

CENSORSHIP IS USED TO CONCEAL

UNCENSORED TELEGRAM TELLS ACTUAL CONDITIONS

According to a Dispatch From American Ambassador, Mexican Government Will Soon Be Wrested From Madero By Diaz Forces—Dead and Wounded Lie Uncared for in the Streets

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—An uncensored dispatch from American Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City, and the first uncensored telegram to leave the capital since Saturday, was received this afternoon. In his message Wilson intimates that Diaz will soon control the Mexican situation.

There was continuous conflict all day yesterday and a part of last night, according to Wilson, and the Diazites advanced steadily. The federal forces retreated from the more exposed positions to the palace.

That the American embassy was directly in the line of fire at different periods of the engagement is asserted by Wilson, who states that there were many federal soldiers either killed or wounded directly in front of the embassy building.

The gravity of Wilson's official dispatch, as contrasted with the censored press telegrams, indicates that Madero is trying desperately to conceal the true condition of affairs.

An enormous loss of life by the federal forces in yesterday's battle is reported by Wilson.

According to advices sent by the ambassador, conditions in the Mexican capital are rapidly approaching a chaos.

Following the disbanding of the Red Cross and White Cross corps since being fired upon, the dead are left in the streets, and a pestilence is threatened.

Some of the troops are facing starvation, it is said, and under these conditions are becoming desperate. The American embassy is apparently the only refuge in the city.

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 18.—Messages regarding the establishing a censor cause the belief that Madero is being forced to the wall. The continued censorship indicates that the final blow has not yet been struck by the Diaz forces.

It is believed that as soon as the rebels win the capital they will re-open the wires.

 WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—
 Officers of the army staff are today busy at the war department preparing maps of the Mexican country. These maps, it is reported, include every strategic point in the turbulent republic.

LOCAL BOOSTER SUPPORTS HALLOCK

The famous 'Calaveras skull,' unearthed in geological strata that seemed to determine absolutely that human life had existed in that part of the world at an earlier period than has been proved elsewhere on the face of the earth was dug up at a point not more than 150 miles south of Klamath. Thus, you will see, a generally accepted evidence of early peoples in that section is in harmony with this latest conclusion."

LOVELOYN WOMAN STARVES HERSELF

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—Freida Gaertner, aged 32, literally starved herself to death because she believed herself deserted by her fiance, who went to the United States several months ago. The woman's body, emaciated and wasted to a skeleton, was found in her room in a suburb, where evidently it had lain for more than a week. The condition of the house indicated that the woman had not eaten for days, until she finally died.

MEXICANS RUSTLE STOCK IN TEXAS

ARMED PARTY CROSSES BORDER AND PILLAGES

Horses and Supplies on Several Ranches Confiscated by Invaders. Posse of Citizens and Rangers in Pursuit—Mexicans Still on Texas Soil, and a Battle Is Imminent—Texans Are Angry at Mexicans

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 18.—Heavily armed, a party of Mexicans crossed the border near West Alpine, and raided a number of ranches, taking all the available horses and supplies.

In several cases all of the stock on the ranches was driven away by the Mexicans.

A large posse of indignant ranchers and a detachment of rangers are pursuing the raiders, who are believed to still be on American soil.

In case the two parties meet a battle is certain, as the Texans, who have long been chafing on account of minor acts by the border Mexicans, are enraged, and have sworn to act independent of the United States government in dealing with the matter.

BRIGAND SOUGHT BY GENDARMES

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The Corsican bandit Paoli, who has terrorized the district of Borgo for years, and who recently descended from his mountain cave to kill Sanguinetti, the leader of the clan with whom the Paoli band has a feud, is now besieged in the mountains, a $2,000 price on his head.

Police and gendarmes are after him. Tracked to a mountain den Paoli fired on his pursuers, killing one and wounding several others. He escaped. His exact whereabouts are unknown, though the district is surrounded by watchers. Paoli is the ast of the old time "Corsican bandit" leaders.

Mrs. R. Byerley and daughter, Miss Rita, came up from Worden Tuesday to do some shopping. They will return home today.

M. P. Mickler is here from Willow Springs ranch, attending to business matters.

C. R. Webber, who has a ranch on the Merrill road, spent Tuesday in the county seat.

According to advices received from the University of California, C. R. Webb, who pitched ball here last summer, is making a good showing with the baseball team representing the school, and he is assured a permanent berth.

FOSSIL ANIMALS

The work of the United States geological survey in paleontology—the study of fossil remains of animals and plants that lived ages ago—has a distinct bearing on some of the very practical economic problems of today.

The descriptive Paleontologic reports are often treated as "pure science," yet instructive, striking or tedious as may these delineations of the groups of animal or plant life which lived on the globe in some particular epoch, there is not one of these papers describing the fauna of flora of a formation that does not prove sooner or later to possess practical value and to be essential to geology in its constantly increasing refinement of study and results.

Without paleontology the geologic classification of formations, their correlation, and the determination of their mutual relations would be impossible. In fact, real and symmetrical progress in geology is impossible without corresponding inter-related development and refinement of its handmaid paleontology. The study of the economic geology of any region of complicated structure is blind and inconsequent unless the time relations of the strata concerned are known. These relations are indicated by the fossils which the strata contain.
