There are about 35,000 of these Indians, who represent an economic investment, it is estimated, of about $50,000,000. These students frequently are considered merely trouble makers by the superintendents of the reservation, declares the commissioner.

The superintendents forget entirely he adds, that this class of Indians protest against the order of things as they find it when they return to their reservations because "they have seen better things, but have not quite found their own way to them. And I am sorry to say," he continues, "that frequently the greatest obstacle to their finding their way lies in the government machinery and personnel itself. Every Indian school in the country should consider it a vital part of its daily work to keep track of the students who have attended it. These returned students are the hope of the Indian problem. We would hardly think of spending a similar amount in training a race horse and then turn him loose under unfavorable range conditions to shift for himself."

The judge ruled that fraud had undoubtedly been practiced on the court which had originally granted the divorce decree, but that the woman had been a voluntary party to the fraud.

This decision ends years of litigation. Jacob Newman, one of Guggenheim's attorneys, charged after the decision had been rendered that the suit had resulted from a plot concocted in Wall street for the express purpose of discrediting Guggenheim.

"I suspect that there was a Wall street syndicate behind Mrs. Guggenheim," said Mr. Newman. "This syndicate has a private grudge to satisfy as well as the hope of obtaining a considerable portion of the Guggenheim fortune."

VOTED: MAY LOSE LAND ALLOTMENTS

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. 10.—Because certain residents of the city, with Indian blood in them, were induced to vote on the "wet" and "dry" question at the recent election, they stand in danger, it is claimed, of losing valuable land allotments. There are a large number of white men who have married Indian women, and their children have been duly recognized as wards of the government, entitled to share in the allotment of Indian lands. By exercising the rights of American citizens, however, it is claimed they have forfeited their rights as wards.
